GAME OF POLITICS.

War Talk Is Kept Up in Tokio.

Opposition to Government Is Eager to Encourage Bitter Feeling.

Decision to Send American Warships to Pacific Held as Menace.

Statesmen Like Ito Endeavor in Vain to Stem Tide of Jingoism.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While other expressions continue peaceful, based on a complete understanding between the United States and Japan, there are increasing evidences of a concerted movement on the part of certain elements among Japanese public men and newspapers to keep alive an anti-American agitation.

The suggestion that American battleships be sent to the Pacific Coast or the Philippines has been seized upon by agitators, who contend that such a transfer of American ships to Pacific waters indicates some sort of unfriendliness toward Japan.

The present Cabinet professes to see in the agitation nothing more than a political move of the opposition but, while that was the chief inspiration of the first outbursts, continued discussion has revealed an apparently deep-seated antipathy on the part of a large section of the public, of which agitators are taking full advantage.

STATESMEN HELPLESS.

Men like Marquis Ito, Baron Hayashi and Baron Kaneko and other conservatives are endeavoring to stem the tide by expressions of confidence that the American people will follow the friendly policy of President Roosevelt, but jingo sentiments are apparently more popular.

The reported refusal of San Francisco to grant licenses to Japanese employment agencies is dilated upon as a renewed evidence of American unfriendliness.

There are other indications of sinister efforts to create a breach. The principal illustrated journals teem with cartoons calculated to stir the populace, similar to those so cleverly used to manufacture sentiment against Russia in preparation of the popular mind for the late war.

The expression of Gen. Umsewa, who accompanied Gen. Kuroki, that the American army furnishes no lesson for Japan to learn, and that "her officers and men are as fine as the Russians in appearance," is being given wide circulation in the vernacular press in a manner not flattering to the Americans.

On the other hand, financial interests are exerting themselves to suppress the agitation. Conservative public men are also active.

Among the leaders in this counter movement is Baron Kaneko, well known in America. He says:

"The talk of war with America is arrant folly. Japan wants no war with any nation, least of all with one which is so closely bound by every tie. Japan is not a predatory nation. Both recent great wars were forced upon her. In no sense was she responsible."

JAP'S INQUIRIES UNANSWERED.

REFUSAL OF LICENSE SERIOUS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, July 4.—The representation made by the Japanese Consul at San Francisco to the municipal authorities of that city in regard to the action of the latter in refusing to renew the licenses of Japanese employment agencies, has not yet been answered.

This affair is considered here as being of far graver character than the attacks upon Japanese restaurants and similar anti-Japanese incidents in San Francisco, as it is held that it concerns the lasting personal rights of Japanese.

The reply of the San Francisco authorities to the Consul's representation is being awaited with considerable impatience. Pending this reply no official action has yet been taken by the Tokio government.

ANSWER TO JAPS' SUIT.

SAN FRANCISCO'S DEFENSE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—Referring to the suit brought yesterday against the city in behalf of the proprietors of a Japanese restaurant and bath-house, alleged to have been wrecked by a mob on May 23, Assistant City Attorney Baggett said:

"The defense of the city will be that whatever injury was done to the property of the Japanese was done by two or three persons before a mob, in the sense of the law, had formed. The city will also claim that there was no riot, but will lay great stress upon the contention that the damage was done by a few persons before it was possible for a mob to have collected.

Dist.-Atty. Devlin has received a letter from Atty.-Gen. Bonaparte asking him to make an investigation and report immediately on the action of the San Francisco officials in refusing to grant licenses to employment agencies conducted by Japanese. He at once began to investigate and will make his report as soon as possible.

HURRICANE SWEEPS ISLAND.

Terrific Wind Wreaks Fearful Havoc in Fiji Group, but no Lives Are Lost.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) July 4.—News of a disastrous hurricane in a portion of the Fiji group resulted in the complete devastation of Futuna Island, causing great property loss, but no loss of life, was brought by the steamer Moana, which arrived from the scene of the hurricane.

The island towered high with beautiful vegetation, but it is now a great, burnt-up brown lump of earth. The island is a scene of desolation, strewn completely with debris, and that no lives were lost is considered remarkable.

OUST AYRES TO SAVE SCANDAL.

WAR DEPARTMENT WOULD AVOID PUBLICITY OF TRIAL.

Will Call Board of Inquiry to Determine If Colonel Cannot Be Retired Because of Physical Disability and Thus End Agitation of West Point Incident.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The War Department has in contemplation the issuance of an order calling Col. Charles G. Ayres before the Board of Inquiry, with a view to determining whether he should be retired from the service on account of physical disability. It is understood at the department that this order will be issued in a few days.

Should this course be pursued, Col. Ayres would have no status that would justify carrying his case before a military court, and the further agitation of the disagreeable incident at West Point in which Mrs. Ayres figured, and which resulted in her suit for damages against Col. Mills, superintendent of the West Point Academy, so far as the department is concerned, would be avoided.

The responsible officers of the War Department have been racking their brains for some days how best to get rid of the Ayres case without stirring up too nasty a military mess. The possibility of washing the army's dirty linen before a court-martial was anything but pleasing to War Department officials.

Secretary Taft left the city yesterday for his summer vacation, with the Ayres case in the hands of Acting Secretary Oliver, who will take the matter up and issue the order summoning Col. Ayres before the board.

Col. Ayres is well known in army circles and has many influential friends. Should these friends rally to the support of Col. Ayres and his wife, the well-laid plans of departmental officials might suddenly go awry. Even should Col. Ayres face a trial by court-martial, the experience could hardly be called a novel one to him, for he has already appeared three times before such a body. In each case he escaped with a light penalty.

No one has ever sought to impugn Ayres's record for valor. At the time of the Spanish-American War he was a major and his regiment was one of the first of the army of invasion to land in Cuba. At the battle of Santiago, Col. Ayres's command was on the firing line.

MRS. AYRES'S PART IN AFFAIR.

The situation which has now become critical arose during the absence of Col. Ayres in the Philippines. Last summer at West Point, during a drill of the cadets, a sudden rainstorm drenched not only the embryo soldiers, but also a bevy of young women who were witnessing the maneuvers. The gallant cadets took off their raincoats and gave them to the women as a protection against the downpour. This did not coincide with Col. Mills's ideas of discipline, and the young ladies were peremptorily ordered to return the raincoats.

It appears that Mrs. Ayres was a member of, or possibly chaperoning the party. She accused the officer of impertinence and misconduct. From this beginning arose the present situation.

When Col. Ayres returned from the Philippines, he indorsed the position taken by his wife, and roundly denounced every one connected with what he termed an exhibition of boorishness and lack of gallantry. His utterances finally became so violent that War Department officials were forced to take cognizance of them.

IOTA CHI DROPS HIGH SCHOOLS.

SPOKANE, July 4.—The grand conclave of the Delta Iota Chi Society, in session here this week, voted to withdraw from all high schools. The decision results from the recent ruling of the Supreme Court of this State to the effect that public school authorities have the right to exclude Greek letter societies.

THOUSAND MEN ARE EXECUTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TAPACHULA (Mex.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is learned that more than 1000 men have suffered death in Guatemala during the last few months for alleged unfriendliness toward the Cabrera administration. Most of the victims belonged to the lower class, and no outcry has reached the outside world over their fate.

Late arrivals from Guatemala report that Dr. Pedro Molin Flores, one of the men sentenced to death for alleged complicity in the recent plot to kill President Cabrera, is a brother of Olegario Molina, Minister of Public Works of Mexico. Guatemala refugees here think the execution of Flores will bring the trouble between Mexico and Guatemala to a crisis.

CRUISER ST. LOUIS ON WAY TO PACIFIC.

Tennessee and West Virginia Will Follow Her to Augment Fighting Force on Western Coast—Official Statement of Naval Plans Issued.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Proof that government officials at Washington have begun the augmentation of the fleet in the Pacific waters was afforded today when for the first time it became public that the cruiser St. Louis had been sent around the Horn and was on its way northward in the Pacific. The cruiser was off the coast of Central America, and will make its way slowly up the coast.

The St. Louis will be followed to San Francisco by the Tennessee and the West Virginia. It is the plan of the government to have seventeen fighting ships in Pacific waters soon after the turn of the year, with crews amounting to 17,000 men.

Ships now at yards on the Pacific Coast will be placed in commission at the earliest date possible. The South Dakota will be launched at the Union Iron Works in a few days, and the armored cruiser California will leave Mare Island on July 15 to join the fleet. The Nebraska will soon be sent out from Bremerton, and the New Orleans will leave Mare Island fully equipped next month. The repairs on the battleship Oregon will be completed as rapidly as possible, and the vessel will again take its place among the fighting ships on the Pacific.

A significant phase of the situation is shown in the determination of the Federal authorities to increase the capacity of the torpedo station at Yerba Buena. The little island promises to be the center of activity for many months. Not only will the torpedo station be enlarged, but preparations will soon be made to give instruction to 2000 cadets at the training school, where only 600 are stationed now. It is explained that the presence of seventeen fighting ships on the Pacific Coast will require a large cadet force to draw upon, and for this reason aspirants for naval service in the States of the Middle West, who have heretofore been sent to training schools on the Atlantic seaboard, will henceforth be sent to Yerba Buena.

METCALF CONFIRMS REPORT.

Secretary of the Navy Victor H. Metcalf, in an interview this morning with the Oakland Tribune, confirmed the report that a large part of the United States Navy will be seen in Pacific waters next winter.

"Many false impressions have gained circulation about the proposed movement of this part of the United States Navy," said Secretary Metcalf.

"I have said all along that there was absolutely no significance to this movement from a military standpoint. I might have stated before leaving Washington exactly what I am saying now. I thought as the news concerned the people of the Pacific Coast, today would be an appropriate time to announce the exact plans.

"It is the policy of the Navy Department at the present time to keep the fleet in American waters as much as possible. It is also our policy, as has been stated, to keep as large a number of battleships together as possible. We may as well be spending the money that is devoted to our navy in American ports as abroad. In the past we have sent squadrons to various European stations with less advantage than we might have in keeping them at home.

"I have planned this cruise around Cape Horn for the practice of the squadron. How long they will spend in these waters I cannot say at present. I can promise the people of Oakland and San Francisco that they will see one of the finest naval spectacles ever witnessed in Pacific waters.

"I hope that the talk of Japanese troubles and of international differences may be dropped by all of the newspapers of the country. There is nothing to produce any feling except this talk of the newspapers. It is without foundation. The story that Ambassador Aoki is in disfavor with his own government, I believe, is purely an invention. I know of no reason at the present time why Japan and the United States should not be on the friendliest of terms."

LOEB MAKES STATEMENT.

Says If Battleship Fleet Is Sent to the Pacific It Eventually Will Return to Atlantic Coast.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OYSTER BAY (N. Y.) July 4.—An official statement was made public at the Executive Office here today regarding the report of a battleship fleet visiting California. The statement as given out by Secretary Loeb follows:

"There is no intention of sending a fleet at once to the Pacific. For the last two years the administration has been perfecting its plans to arrange for a long ocean cruise of the battleship fleet when a sufficient number of warships are gathered. This cruise may be to the Pacific but might possibly be only to the Mediterranean or the South Atlantic. It may possibly take place next winter, but, on the other hand, it may not be convenient to arrange it until later. In any event, after a few months, the fleet will be brought back to the Atlantic coast.

"Whether the voyage is made or not, whether the fleet stays in the Atlantic or goes to the Pacific, will be determined simply as a matter of routine in the management and drill of the navy. It is now part of the settled policy of the Navy Department, in its effort to keep the navy up to the highest point of efficiency, always to keep the battleships together, maneuvering as a fleet composed of several squadrons and it is desirable that this fleet should from time to time take a long voyage.

"The relations between the United States and all other powers never were more peaceful and friendly than at the present time, and, if the fleet were sent to the Pacific, the fact would possess no more significance than the further fact that three or four months later it would be withdrawn from the Pacific. Both would merely be part of the ordinary routine of the naval administration."

Later tonight the statement of Secretary of the Navy Victor H. Metcalf, given out at Oakland, Cal., in which he said, without qualification, that a great Atlantic fleet of eighteen or more battleships would make the voyage to San Francisco was shown to Secretary Loeb. Mr. Loeb would not comment on Secretary Metcalf's announcement further than to say that his own statement of the cruise covered that made by the Secretary of the Navy at Oakland.

AWAIT DICK'S EXPLANATION.

Three Notes Given by Ohio Senator to Defaulting Akron City Treasurer Excite Interest.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

COLUMBUS (O.) July 4.—A special from Akron, says that Senator Dick is expected to give out a statement, regarding the shortage of Fred E. Smith, the Akron City Treasurer, caused by loaning public funds to friends. His shortage is placed at $173,992, of which $104,000 falls on the county and treasury and the school board. Smith has made good the latter, and is now trying to square up with the city.

Among the securities given to Smith by people to whom he had loaned the public moneys are three notes given by "Dick and Miles," on July 16, 1905, for $2000 each. Only $1000 has been paid on these notes. The Dick mentioned in the notes is United States Senator Dick, and his explanation of borrowing the public funds is awaited with interest.

LIE GIVEN TO HENEY BY HENEY HIMSELF.

His Testimony at Murder Hearing That His Victim Did Not Draw Gun.

Records of Preliminary Examination Show Striking Discrepancies With Heney's Statement to "Evening Express"—Which Shall Be Believed?—Heney's Stenographer Joined in His Fight Against Dr. Handy and Took Handy's Gun Away.

THE TIMES has secured from Tucson, Arizona, a copy of the court records and the testimony in the preliminary examination of Francis J. Heney for the murder of Dr. J. C. Handy in Arizona in 1891.

Heney asserted in a statement printed in the Evening Express of July 2d that he shot Dr. Handy after the doctor had drawn a gun on him and tried to kill him—that he had to shoot first to save his own life.

At his preliminary examination in 1891 Heney stated explicitly that Handy did not draw a gun.

In his statement published by the Express on Tuesday Heney declared that he was matched alone against a man of giant strength.

The fact, as established by the court records, is that Heney's own stenographer helped him in the fight with Handy. The stenographer testified that he grappled with Handy, got him down and pulled Handy's gun from his pocket—that Heney shot the unarmed doctor in the belly.

The public may discredit Heney's version of the affair as given under oath to the court or his story in the Express, as it chooses.

It further appears that the fight-provoking insult was given by Heney to Dr. Handy. The Times prints herewith the dying declaration of the murdered man. Heney's recent version of the affair is shown by the testimony to be untruthful.

TUCSON (Ariz.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Francis J. Heney's statement (reprinted from the Express) in The Times of the 3d inst., concerning the killing of Dr. J. C. Handy by said Francis J. Heney has caused unusual comment by our people, as The Times has a very large circulation here among those who know Heney's career and the cause which led to the murder of Handy.

Heney's statement is not in accord with the facts, and in several instances is at variance with his sworn statement given at his preliminary examination when charged with the said murder.

In the statement issued in the Express he says: "The attack of Dr. Handy upon him was in front of the Courthouse in the presence of fifty people;" but in his preliminary examination statement he says: "The conflict commenced on Church street and ended on Pennington."

As a matter of fact the homicide was witnessed by only three persons. Heney is further credited by the Express with explaining "that at the time Handy grappled with him and thrust him backward he was unable to get his weapon, but raising his hand he forced Handy backward, at the same time ducking under Handy's arm."

Then Heney stated in the Express that "both of us almost simultaneously drew our guns. I was fortunate enough to shoot first and got my man."

The record of the preliminary hearing examination is as follows:

Heney under oath stated: "Dr. Handy threw his hand back toward his hip pocket but didn't take hold of the gun, but seemed to change his mind and rushed for me, and I knew that he had concluded that if he pulled his gun that both of us would get shot, and that he could take mine away. I hadn't my gun out yet, but was trying to get it as fast as I could, with him almost on top of me. As I pulled my gun I realized he would get it but I didn't see any other course and thought he might stop when he saw it, as he had done once before; but as he came up he grabbed it with one hand and grabbed my wrist with the other, with his left hand on my wrist and his right hand on my gun barrel."

TWO AGAINST ONE.

And proof of the fact that Dr. Handy did not draw a gun as Heney now says, is the evidence of Heney's stenographer in the preliminary hearing, who testified as follows: "Heney called for me to grab Handy. I put my arm around his neck and pulled him down, and I got behind him and pulled his gun from his pocket."

Two other witnesses testify that Handy did not have a gun in his hand at any time during the struggle. Thus it is shown by Heney's own sworn statement, corroborated by three of the witnesses, that at no time during the struggle did Handy have a gun in his hands.

HANDY PEACEABLE MAN.

Heney's statement that Handy had killed a man was evidently made to give the impression that Handy was a killer, which is misleading. The fact is as follows: In the fall of 1870 at Fort Apache, Arizona, Handy was post surgeon at the fort. A drunken man by the name of Huey, who was post trader at that place rode up on horseback in front of Handy's quarters, called him out, and without the slightest warning fired at him with a rifle. Handy immediately grasped a weapon and fired, causing a mortal wound. He immediately, however, took medical charge of Huey and did all in his power to save him, remaining with him night and day for a week, when Huey expired; but before his death he made a full statement exonerating Handy from any blame whatever, as he, Huey, was in a state of wild intoxication when he shot to kill Handy.

Dr. Handy was not a quarrelsome man. During his twenty-one years of residence in Tucson, prior to his death, he was never known to have a quarrel with any person, while Heney was a turbulent, quarrelsome person, repeatedly engaging in personal encounters, and in almost every instance with old men, except when a young attorney, now a resident of Los Angeles, went into Heney's office and called him to account for an abusive article in a local paper, when Heney, in place of apologizing, attacked him which finally resulted in Heney being fearfully punished and thrown out of his own office. The story of Heney's many shootings in Tucson and Benson would be interesting for yellow journals.

CAUSE OF HANDY'S WRATH.

It has been generally stated that Heney brought action for divorce and secured the same for Mrs. Handy, when in fact the suit was instituted by, and judgment was given on all points to Dr. Handy, including the custody of the children.

The cause which led to the feeling on Handy's part against Heney grew out of the many vile, insulting and uncalled-for questions asked of Handy by Heney while a witness in the divorce proceedings, and which Heney asked under the privilege of an attorney, and under the protection of the court, which he would not have dared to have attempted outside of the protection of the court.

THE COLD FACTS.

The cold facts relative to the murder of Handy are as follows: Several months after the divorce had been granted, and the controversy all settled, Heney returned to Tucson from a prolonged visit to San Francisco about September 20, 1891, but his presence was not known save to very few, not even to Dr. Handy. On the 24th, Handy was attending a very sick child on Pennington street, about six doors from Heney's law office, in the same block. Handy had made several visits during the morning, as his patient was dying from diphtheria. He had to pass Heney's office to attend his patient on the day in question. He had just returned to his office for some instruments to perform an operation and was hurrying back to save the life of the little girl—and this is what happened, as an eyewitness states:

"I saw Dr. Handy walking down Church street very rapidly. I saw Heney's stenographer standing on the opposite corner making a motion with his hand.

"I did not understand what it meant. Just as Handy reached the second door of Heney's law office, Heney came out with a pistol in his right hand raised above his head and spoke out in a loud voice: 'I've got you and I'm going to kill you, you s— b——.' Then Handy remarked, 'I'm not looking for a fight, Heney,' and grabbed him by the arms, holding the pistol arm up so that he could not shoot, and saying to Heney, 'Don't shoot, don't shoot, I don't want a fight.'

"And they struggled down to the center of Pennington where Heney shot him, Handy still trying to get the pistol from him and saying: 'Don't shoot any more.' At this point Heney called to his stenographer: 'Come and help me.' The stenographer rushed up, threw his arms around Handy's neck and threw him to the ground, and as he himself stated under oath, he took Handy's gun out of his pocket while he was on the ground.

"The crowd soon assembled and Heney was taken into custody for protection, as there was immediate talk of lynching. During the entire afternoon and night there was great excitement and when it was learned at 1 o'clock the next morning that Dr. Handy had expired, there was a determined effort made to take Heney from the jail and hang him, which was only prevented by the more conservative element of Dr. Handy's friends."

REMARKABLE SCENE.

The funeral of Dr. Handy was held under the auspices of the Masonic and other fraternities to which he belonged. "It was a remarkable scene. The remains were kept in state at the Masonic Hall, where hundreds of women and children, especially of the poorer class, wended their way and placed their floral tributes on the bier

WHAT THE TIMES STANDS FOR:

Our Platform Somewhat Elaborated.

During years and years in the past the LOS ANGELES TIMES has stood editorially where it stands today. Among its cherished principles and aims are these:—

It stands for liberty under law; for the Constitution and the Flag.

For equal rights to all in the fields of industry and endeavor, whether they be employers or employed, whether "organized" or independent workers.

For the equal right of all workmen to join or not to join labor unions, according to their own individual and respective preferences.

For the inviolability of contracts.

For industrial peace, coupled with industrial activity, both so essential to the good of all citizens; and industrial peace cannot exist in company with industrial despotism.

For the reasonable, lawful and necessary rights of the employer, who, making and meeting the pay-roll, and keeping the business running, has the obvious right to control its operations.

For the wider and more distinct recognition, support, employment and adequate reward of that numerous aggregation of unorganized, independent workmen of all classes who are the real dependence of the country, who constitute the great body of its labor, who choose not to join unions, and whose rights under the Constitution and the law are every whit as complete and sacred as are the rights of so-called "organized labor;" and, indeed, more so whenever the one makes itself lawless and the other remains law-abiding.

For the punishment of crime without fear or favor, without distinction or discrimination.

For the apprehension and punishment of grafters, big and little, and of bribe-givers and bribe-takers, high and low.

For the equal rights under the law of all worthy workers to employment and protection therein, and to the legitimate fruits of their labors; in other words,

For Industrial Freedom, which means "the inalienable right of every citizen to pursue, undisturbed and unhampered, any lawful occupation of his choice in a lawful way, and to be protected in that right by the whole power of the State and of the nation, if need be." This demand implies an appeal, whenever the need comes, first to the great court of Public Opinion, then to the civil power, and finally, in the last resort, to the dread arbitrament of the sword—to the Army and the Navy—which extreme resort can be averted only through mutual respect for human rights and obedience to the civil law. The people of the United States are determined to have peace, even if they have to fight for it.

THE TIMES IS AGAINST—

All needless and avoidable disturbances in the fields of labor, and in industrial, commercial, transportation and other lines of business, where repose is so essential to the good of all concerned It is consequently

Against the strike and the boycott; against the argument of the bludgeon and the brickbat; against proscription, picketing and all other forms of industrial violence.

Against strikers and idlers interfering in any manner with better-disposed men who show themselves willing and ready to work

Against treachery and ingratitude towards non-union men on the part of employers after their business has been saved through the coming to their rescue of independent workmen at periods of strike, boycott and peril. For all such rescuers let "whatsoever may be right" in the way of continuous employment and adequate wages be done by their employers.

Against the "closed shop" and all forms of attempted monopoly of the industries, by whomsoever undertaken.

Against political, legislative, executive and judicial compromise with crime for improper ends.

Against demagogical union-labor politics, and political, legislative and executive raids on capital and enterprise unless they have first been shown to be lawless. "Captains of industry" are neither to be condemned nor punished merely because they operate upon a large scale, any more than if they operate upon a small scale; they are blameworthy and punishable upon conviction, and only after proof of guilt.

Efforts of Eastern Capitalists to Depreciate Growth of Country West of Mississippi Are Mocked by Figures of Gross Freight and Passenger Earnings.

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That southwestern development is not only continuing but accelerating, notwithstanding the depressing predictions of eastern capitalists, is demonstrated by the exceptionally large business of the principal railroads operating in this part of the country.

Estimates indicate that the gross earnings from freight and passenger traffic of four southwestern roads operating from St. Louis will aggregate $123,500,000 to $124,000,000. The gross earnings of these lines for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906, aggregated $106,700,000. An increase is shown for the fiscal year just terminated, of about $17,000,000 or approximately 16 per cent.

For the year ended on June 30, 1907, the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain system has gross earnings of about $48,500,000; the 'Frisco about $38,000,000; the Missouri, Kansas and Texas about $26,000,000, and the St. Louis Southwestern about $10,500,000.

The estimated total of the gross earnings of the four roads is about $124,000,000.

OUTLINES HARRIMAN'S PLANS.

Director of Maintenance and Ways of Magnate's Lines Describes Contemplated Improvements.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—Julius Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance and ways of the Harriman system, arrived in San Francisco yesterday in his private car on an inspection tour of Mr. Harriman's western roads. Mr. Kruttschnitt outlined some of the principal development and reconstruction work soon to be undertaken along the lines of the Southern Pacific.

The biggest tasks, said he, were the converting of the Alameda, Berkeley and Oakland suburban roads into electric lines, the rebuilding of the Pajaro-Santa Cruz branch, the installation of the block system between San Francisco and Los Angeles and San Francisco and the Missouri River, the completing of the Visitacion freight yards just outside of San Francisco, which will be one of the largest freight stations in the country, and the double-tracking of some portions of the road.

"The trouble with the railroads all over the country," said he, "is that the business of the country has increased so enormously that the development of trackage and car facilities have not been able to keep pace with it, and the railroads will never catch up if the country goes on developing as it has been in the last few years."

Mr. Kruttschnitt will remain here a week and then visit Portland, Seattle and Spokane.

TO DOUBLE STOCK.

MELON FOR STOCKHOLDERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, July 4.—Announcement is made that the stockholders of the Safety Car Heating Company have been called to a special meeting to be held in Jersey City, July 15, to pass upon a proposition to double the capital stock. The concern is now capitalized at $5,000,000. This increase, if it is ratified by the necessary two-thirds vote, is to be distributed to stockholders in the form of stock dividends.

The Safety Car Heating Company owns the capital stock of the Pintsch Compressing Company, which controls the American patents on the Pintsch gas system of lighting railroad cars for the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The increase in capital is planned, it is stated, for the purpose of giving the stockholders a more direct participation in the accumulated profits, which the management has been putting into extensions and improvements.

LABOR.

SMALL DROPS STRIKE BLUFF.

Rescinds Order for Operators Somewhere to Quit.

Bluster Proves Worthless so Idea Is Abandoned.

Conference With Neill Now Center of Interest.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The tentative bluff made by President Sam J. Small of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, when he announced that he had ordered a strike of operators "in some important city" in the United States, has fallen flat, and now he announces that he has telegraphed the union to which he mailed orders to walk out to take no action until further advised.

This backdown is excused on the ground that the order is only suspended during the continuation of the efforts of Labor Commissioner Neill to prevent a general strike by conference with the Chicago union and the companies.

Superintendent I. N. Miller, Jr., of the Western Union, has signified his willingness to meet the "ex-employés" of that company, but only as "individuals." This seems to be a slight concession, but whether sufficient to open up a way for negotiations is doubtful.

"There is no likelihood that the strike will be extended along the Coast," said Small.

UNIONITE SCHEME EXPOSED.

Schmitz' Announcement of Candidacy Smokes Out Walter McArthur Movement.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mayor Schmitz's serio-comic announcement that he will be a candidate for mayor this fall on the labor union ticket has smoked out a real labor union political move.

The Evening News, a labor union paper published south of Market street, is in an irritable mood tonight and peevishly states what had evidently been reserved for a big surprise—that the unions will attempt to make Walter McArthur, Mayor. McArthur is editor of the Sailors' Union paper and is a lieutenant of the notorious Andrew Furuseth.

The other papers are inclined to treat the Mayor's announcement as a joke. Tveitmoe, alone of all the labor leaders, would not make any statement. He made the announcement that he might consider the wishes of the people, should they want him for a candidate.

Schmitz, in his role of one willing to yield to the demands of an eager populace, appeared in court today under guard. He is probably the first candidate for office who ever made his public smile in that way; the first also to prepare his notice of candidacy in a jail cell.

Schmitz was before Judge Dunne to answer the indictments charging him with accepting $55,000 as a bribe from the United Railroads and $3275, from the Gas Company, but, as the prosecution had failed to have ready the transcripts of the testimony taken before the grand jury, the case was continued to next Tuesday.

Politicians here claim that Schmitz and his friends are planning to "rush" Hearst's Independence League convention and get control of the one man party.

Regarding the Mayor's declaration that he will be a candidate for re-election, Dist.-Atty. Langdon said: "We attach not the slightest importance to the Mayor's proclamation. Every fellow who is convicted of a felony and sent to the County Jail feels that he has the best sort of a defense in fact and that he has been convicted either by a prejudiced judge or a biased jury. Schmitz does not differ from the rest in that particular. His talk about staying in office and running for reelection is wild and useless, and quite characteristic. The only sentiment it provokes in us is one of amusement."

WOMAN PRESENTS PETITION.

Two Million Signatures to Paper Asking The Hague Parliament for General Arbitration Treaty.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

THE HAGUE, July 4.—President Nelidoff of the peace conference today received Miss Anna Eckstein of Boston, Mass., who presented a petition signed by over 2,000,000 Americans, in favor of a general arbitration treaty.

M. Nelidoff congratulated her on the number of signatures, and said the petition was in the right direction, for, if any limitation of armaments is possible, it would have to be done through arbitration. Russia, he continued, had not renounced her original programme, but to carry it out it was necessary to have recourse to arbitration. The development of international law and international courts must be dictated by a full understanding between the States and peoples, the furtherance of mutual good will and love of Christ.

The conference M. Nelidoff added, would discuss whether it should meet periodically, but he did not believe that the present conference would arrive at a decision on the subject.

Robert Treat Paine, president of the American Peace Society, who was present at the interview between M. Nelidoff and Miss Eckstein said that it assumed greater importance, owing to the fact that it occurred on the Fourth of July, which he considered a good omen.

BUGS STOP STEAMBOAT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Swarms of willow bugs, attracted by the lights of the steamboat Liberty, attacked the boat as it was passing Eagle's Nest Island last night. The boat was stopped by the bugs, which clogged the machinery. Passengers were at the mercy of the creatures during the wait, and until all the lights were extinguished there were screams and some tears among the sorely harassed young women on board. Scoop shovels were used in removing the dead bugs from the lower deck.

LIE UPON LIE BY EARL'S "EXPRESS."

THAT would-be boss, E. Tobias Earl, was so bitterly chagrined and so foolishly angered by Mayor Harper's refusal to take orders from him in making up the Water Board that he completely lost his head, and to pound the Mayor he resorted to the most stupid lies in his Express. That absolutely unreliable sheet accused the Mayor of increasing positions and raising salaries by means of ordinances which he had the Council pass, when the records show that these alleged ordinances either were passed before Mayor Harper took office or were myths. Let the honesty and reliability of Earl's little sheet be judged by the records:

Utterly false statement by E. T. Earl in his Express, to "get even" with Mayor Harper:

"When Mayor Harper came into office a new 'ordinance' was passed, making McKeag secretary of the police board, the police pension board, the fire board and the fire pension board, with an aggregate salary of $200 a month. In addition to this Mayor Harper had provision made for his secretary and another ordinance was passed raising the salary of that position from $150 to $200 a month.

"The result is that under the present administration it is costing the taxpayers just twice as much to have the same work performed as it did under the McAleer administration. What was formerly being done for $200 now is costing the taxpayers $400.

"Of course this in itself is a mere item, but it is indicative of similar extravagance all along the line."

Plain statement of facts by Mayor Harper showing how foolishly the Express lied:

BY A. C. HARPER, MAYOR.

The ordinance creating a position of secretary of the Fire Commission [McKeag's office] was passed in July last year, six months before I came into office.

The ordinance increasing the salary of the Mayor's clerk was adopted last December before I assumed office.

No ordinance has been passed during this administration increasing the number of positions in the Mayor's office.

No ordinance has been passed this year increasing the salary of any employee in the Mayor's office.

The position of secretary of the police board still remains vacant, although provision is made for such a secretary in the charter.

GIRLS DENOUNCE BOARD.

Just as it is about to recover from a severe, prolonged attack of brain fever and hysteria, caused by an exaggerated growth of long hair and a radical change of diet, the Board of Education is now threatened with immediate and complete extermination. All the girls in all the sororities in all the country are going to combine to say that the board is just horrid and to fight it to death, because the board is going to pass a new rule to interfere with the girls' and boys' secret societies. The decision was reached today at the banquet of the Tau Phi Gamma sorority in the Victoria Hotel.

CHILD HEIRESS CELEBRATES.

Fourteen-year-old Wallett May Yeakle, who if the higher courts take the same action on her claim to the estate of her granduncle, Col. George T. Cline, as did Judge Honore Wednesday, will be the richest girl in Illinois, one of the wealthiest in America, spent today celebrating the Fourth without a thought of the legal battle that may form a big part of her life and yield her millions of dollars. With the first installment of the money, $25,000, Miss Yeakle bought a whole lot of fireworks and invited all her little friends at Lincoln, Ill., to come in and enjoy the fun.

The fire department rescued a number of guests who were attempting to climb out of the windows. Miss DeTrace was badly burned about the chest, where the head of the rocket struck her.

TORNADO CLAIMS FIFTEEN LIVES.

DAMAGE IN WISCONSIN FROM STORM IS LARGE.

Town of Oakdale Reported Entirely Wiped Out, and Grand Rapids Devastated—Wires Prostrated and Communication Is Difficult—Injured Must Be Many.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PAUL, July 4.—It is now believed that at least fifteen lives were lost in the severe storms which swept over a portion of Western Wisconsin last evening. Numerous persons were injured and much harm to property and to dwelling houses is reported.

According to reports received here, the little town of Oakdale on the Milwaukee road, near Camp Douglas, was entirely wiped out. Four persons are reported to have been killed there. At Grand Rapids, Wis., there are said to be five dead as a result of the storm, but communication has not been reestablished with this place, and the extent of the calamity cannot be ascertained.

The list of dead and injured, so far as reported, is as follows:

Dead at Oakdale:

MR. AND MRS. JOHN DAME, two unidentified men.

At Millston:

MRS. JASPER POFF AND INFANT.

At Wyeville:

ANDREW BAUMEL.

Near Warren:

TWO CHILDREN OF JOSEPH BUCKNER.

At Kellsville:

LYMAN A. CHARLES.

At Grand Rapids:

Five persons, names not reported.

Near Gillesville:

MRS. MARY BAYER AND SON.

The injured:

Two children of Jasper Poff, Mr. and Mrs. John Butler, William Butterfield, Oakdale, fatally:

Daughter of Oscar Fricke, Register of Deeds of Clark county, visiting at L. Charles' home, badly injured.

Gustave Stucke, telegraph operator at Tunnel Siding; Otto Balgord, watchman at Tunnel Siding; Miss P. M. Larsen of Greenwood, Wis., probably fatally. Several children, who were visiting at the home of Lyman Charles. Family of August Beyer all more or less injured. Elsie Weisel, music teacher, Neillsville, badly injured. Mrs. A. Maltby, Oakdale. Mrs. Harry Ward, Oakdale, both seriously. Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss, near Tomah, seriously. John Hill, farm hand.

Many farm houses and outbuildings in the neighborhood of Neillsville were destroyed and much stock was killed. Wires were prostrated in all directions and it has been difficult to learn details of the storm.

No communication has been established with Grand Rapids, where the storm victims are said to be numerous. Oakdale, which is reported as entirely demolished, was a town of probably 200 inhabitants. It is said that the only structure left standing is the railroad station in which the townspeople have taken refuge.

SHIP WAITS FOR BABY.

Parents Start for Europe and Forget Child, but Boat Is Held For Tot.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, July 4.—Henrick Van Sleck of Paoli, Iowa, and his wife almost left for Europe on the steamship Nieuw Amsterdam yesterday without their baby. They had forgotten the infant, and had left it at the hotel where they had stopped over night.

The baby was not missed until just as the gang plank was about to be hauled in. Luckily the hotel was close by, and the officers of the ship agreed to delay the sailing of the ship for the ten minutes it took to fetch the infant, which had been asleep when the couple departed hastily to catch the steamer.

The plant at Stanford, Kan., of the Larrabee Flour Milling Company, with a capacity of 1000 barrels a day, was destroyed by fire yesterday which caused a loss of $150,000.

Goldfield Again Scores by Valuable Discovery.

Strike Proves Ore Field Is Permanent Body.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

GOLDFIELD, (Nev.) July 4.—An entirely new body of ore fifteen feet across has been opened up in the Great Mohawk mine on the 450 foot level. The entire ore body will average approximately $250 a ton and there is a two-foot streak that runs $1,300 a ton clear across.

The strike should set at rest for all time the reports that have been circulated within the last few weeks that the Mohawk was "bottomed," but the immense importance of the strike and its significance lies in the fact that it proves beyond all doubt that the ore bodies in the Goldfield district are permanent.

The body of ore that was uncovered in the Mohawk is unaltered sulphide and there is no concentrates in the seams.

The strike was made several days ago, but no information was given out until thorough tests and assays of rock had been made. The values given are ultra-conservative and the extent of the find is vouched for by a number of well-known experts who have been permitted to examine it.

It is believed to be the greatest body of ore ever opened up in a gold mine in the country.

RECORDER OUSTED.

DISMISSED BY TRUSTEES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SALINAS, July 4.—City Recorder Frederick A. Woodworth of Pacific Grove has been summarily dismissed from the office by the City Trustees on account of a ruling in the case of J. E. Shields of that place. Shields was tried some days ago on the charge of selling liquor in violation of the city ordinance. The prosecution could not prove a sale. Recorder Woodworth instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal, which two members refused to do. Public feeling is aroused over the instructions; hence the dismissal, despite Woodworth's protest for a hearing. The Pacific Grove City Attorney, Treat, says Woodworth's course was right and just. The Trustees, after removing Woodworth, appointed Silas W. Mack to fill the vacancy. Mack is the attorney who took a leading part in the prosecution during Shield's trial.

FIGHTS FOR FREEDOM.

ALLEGED FORGER SEEKS WRIT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. H. Grande, who is said to be a relative of Mrs. Emma Ledoux, now patiently awaiting in the local jail her appeal from being convicted of the murder of McVicar and placing his body in a trunk, is making a most determined effort to secure his freedom.

He was arrested some weeks ago in Duluth, Minn., on the charge of forgery, but he fought extradition until he was turned over to a local deputy sheriff and brought to this city. He is accused of having purchased produce in this county for a Los Angeles firm, but charged more than he paid. The case is based on the accusation that he forged the name of a grower to a check.

He is said to be wanted in two other States on similar charges, and proposes making the fight of his life to escape the clutches of the law here. A writ of habeas corpus has been asked for and granted.

THREE MEN DROWN.

FIVE OTHERS ARE SAVED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An American named R. C. George and two Greek workmen, whose names cannot be learned, were drowned in the Columbia River near Boonville, Or., Tuesday, while they were crossing the stream in a rowboat.

There were eight persons in the boat when it capsized. When in midstream the craft tipped over, probably from being overloaded. Five of the men were rescued, but the other three sank.

SILVER STRIKE IS MADE.

Ledge Found in Panamint Range Which Promises to Equal Famous Comstock Mine.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RHYOLITE (Nev.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Poet Prospector Eddy arrived today on a burro. He had ridden from the Panamint, eighty miles across the desert, with a sack of ore samples which gives some evidence of the discovery of another Comstock ledge, twenty feet wide, which assays 3000 ounces of silver to the ton.

The ledge was entirely overlooked until a few days ago, when some Indians went to Greenwater and brought one white friend and pointed out the ledge, which was hardened surface rock. Solid chunks of silver lay upon the ground. The ledge was located within 200 feet of Eddy's holdings. Eddy found that the ledge runs through a portion of his property and also through the property of a Rhyolite newspaper man. The Indians melted the ore in crude furnaces. The rock, subjected to heat, gives a white stream of silver.

Eddy believes that the Panamints are at last yielding up values which will eclipse all other portions of the mining section.

PORTLAND, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fred A. Briggs, a book agent in the employ of the Whitt Publishing Company of Denver, is being sought by the police for the alleged embezzlement of $4000 from his company.

He has been the Portland agent for the Denver company for some time, and is well known throughout the Pacific Northwest. A reward of $100 is offered for his arrest.

Briggs had offices in the Concord building, and lived at the Hotel Portland with his wife. He spent money lavishly and was very fond of automobile rides. He gave frequent dinner parties and, according to the police,

The body of ore that was uncovered in the Mohawk is unaltered sulphide and there is no concentrates in the seams.

The strike was made several days ago, but no information was given out until thorough tests and assays of rock had been made. The values given are ultra-conservative and the extent of the find is vouched for by a number of well-known experts who have been permitted to examine it.

It is believed to be the greatest body of ore ever opened up in a gold mine in the country.

RECORDER OUSTED.

DISMISSED BY TRUSTEES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SALINAS, July 4.—City Recorder Frederick A. Woodworth of Pacific Grove has been summarily dismissed from the office by the City Trustees on account of a ruling in the case of J. E. Shields of that place. Shields was tried some days ago on the charge of selling liquor in violation of the city ordinance. The prosecution could not prove a sale. Recorder Woodworth instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal, which two members refused to do. Public feeling is aroused over the instructions; hence the dismissal, despite Woodworth's protest for a hearing. The Pacific Grove City Attorney, Treat, says Woodworth's course was right and but. The Trustees, after removing Woodworth, appointed Silas W. Mack to fill the vacancy. Mack is the attorney who took a leading part in the prosecution during Shield's trial.

FIGHTS FOR FREEDOM.

ALLEGED FORGER SEEKS WRIT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. H. Grande, who is said to be a native of Mrs. Emma Ledoux, now awaiting in the local jail her appeal from being convicted of the murder of McVicar and placing his boy in a trunk, is making a most determined effort to secure his freedom.

He was arrested some weeks ago in Duluth, Minn., on the charge of forgery, but he fought extradition until it was turned over to a local deputy sheriff and brought to this city. He is accused of having purchased produce in this county for a Los Angeles firm, but charged more than he paid. The case is based on the accusation that he used the name of a grower to a check.

He is said to be wanted in two other cities on similar charges, and proposes making the fight of his life to escape the clutches of the law here. A writ of habeas corpus has been asked for and granted.

THREE MEN DROWN.

FIVE OTHERS ARE SAVED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An American named R. C. Geary and two Greek workmen, whose names cannot be learned, were drowned in the Columbia River near Boorville, Or., Tuesday, while they were crossing the stream in a rowboat.

There were eight persons in the boat when it capsized. When in midstream the craft tipped over, probably from being overloaded. Five of the men were rescued, but the other three sank.

SILVER STRIKE IS MADE.

Ledge Found in Panamint Range Which Promises to Equal Famous Comstock Mine.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RHYOLITE (Nev.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Poet Prospector Eddy arrived today on a burro. He had ridden from the Panamint, eighty miles across the desert, with a sack of ore samples which gives some evidence of the discovery of another Comstock ledge, twenty feet wide, which assays three ounces of silver to the ton.

The ledge was entirely overlooked until a few days ago, when some Indians went to Greenwater and brought one white friend and pointed out the ledge, which was hardened surface rock, filled chunks of silver lay upon the ground. The ledge was located within 100 feet of Eddy's holdings. Eddy found that the ledge runs through a portion of his property and also through the property of a Rhyolite newspaper man. The Indians melted the ore in crude furnaces. The rock, subjected to heat, gives a white stream of silver.

Eddy believes that the Panamints are at last yielding up values which will eclipse all other portions of the mining section.

BOOK AGENT IS MISSING.

Portland Agent of Denver Company Is Charged With Embezzling Several Thousand Dollars.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fred A. Briggs, a book agent in the employ of the Whitt Publishing Company of Denver, is being sought by the police for the alleged embezzlement of funds from his company.

He has been the Portland agent for the Denver company for some time, and is well known throughout the Pacific Northwest. A reward of $100 is offered for his arrest.

Briggs had offices in the Concord Building, and lived at the Hotel Portland with his wife. He spent money lavishly and was very fond of automobile rides. He gave frequent dinner parties and, according to the police, his tastes were far too expensive for his income. His wife also has disappeared and is supposed to be with him.

CORPSE IN RUNAWAY.

Remains of Man Who Committed Suicide Thrown Into Creek, but Later Recovered.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

REDDING, July 4.—Two horses attached to a spring wagon carrying to Copley the body of a man found dead in the Sacramento River at Coram Tuesday night, became frightened while going down grade. The outfit overturned down an embankment. The horses were killed, the coffin was smashed, and the corpse was thrown into the creek, but it was recovered. The body was that of M. P. Sartora, a suicide.

New Mexico Irrigation Celebration Also Marked by Resolution Declaring Unalterable Adherence to Single Statehood Principle—Rio Grande System Discussed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CARLSBAD (N. M.) July 4.—The second day of the New Mexico irrigation celebration found several thousand persons added to the crowds of yesterday. Every part of New Mexico is represented. The programme today included contests in driving competitive events by the various departments represented, a formal flag raising, steer riding, broncho busting and patriotic speeches.

The speakers include Judge Eylar, of El Paso; R. E. Twitchell, of Los Vegas; G. A. Richardson, of Roswell; and H. V. Scott, of Carlsbad. Mr. Richardson reviewed the work of the reclamation service in the Rio Grande and Pecos Valleys.

Mr. Twitchell suggested that it might be necessary to ask the government for a direct appropriation to build the Rio Grande irrigation system. The estimated cost is $7,200,000. Congress appropriated $1,000,000 to begin work on the Rio Grande project but a further appropriation is needed.

Resolutions adopted at a mass meeting commend President Roosevelt for his broad grasp of Western conditions, especially in connection with the irrigation projects in New Mexico. Mention was also made of the President's "wise policy" in reference to the public domain and the conservation of public forests.

The resolution declared unalterable adherence to the plan of single Statehood for New Mexico.

STAKE HOPE ON NEW LEVEE.

WILL TRY TO CHECK WATERS OF BUENA VISTA LAKE.

While Flood Does Great Damage Flames Ravage Two Sections of Grain Not Far Away—Shipments from Cattle Ranches at a Standstill and Shortage of Supplies in Prospect.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BAKERSFIELD, July 4.—The flood waters in the rich reclaimed wheat lands in the lower part of Kern county caused yesterday by the breaking of the Buena Vista Lake levee, continued to spread this morning and rise unabated, and all resistance against their progress is impossible until the auxiliary levee being constructed at the San Emidio road is complete and the waters reach that point.

The break has widened continually, and this morning it is reported that the entire levee is doomed. Coincidental with the break yesterday was the starting of two large fires in the grain fields of the Miller & Lux ranch, nearly twenty miles distant from the lake. After burning all day the fires were finally extinguished last night shortly before midnight. About two whole sections of grain were destroyed, aggregating between 12,000 and 20,000 sacks.

The fire broke out at Button Willow, seventeen miles from the lake, and at headquarters, four miles from Button Willow. Waters at the lake are rising at the rate of about two inches an hour. The advance this morning is about two and one-half miles from the San Emidio road, where the fight will be made by the construction of the auxiliary levee to stop the advance, and, according to Superintendent James Ogden, of the Miller & Lux company, he does not expect the water to reach that point for three days. The water will have to travel up hill.

After organizing forces, consisting of several hundred men and teams, work was started. All the farmers in the territory have given their horses, scrapers and wagons, and have joined in the work. Gravel trains over the branch of the Southern Pacific will transport earth.

The levee having the advantage of being constructed at the crest of an old ditch bank, is expected to be completed in time and have sufficient height and strength to check the advance. What are known as the North Head gates have been opened, and the waters of Kern River, instead of flowing into Buena Vista, are now run off through the Kern Valley Water Company's canal. This water will eventually flow into the Tulare Lake.

The effort is being made to confine the flooded area to that country east of the break, comprising an area of about twenty-one square miles.

The damage that is being sustained is enormous. Cattle shipments from the various stock ranches in the vicinity of Buena Vista and from the Sunset Oil field, are now at a standstill, and it is even reported that a shortage in supplies may result because of the inability to reach the stricken district with the railroad and wagon roads washed out. Henry Miller of the Miller & Lux Co. hurried here from San Francisco, and is now at the scene.

Superintendent Harry Jastro of the Kern County Land Company arrived from Los Angeles, and President W. S. Tevis has been notified of the disaster. The loss will fall entirely upon the two corporations.

EXPERIMENT PROVES SUCCESS.

REDDING, July 4.—A twenty-five-ton experimental electric iron smelter began work yesterday at the Heroult Pit River iron field. Tonight seven tons of pig iron, the first ever turned out in the State, was taken from the furnace. The smelter is a huge success. A two-thousand-ton smelter will be installed and the manufacture of steel will be begun on a large scale.

It is said the smelter will revolutionize the iron and steel industry of the world.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Nine Horses Burn to Death.

PORTLAND, July 4.—Fire early today destroyed the feed stable of Brown Brothers at Seventeenth and Savier streets and four cottages close by. Nine horses were burned to death. The loss amounts to $15,000 and was well covered by insurance.

One Killed, Four Hurt in Crash.

BELLINGHAM (Wash.) July 4.—One motorman killed, one passenger fatally injured and three seriously hurt as the result of a head-on collision between two cars on the Whatcom Lake line, one mile east of this city last night. Frank Bicock, the dead man, is blamed for the wreck through a misunderstanding of orders.

Much Hay Is Burned.

STOCKTON, July 4.—A large hay warehouse and 3000 tons of hay, owned by Dickenson & Nelson, local hay dealers, was destroyed by fire last evening.

Driver Fatally Hurt.

STOCKTON, July 4.—A man named Gazzalo, driver of a delivery wagon, was fatally hurt in a runaway accident last evening. His horse took fright during the excitement following a fire, and threw the driver against a large harvesting machine.

Work of a Whirlwind.

REDDING, July 4.—A whirlwind of unusual size this afternoon picked up a ten-foot limb of a tree, carried it across Magnolia avenue, and sent it through the roof of the home of W. J. Ward, narrowly missing the occupants.

SEEKS WAYWARD SISTER.

San Francisco Girl Finds Evidence of White Slave Traffic in New York.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Further startling evidence of white slave traffic in Chicago came to light today in the arrest of Jacob Canter, a prosperous cigar merchant, on complaint of Miss Bessie Katz, who came to Chicago from San Francisco to rescue her sister, Florence, 18 years old, who, she told the police, was being held in a resort.

She charged Canter with placing her sister there, and with having solicited money from her. Canter is married and has two children. Florence Katz, the police say, came to Chicago two years ago and went to work in a store on the West Side, where she became acquainted with Canter.

"She left home about two years ago and we had not heard from her since," Miss Bessie Katz told the police. "I heard through a friend that she was in a place on West Randolph street, and that she had been taken there by Canter. My parents own a restaurant in San Francisco, and my sister has a good home if she will only leave Chicago."

War Department Officials Begin Investigation of Charges Made by Colonel's Wife.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Mary Logan Tucker still maintains silence in regard to her charges against her husband, Col. William F. Tucker.

The investigation of these charges by War Department officials is progressing as rapidly as possible, and Mrs. Tucker says the publicity which she expects to attend the final chapters of the investigation will be more than fought for her without rushing into print to try the case in advance.

Washington is still deeply interested in the case, and is discussing all the possibilities suggested by Col. Tucker's reported intention of bringing up the legacy left his wife and younger son by Millionaire George E. Lemon, as an answer to any divorce bill which may be filed.

GRAB LAND BY NEW SCHEME.

Western Pacific Promoters Outwit Federal Laws.

Take Vast Forest Reserves as "Mining Claims."

Already Have Five Million Dollars' Worth.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A new way for getting public lands away from the Federal Government has been discovered by the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture. It is declared that H. H. Yard, one of the promoters of the Western Pacific Railroad, and his associates, have already placed their hands upon 665,000 acres which is worth at least $5,000,000, as every acre is covered with fine timber.

The Departments of the Interior and of Agriculture, both of which have a claim upon the land, are collaborating on a plan to compel Yard and his associates to give it up. Secretary Wilson will go to California to be present when the joint plan is put into operation, about August 3.

The seized land is in the Plumas Forest Reserve in California. It is assumed by the Forest Service people that Yard and his associates took notice of the rich timber growth and filed mining claims, which allow them to mine the property and give them a right to use timber found on the land in furthering their search for mineral wealth. Before placer mining can be done it is necessary and desirable to have the timber removed.

If the Yard plan goes through the greater part of the forest reserves of the country can b. taken up in mineral claims before Congress can repeal the law. There are 145,000,000 acres of forest reserves.

CHARITY WOMEN HELD IN JAIL.

MEXICO MAKES POLITICAL PRISONERS OF LADIES.

Sixty Are Thrown Into Cells, Charged With Inciting Revolution. Are Members of Society for Benevolence and Self-culture — Smuggle Story Out to World.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, July 4.—Mme. Marie de Ruis Sandoval of Mexico, whose husband, Gen. Francisco Sandoval, is now with the army of Guatemala, announces that she has received a letter from her sister, Isobel de Ruiz, a resident of the City of Mexico, stating that she, with about sixty other Mexican women of high degree, have been imprisoned there on the charge of attempting to incite a revolution.

The sister says the women are all confined in small, dirty cells in Belen prison and that they are treated as common felons. The prisoners are not allowed to see any one and a trial has so far been denied them.

Appeals to President Diaz, the writer says, have been of no avail and she hopes that some of the people in the United States will call attention to the unjust treatment meted out to them. Señora de Ruiz writes further that the story of the arrests have been kept from the newspapers of Mexico City and that through a friend she made in prison, she was able to smuggle out the letter to her sister.

The women involved, according to the letter, belong to a society organized primarily for charitable purposes and for mutual improvement and politics is no way involved in its affairs. The receipt of the letter has caused Mme. Sandoval deep concern.

FLAYS WOMEN DOG LOVERS.

Indiana Judge Says Cost of Keeping Canine Would Support a Child.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY (Ind.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I never see a society dame, bedecked and bejeweled, fondling a Spits dog, parading it as a product of her femininity, that I do not revolt," said Frank S. Roby, judge of the Indiana Appellate Court, in an Independence Day address made here today. It was while speaking of the work of the Board of State Charities that Judge Roby made the remarks already quoted. Continuing, he said: "It costs no more, either in money or time, to rear a child than it does to keep a dirty-nosed, red-eyed, long-haired Spits dog. The tramps of the boulevards who are too rich to have children of their own do not go out for homeless waifs. The poor must help the poor; if there is a vacant place in any hearth or in any heart, let its possessor fill the place and have a share in the great work which every day is being done."

PREPARE FOR MIMIC WAR.

California Militia Companies Arrive in San Francisco for Army and Navy Sham Battle.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—Several companies of State militia arrived today for two weeks of play—warfare of the most serious kind.

Dress parade and military balls of the old-fashioned encampments will give way to the digging of entrenchments and rifle pits and the handling of big guns and hasty calls to arms at various times during the day and night in repelling landing parties of the imaginary enemy.

The maneuvers this year are confined to the local artillery district under the command of Col. Lundeen, post commander at the Presidio.

The movements are to be land maneuvers against an imaginary navy, although powder will be burned in plenty. Blank shots will be fired at inoffensive vessels which are supposed to be fighting machines in masquerade, and at the two tugs and one launch which are employed in the local government service. Artillery practice will take place the second week of the encampment.

LIE GIVEN TO HENEY.

of a doctor who was always known to be a friend to the poor, and to never fail to respond to their call. When the funeral was observed the feeling was running so high that Heney was kept in jail and allowed to see the funeral through the bars of the prison. The observances were held in the city park, where the populace of the city was assembled. The reason why Heney was not brought to justice at the time of the tragedy was because it was asserted that Heney had acted in self-defense and the one eyewitness in court was his stenographer; the other two witnesses could not be found. One of the witnesses states now that he left the city through fear. Neither killing a man nor tampering with a jury was looked upon in Arizona in those old times as they are looked upon today.

HANDY'S DYING DECLARATION.

The following was the dying declaration of Dr. Handy as taken from the records of the court:

Between 3 and 4 o'clock p.m., on September 24, 1891, Dr. J. C. Handy made the following statement:

"About noon today I was going to visit a sick patient and as I passed Frank Heney's office he came out of his office and when he saw me he drew a revolver and rushed up to me with it presented toward me, and I commenced grabbing at it to keep him from shooting me, but he got the muzzle against my belly and fired. I do not now know whether I had any weapon on my person or in my pocket or not. I may have had a revolver in my pocket, but I know that I did not draw any weapon of any kind nor make any attempt to draw or use any weapon on him or in his presence at the time. I did not do anything to Mr. Heney at the time except to struggle with him to try to keep him from using revolver. I did not strike him nor offer to do so, nor attempt to use any weapon. It was all unexpected to me and I did not do anything to him but to struggle with him to keep him from shooting me. After he fired the shot I grabbed his revolver and wrestled with him to keep him from firing a second shot, and used all of my power to keep him from doing so until I fell exhausted in the street. I got hold of his revolver and tried to wrench it from him but could not do so. I thought he was going to shoot me again. Other persons came up and Heney ran off. Heney had threatened to kill me before that time and had before then drawn a revolver on me. I never drew any weapon on him at any time. I am not anxious to make any statement about the matter, I am too sick. I have no malice about it. I make this statement in view of death being the result of the wound. I do not think I will live more than a short time. I know the effect of my wound. I am too weak to sign this statement."

The above statement was made in the presence of Mrs. M. J. Smith, George Holbrook and H. W. Maxwell.

ACTUAL COURT RECORD IN THE JURY-BOOZING CASE OF HENEY.

THE TIMES has secured from Arizona a copy of the actual court record giving the proceedings in which Heney was punished for having been caught in improper relations with a jury. The court record reads as follows:

"June 26, 1891, the court entered the following order:

"Parties all present, the clerk called the jury, and all present, counsel for defendant asked permission to introduce further evidence. At this point the District Attorney, Hon. Thomas F. Wilson, moved the court that the court discharge the jury on the grounds that some of said jury, the defendant and defendant's counsel the night before indulged in conduct unbecoming jurors and the court ordered the said attorney to file his motion in writing, stating particular and specific facts. The said attorney thereupon filed said motion, and the court proceeded to hear the evidence in support of said motion. Several witnesses were then sworn, and the court entered another order, as follows:

"The trial of this cause having heretofore been begun, and not being concluded, and the government, by Thomas F. Wilson, United States Attorney, and Calvert Wilson, Assistant United States Attorney, having filed said motion to discharge the jury from further consideration of this cause, that it be adjudged that there has been a mistrial thereof because of the misconduct of certain of the jurors empaneled as aforesaid, and of Francis Heney, Esq., one of the attorneys for the defense, and of the defendant himself.

"Wherefore it is ordered by the court that said jury be discharged from further consideration of this case, and that there has been a mistrial of this cause. And it further orders that this case be, and the same is continued until the next term of this court.

"Whereupon W. H. Griffin, associate counsel for the defendant, moved the court that this jury be instructed to return a verdict of not guilty, which motion the court denied. And the court now orders W. McLain, F. W. Becker, C. R. Kirchner, Francis J. Heney and James D. Raymert, Jr., appear before this court this day at 2 o'clock p.m. to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt."

"At 2 o'clock the above-named persons appeared before this court to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt, and there not appearing to this court legal reasons why said persons should not be so punished, it is ordered that said Francis J. Heney be fined the sum of $20; that James D. Raymert, Jr., be fined $20."

HENEY CONVICTED OF IMPROPER RELATIONS WITH ARIZONA JURY.

THE hot recriminations between attorneys in Judge Lawlor's court in San Francisco brought out Francis J. Heney's Arizona record as a lawyer caught in professional misconduct. It appears that Heney was convicted of improper relations with a jury before whom he was trying a criminal case, and a mistrial resulted, the jurors being discharged, and Heney being fined by the court.

Calvert Wilson, a Los Angeles attorney, with offices in the Wilcox building, was Assistant United States Attorney for the Second Judicial District of Arizona in 1891. Wilson was prosecuting James Reymert in the District Court at Florence, Pinal county, on a charge of cohabitation with a widow of the name of Rittenhouse.

United States Judge Kibbey, now Governor of Arizona, was presiding. Heney was Reymert's attorney. On the strength of certain affidavits filed with the court by a United States Marshal, the jury was dismissed, causing a mistrial, and Heney and four jurymen were fined for improper conduct.

Attorney Wilson showed considerable reluctance recently to discuss the case. He gave a narrative of the mistrial and the punishment of Heney as follows:

"Reymert was on trial for cohabitation with one Dolores Rittenhouse. Heney appeared as Reymert's attorney. I was desirous of obtaining a conviction, as the offense had occasioned a scandal in the little town of Florence, the capital of Pinal county. The Rittenhouse woman was the widow of one of the best-known and most popular merchants in the Territory. She had two children.

"The case was called in the afternoon, and a part of the testimony taken. The witnesses were citizens of Florence, who were indignant at the conduct of Reymert and Mrs. Rittenhouse.

"About 5 o'clock in the afternoon the court adjourned until the next morning. Judge Kibbey warned the jury against discussing the case before dismissing them.

"The next morning the judge called me to him, and said he had heard that members of the jury were drinking in Jack Keating's saloon the evening before, in company with Reymert and Heney and others.

"Judge Kibbey asked me to investigate at once, and furnish him with affidavits setting forth what had occurred. I set a deputy United States Marshal to work. Soon after he made an affidavit to the effect that four members of the jury had been drinking the night before in Keating's saloon in company with the respondent, Reymert, and his attorney, Heney. Several others were in the saloon at the time."

Mr. Wilson here stipulated that the affidavit did not allege that Heney had been tampering with the jury. He expressed a warm friendship for Heney and said he would regret to see Heney's old Arizona record brought into the prosecution of the graft cases in San Francisco.

"Gordon McLain, a former resident of this city, was foreman of that jury," went on Wilson. "Naturally, I objected to proceeding further in the case under the circumstances. The jurymen were all from Clifton, Graham county. They had come over from the mines, and were out for a lark rather than to decide important cases.

"Judge Kibbey was even more severe than I was. He ordered that an entry of mistrial be made, and the case stopped at once. Then he fined Heney for his part in the mistrial. He also fined four of the jurymen and ordered the jury dismissed."

Asked as to the final result of the case, Mr. Wilson said: "Well, when the case came up at the next session before another jury, Heney made the defense that Reymert could not be tried a second time, as his client's liberty had once been placed in jeopardy. The judge submitted this point to the jury, and the jury decided that Reymert could not be tried again. He was accordingly released from custody.

"Then came the trial of Dolores Rittenhouse. The same jury that had dismissed Reymert found the woman guilty, and she was punished for the offense."

Wilson said that in asking for a retrial of the case he did not accuse Heney of tampering with the jury, but his defense of Heney revealed some peculiar incidents in the frontier history of Arizona.

According to Wilson, Heney is as mildly-tempered an individual as ever treated a jury or dropped his man. Wilson was standing on the steps of the Courthouse in Tucson, Ariz., soon after the Reymert episode, when he heard a pistol shot. Looking down the street he saw Heney and Dr. John Handy. Heney had just shot Handy in the belly, inflicting a mortal wound.

At the inquest a carpenter testified that he had seen Dr. Handy slap Heney in the face just before the shooting occurred. But Wilson is positive that Heney was a mild-mannered man, and could not have provoked the quarrel.

"I have always held Heney blameless in that shooting," said Wilson. "Heney had secured a divorce for Dr. Handy's wife, and Handy had frequently called Heney vile names, taunting him across the street. Handy had also tried to ride him down."

POLITICAL.

TIGERITES ROAR AT PRESIDENT.

TAMMANY SPENDS FOURTH FLAYING CHIEF EXECUTIVE.

New York Democrats Celebrate Nation's Birth by Hurling Invective at Administration—Efforts to Start Boom for Bryan Meet With But Little Success.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Scoring the President of the United States was the principal order of the day at the celebration of the Fourth of July by Tammany Hall.

William J. Bryan sent a message from Lincoln, Neb., inveighing against the nation's Chief Executive, Col. Henry E. Rainey of Illinois hurled invective at the administrtion and its policy, and Congressman Burke Cockran read the Declaration of Independence. James Brainson of Colorado also spoke.

Efforts to start a boom for Bryan for the Democratic nomination for President in 1908 did not meet with marked success. Some of the speakers, however, did speak of Mr. Bryan in glowing terms and there were faint-hearted cheers, but the general tone of the speeches was patriotic rather than political. Charles F. Murphy showed that he was opposed to any decision as to candidates at this time.

Today's exercises made the one hundred and seventeenth celebration in the history of the society. According to custom Mr. Cockran, wearing all the insignia of his office as grand sachem, and keeping his silk hat on his head throughout the entire meeting, was chairman. Sachems were present in large numbers and Charles F. Murphy was one of the first of them to appear. The hall was crowded. Owing to the efforts of some of the speakers to boom Mr. Bryan, several of the so-called "short talks" were left out. There were two "long talks" by Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois and Representative James Brinson of Colorado. A short talk by Senator Thomas F. Grady grew into a long talk. The only other speaker, aside from Mr. Cockran, was A. C. Young.

There was more enthusiasm of the spontaneous order after the meeting than at any time during it. This was when the "refreshments" were served.

Col. Raney attributed to the President "the design of destroying State lines and State rights."

"The policy of the Executive," said he, "now seems to be to secure the power we thought belonged to the States in the hands of Congress—and then get Congress to surrender to the Executive."

Rainey declared that it was evident Mr. Roosevelt intended to be one of the candidates for President next year and said his indorsement of "favorite sons" were like so many nails in their coffins. The speaker concluded:

"Washington was too big to accept a third term. Jefferson was too big to accept a third term, but the present occupant of the White House is not big enough to refuse. With the danger of a third term staring us in the face we are beginning to look around for a man who stands upon his Declaration of Independence and out West we offer you such a man. There is not money enough locked up in all the vaults of the trusts to defeat William J. Bryan next year should he be the candidate of the Democratic party.

"Our programme is simple enough, for it is based on this declaration and means 'thou shalt not steal.' The platform furnishes no protection for a law-defying trust; no bulwark for a rubber tariff. As long as this great party exists in this great country, it can never be defeated. Its candidates may, but when the time comes, if it does come, when it becomes a conservative party, then the government that rests upon the consent of the governed will have faded from the earth."

Bryan's message said:

"I trust your celebration will increase the enthusiasm of the New York Democratic party and direct attention to the fact that the economic questions now before the country—the trust question, the tariff question the railroad question—all involve the same issue, viz:

"Whether the government shall be administered in the interest of a few favorites or in behalf of the whole people.

"Other questions will enter into the campaign, but these questions emphasize the importance of applying to the government the Jeffersonian doctrine of 'equal rights to all and special privileges to none.'

"WILLIAM J. BRYAN."

STUDENT DIES MYSTERIOUSLY.

Scion of Wealthy Boston Family Expires Under Circumstances Which Friends Think Suspicious.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROLLINSVILLE, (Colo) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Under mysterious circumstances, Curtis Parker, a wealthy Harvard student, whose home is in Boston, was found dead in bed at the home of his chum and classmate, Hal Sayers, who lives within a few miles of this place.

What caused the young man's death has not yet been ascertained, and two theories have been advanced. One is that he died of suffocation and the other that he died of heart failure, due to the high altitude. Owing to the rugged constitution of young Parker, many persons refuse to credit these theories and the coroner is to hold an inquest to determine the cause of death.

The Parker family is one of the wealthiest and most prominent in the aristocratic Back Bay district of Boston and the Sayers' are well known in Denver. The two boys were at college together and at the invitation of Sayers, Parker agreed to come out here and spend his vacation.

CHARGES BIG GRAFT.

Contractor Says Soldiers' Home Buildings at Johnson City, Tenn., Cost Twice What They Should.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charging that the board of Governors of the National Soldier's Home, at Johnson City, Tenn., had expended from $80,000 to $100,000 for buildings which he alleged should have been constructed for $40,000, J. R. Parrish, a contractor, has created a sensation here which will bring on an investigation by Federal authorities and may unearth a big grafting scheme.

The charge was made when Mr. Parrish was answering suit in the Federal Court in which he was charged with having sued for money to which he was not entitled. Congressman Brownlow is chairman of the board.

NOW TAMPERS WITH WITNESS.

Attempt to Bribe Detective Is the Charge.

Haywood Defense Pays "Expenses" of Sleuth.

Moyer's Wife Holds Aloof from Others' Families.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOISE (Idaho) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is an air of mystery about the character of the evidence which the prosecution will introduce in rebuttal in the Haywood trial.

K. C. Sterling, the detective who represented the mine owners of Cripple Creek, and who was associated with Orchard, is here. Sterling is said to have accepted money—a large sum—for expenses from the defense. If he goes on the stand he may testify that an attempt was made to bribe him.

Although Steve Adams is said to be thoroughly in accord with Haywood, there is gossip that he may take the stand and corroborate Orchard. Lawyers Darrow and Richardson are in daily conference with Adams, and declare that he will never appear as a witness against Haywood.

The family associations of the prisoner have also caused comment. Mrs. Haywood, Mrs. Pettibone and Mrs. Adams are good friends. Mrs. Moyer and her sister do not speak or associate with Mmes. Adams, Haywood or Pettibone.

It is quite probable that Orchard will again take the stand. He will contradict the statements of Denver witnesses that he was introduced to them by Gratias, who was president of the Globeville union. The Bradley deposition is not expected until Saturday morning.

The defense has a few witnesses left and the court may insist that Haywood or Moyer be put on the stand tomorrow afternoon. The state expects to finish the rebuttal in three days, and then four days will be taken up in arguments.

NEW YORK, July 4.—With the withdrawal of counsel for Harry K. Thaw for their motion by the Supreme Court for an order directing Dist.-Atty. Jerome to show cause why Thaw should not have a speedy trial, it is learned that the District Attorney has agreed to Thaw's trial in October.

THIRTY DEATH FOURTH CELE

Number of Immediate ported up to Midnigh What Total Will Be— dred Injured.

CHICAGO, July 4. — [Exclusive Dispatch.] The Chicago Tribune presents its ninth annual summary of the numbers killed and maimed by the frenzied methods by which the nation "celebrates" the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Compared with a year ago, the immediate death roll is thirty, but, unfortunately, it will be several weeks before the total number of dead from today's insane and noisy hilarity can be ascertained. Lockjaw and other diseases, consequent upon injuries from firearms and fireworks, will swell the number of today's total dead into hundreds.

Up to midnight no fewer than thirty deaths from Fourth of July disasters had been reported to the Tribune. A year ago only thirty-three deaths had been reported up to 8 a.m. of the morning after.

There is a sinister significance to these figures which leads to the fear that the death roll of 1907 will mount higher than the figures of 1906.

"NOT SO MANY INJURED.

The total number of injured as far as reported up to midnight shows a highly gratifying decrease over the figures of last year. The total is 1468 as against 2789 up to 8 a.m. of July 5 a year ago. The causes contributing to the 1468 accidents this year, as compared with the 2789 a year ago, are shown in the following comparative table:

	1907.	1906.
Fireworks	684	1099
Cannon	181	261
Firearms	161	393
Explosives	254	697
Toy pistols	157	304
Runaways	31	40

The figures show that this year, as last, the most of the casualties were due to carelessness in handling fireworks.

Gunpowder explosions stand second on the list, as they did a year ago.

"Cannon casualties" climb from fourth place in 1906 to third place this year, passing firearms in the grim race.

Toy pistols, which last year stood fourth in the list, have been pushed down to fifth this year, showing, possibly, the effects of the vigorous crusade that has been waged by the press and the medical fraternity against that particular death-dealing device.

NOW TAMPERS WITH WITNESS.

Moyer's Wife Holds Aloof from Others' Families.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOISE (Idaho) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is an air of mystery about the character of the evidence which the prosecution will introduce in rebuttal in the Haywood trial.

K. C. Sterling, the detective who represented the mine owners of Cripple Creek, and who was associated with Orchard, is here. Sterling is said to have accepted money—a large sum—for expenses from the defense. If he goes on the stand he may testify that an attempt was made to bribe him.

Although Steve Adams is said to be thoroughly in accord with Haywood, there is gossip that he may take the stand and corroborate Orchard. Lawyers Darrow and Richardson are in daily conference with Adams, and declare that he will never appear as a witness against Haywood.

The family associations of the prisoner have also caused comment. Mrs. Haywood, Mrs. Pettibone and Mrs. Adams are good friends. Mrs. Moyer and her sister do not speak or associate with Mmes. Adams, Haywood or Pettibone.

It is quite probable that Orchard will again take the stand. He will contradict the statements of Denver witnesses that he was introduced to them by Gratias, who was president of the Globeville union. The Bradley deposition is not expected until Saturday morning.

The defense has a few witnesses left and the court may insist that Haywood or Moyer be put on the stand tomorrow afternoon. The State expects to finish the rebuttal in three days, and then four days will be taken up in arguments.

District Attorney Sets Date for Second Contest of Pittsburgh Youth for His Life.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, July 4.—With the withdrawal of counsel for Harry K. Thaw for their motion by the Supreme Court for an order directing Dist.-Atty. Jerome to show cause why Thaw should not have a speedy trial, it is learned that the District Attorney has agreed to Thaw's trial in October.

For the first time since the trial of her husband, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw left the city yesterday. With her attorney, Daniel O'Reilly, she went to Long Beach, L. I., to spend the Fourth with Mrs. O'Reilly and to talk over plans for her husband's new trial with her lawyer.

DEFAULTER IN SOUTH SEAS?

Detectives Think Bank Teller Who Walked Off With $86,317 Has Fled to Far Regions.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, July 4.—Chester B. Runyan, defaulting teller of the Windsor Trust Company, whose amazing theft of $86,317 from the bank's vaults was chronicled yesterday, is believed by the detectives at work on the case to be on board a sailing vessel bound for the south seas. The officers learned that Runyan talked a great deal of such a trip in search of health and, as not a trace of him has been found, they think he arranged with some South Sea skipper, who sailed Saturday, for passage.

That the sum total of Runyan's stealings will approximate a larger sum than that announced is denied by all the bank officers.

THIRTY DEATHS FROM FOURTH CELEBRATIONS.

Number of Immediate Fatalities Reported up to Midnight far Short of What Total Will Be—Fourteen Hundred Injured.

CHICAGO, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Chicago Tribune presents its ninth annual summary of the numbers killed and maimed by the frenzied methods by which the nation "celebrates" the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Compared with a year ago, the immediate death roll is thirty, but, unfortunately, it will be several weeks before the total number of dead from today's insane and noisy hilarity can be ascertained. Lockjaw and other diseases, consequent upon injuries from firearms and fireworks, will swell the number of today's total dead into hundreds.

The figures show that this year, as last, the most of the casualties were due to carelessness in handling fireworks.

Pittsburgh leads all the cities of the country in the number slain on the altar of misguided patriotism. In that city nine lives were sacrificed. New York comes second on the death roll with six victims. Springfield, Ill., supplied three, and Aberdeen, S. D., two. No other town or city gave up more than one of its own to death.

The cities in which the Fourth of July deaths occurred are:

Aberdeen, S. D., 2; Chatham, Ill., 1; Chicago, 1; Des Moines, 1; Effingham, Ill., 1; Harrisburg, Pa., 1; Hartford, Ct., 1; Kansas City, Kan., 1; Montpelier, Vt., 1; New York City, 6; Pittsburgh, Pa., 9; Spokane, Wash., 1; Springfield, Ill., 3; Troy, N. Y., 1.

SAN JOSE'S BIG CELEBRATION.

GOVERNOR DELIVERS ADDRESS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN JOSE, (Cal.,) July 4.—The local celebration, which was begun last evening with a grand parade of automobiles, was continued this morning with a general parade in five vast divisions, participated in by the local militia, Grand Army and Spanish War Veterans, local unions and fraternal orders, civic organizations and the citizens generally. It was an impressive parade and was witnessed by at least 20,000 persons from various points of the valley.

Governor Gillette rode in the parade. This afternoon the Governor delivered an address in the auditorium rink which was jammed with people. He was introduced by Mayor Mathews. The celebration was one of the greatest ever held on the coast. This evening a magnificent display of fireworks was made in the Naglee Park, after which there was a public ball in the huge Princess skating rink.

"MOTHER QUEEN OF OREGON."

TITLE BESTOWED ON MRS. WOODS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORTLAND, (Or.,) July 4.—One of the most interesting features of the Fourth of July celebration in this city today was naming Mrs. Mary Ramsey Lemons Woods, "Mother Queen of Oregon." Mrs. Woods, who is 120 years of age and well in possession of her faculties, did not participate actively in the exercises, it being deemed an unnecessary hardship to bring the old lady from her home at Hillsboro into this city, but following appropriate exercises, General George H. Williams, Attorney-General under President U. S. Grant, named her publicly as Queen, applauded by hundreds of people who had gathered to witness the exercises.

General Williams is himself eighty-four years old and a man of remarkable preservation. Mrs. Wood was born at Knoxville, Tenn., May 20, 1787. In 1832 she moved from Missouri to Oregon.

PRESIDENT WORKS ALL DAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OYSTER BAY, (N. Y.,) July 4.—The celebration of the Fourth made apparently little difference to the transaction of government business by President Roosevelt today. The executive staff went through the usual routine. Tonight, the President with his family and relatives will witness an elaborate display of fireworks.

EVANSVILLE, (Ind.,) July 4.—Before a crowd of almost 10,000 people at the Chautauqua assembly here this afternoon Governor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri, delivered an address upon the Fourth of July.

DESCENDS FROM JEFFERSON.

Declaration of Independence Is Read by Great-Great-Grandson of Writer of Document.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hollins H. Randolph, an Atlanta attorney, by direct descent the great grandson of Thomas Jefferson, who drafted the Declaration of Independence, read that document at the Fourth of July celebration at the Jamestown Exposition today.

The reading took place under the auspices of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Association.

Mr. Randolph is the youngest son of W. L. Randolph, who was the eldest son of Margaret Smith Randolph, the eldest child of Thomas Jefferson Randolph, the eldest son of Martha Jefferson, who was the eldest daughter of Thomas Jefferson.

GARIBALDI CELEBRATION.

NEW YORK ITALIANS PARADE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 4.—The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the Italian national leader, Garibaldi, was observed here today by a parade and dedication of the Garibaldi Pantheon at Clifton, Staten Island, where the liberator lived from 1850 to 1854. Delegations from all over the country took part. The Pantheon incloses the house where Garibaldi lived, and contains many relics of the patriot.

Washington Park was the rendezvous of Italian socialists before the start of the parade. It moved down Broadway to the Staten Island ferry, cheered by hundreds of Italians.

TWO KILLED, FIVE INJURED.

Combination of Cigarette and Powder Can in Rowboat Causes Fatal Accident.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CEDAR RAPIDS (Iowa) July 4.—Four pounds of giant powder exploded today in a rowboat, killing two persons and injuring five others. The powder was to be used to make the noise for a small picnic.

The survivors say that one of those killed threw a cigarette on top of the can, and that a spark from it must have reached the contents.

Crush at Reid's Reception.

LONDON, July 4.—So many Americans attended American Ambassador Whitelaw Reid's Fourth of July reception this afternoon that traffic through several squares about Dorchester house was blocked for two hours. Mr. Reid and the ladies of the embassy received the guests, who included most of the American residents and hundreds of visitors. Although admittance was by invitation, and only Americans were asked to call, the crush was as great as at a White House reception.

Children Touch Off Powder.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) July 4.—One child was killed, one probably fatally injured and two others were hurt in a celebration of the Fourth of July at Chatham last night. Frank Herrean, engineer of a coal mine at Chatham, took seven two and one-half-gallon cans of powder with which to celebrate the Fourth, and told the children not to touch the powder, which he left in the back yard. The children finished supper before he did, and went into the back yard, and Mary, 5 years old, struck a match. John, 9 years old, attempted to tear her hands away before the powder exploded, but was too late. Mary was so severely burned that she died on the way to a hospital in Springfield, and John is terribly burned, and may die. Maggie, 11 years, and Ernest, aged 3 months, were also burned and are in a hospital.

MANY ACCIDENTS IN NEW YORK.

THREE KILLED, ONE HUNDRED SIXTY-THREE INJURED.

Four Million Dollars' Worth of Fireworks Burned Up in Noisiest Fourth Metropolis Has Ever Known—Seventy-five Arrests for Discharging Firearms Loaded With Bullets.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Firecrackers and torpedoes and a column of smoke fed from millions of smoldering punk sticks and a pillar of rockets by night marked the noisiest Fourth ever celebrated in New York.

Burning so much powder meant some serious accidents and the hospitals and the dispensaries told their usual story of lacerated wounds, of stray bullets and of casualties of all kinds caused by the inexperienced use of powerful explosives. Three deaths were reported and 163 persons were injured, of whom six probably will die.

Seventy-five arrests were made for discharging firearms loaded with bullets, which shows the reason for the more serious casualties.

Fires were not up to the record and the clang of the engine bells did not add appreciably to the uproar and din of the celebration.

The deaths of two women and a man were tragedies of the saddest kind. Overcome by grief at his accidental shooting of his aunt, Mrs. Alfoncino Focarile, wife of a well-to-do Italian contractor, Arthur Carraro, 19 years old, turned the revolver upon himself and was instantly killed.

A stray bullet crashed through a window at the rear of the fourth floor of No. 243 Elizabeth street and pierced the brain of pretty 19-year-old Nimpa Grizzante, who was combing her hair before a mirror.

Mrs. Focarile was killed by her nephew while watching him shoot at a tin can in the yard of their home. The revolver is supposed to have "kicked" while being fired, causing the muzzle to turn in her direction. A bullet entered her forehead and she fell at the young man's feet. For a moment he stood transfixed and then, without further hesitation, he placed the pistol to his own head and fired.

Giuseppe Focarile, husband of the woman, entered the yard a moment later. When he saw the bodies and realized what had happened, he tried to batter his brains out against the side of the house. A crowd of neighbors restrained him, but he continued to struggle for some time.

The bullet that killed the Grizzante girl was followed by a second shot which buried itself in the wall of the room directly over the heads of her two girl cousins who were still asleep.

Thomas McGuire was walking past No. 202 South street when a stray bullet struck him in the thigh. He was taken to the Hudson-street hospital, where it is said his recovery is doubtful. Other hospitals received scores of minor cases all caused by the celebration of Independence Day.

Record breaking sales in fireworks, bringing the cost up to $4,000,000, have been made in this city and vicinity. Notwithstanding the fact that prices in rockets and firecrackers soared high when the demand began to exceed the enormous supply, everybody seemed to have as much as they had before, and every small boy added his quota of noise.

FIREWORKS EXPLODE IN STORE.

Window Full of Skyrockets Catches Fire and Panic Among Customers Results.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At 10 o'clock this morning while the drug store of John Hook at No. 318 East Washington street was crowded with people, there was a sudden explosion of fireworks which had been piled up in the large show window in front.

Skyrockets and other explosives flew in all directions and the people in the store were panic-stricken and fled in all directions.

Miss Grace Thornton was struck by one of the rockets and badly injured and Hook was badly burned.

Three others in the store were struck by rockets and broken glass and slightly injured. The people in the rooms above the store left in a panic and came down the stairway crying and badly frightened. The explosion tore out the entire front of the storeroom.

VIENNA, July 4.—The American colony of this city celebrated the Fourth of July by a trip down the Danube to Presburg, the Hungarian town where the Magyr kings used to be crowned. The visitors were received by the Hungarians of Presburg with enthusiasm. They played a game of baseball and had dinner. Among the participants in the jollifications were Ambassador Francis, Senator William P. Gillingham of Vermont and William R.

COFFEE COMPLEXION

Many Ladies Have Poor Complexions From Coffee.

"Coffee caused dark colored blotches on my face and body. I had been drinking it for a long while and these blotches gradually appeared until finally they became permanent and were about as dark as coffee itself.

"I formerly had as fine a complexion as one could ask for.

"When I became convinced that coffee was the cause of my trouble, I changed and took to using Postum Food Coffee, and as I made it well, according to directions, I liked it very much, and have since that time used it in place of coffee.

"I am thankful to say I am not nervous any more, as I was when I was drinking coffee, and my complexion is now as fair and good as it was years ago. It is very plain that coffee caused the trouble."

Most bad complexions are caused by some disturbance of the stomach and coffee is the greatest disturber of digestion known. Almost any woman can have a fair complexion if she will leave off coffee and use Postum Food Coffee and nutritious, healthy food in proper quantity. Postum furnishes certain elements from the natural grains from the fields that Nature uses to rebuild the nervous system and when that is in good condition, one can depend upon a good complexion as well as a good healthy body. PART II: EDITORIAL, LOCAL AND BUSINESS SECTION

WHAT THE TIMES STANDS FOR:

For liberty under the law.

For Industrial Freedom.

For the punishment of crime without distinction or discrimination.

For the punishment of grafters and bribers, high and low.

For the equal rights for every workingman to employment, protection and the fruits of his labor.

For the inalienable right of "every citizen to pursue undisturbed and unhampered any lawful occupation of his choice in a lawful way, and to be protected in that right by the whole power of the State or of the Nation if need be." This means the resort, when required, to the civil power, to the courts and to the Army and Navy in the last resort. The people of the United States are determined to have peace even if they have to fight for it.

Pen Points

The tree of knowledge has again made trouble, but it was a pepper tree this time.

During the past few days the soda fountains have been sharp rivals with the electric cars for the nickels.

Southern California is merely keeping up with other sections of the country by having some unusual weather.

Big Jeff had a sneaking hope that Bill Squires would give him an excuse for getting into the game again. With a sigh, he goes back to the farm.

The United States appears to look good to the thousands of Japanese camped along the borders watching for a chance to sneak across the line.

War with the United States would hinder the exportation to this country of the vast quantities of bric-a-brac and stop the sale of a lot of fake antiques.

Southern California needs a smelter. No region needs it more; but it should not be forgotten that we have one at Needles, right in the heart of our mining territory.

Fairbanks is trying hard to make a noise like a good fellow, but it will take more than one round of cocktails to convince the country that he is the gay roysterer he would like to seem.

State Mineralogist Aubury has long been threatening fake promoters with dire vengeance of the law. At last, one Emmons of San Francisco has been sentenced to prison. Come to Los Angeles, Mr. Aubury.

The war talk in Japan does not seem to take into consideration Japan's need to raise large foreign loans. A loan for the purpose of war with the United States would not be very popular with some of the leading financiers of the world.

Money is tight, say the bankers. Whose money? It is not their own money that they are locking up and guarding with the senseless jealousy of a dog hoarding bones. If they will cease seeing ghosts, there will be no depression.

With a fast steamship line to Australia and New Zealand from San Pedro and one to the Orient (long since established) from Seattle, San Francisco will indeed have to look to her laurels as the great seaport of the Pacific Coast.

Competition has resulted in three-year contracts for fuel oil at 70 to 85 cents delivered. This is a drop from $1 a barrel at the well, but oil men should think of the good old times not long ago when oil was slow at 35 cents or thereabouts.

Prof. Munsterberg talks more like a member of the Standard Oil University's freak faculty than like a Harvard professor. When he predicates the truthfulness of assassin Orchard on the shape of his skull, he makes the alleged science of psychology ridiculous.

Germany is a long way from provoking war with the United States, else the German War Department would not be promoting the raising in Kentucky of a better breed of horses for the German cavalry than can be produced at the chief imperial stables in Prussia.

At Bakersfield the Board of Education has issued an order that members of the faculty must not be cartooned in the High School paper. This is quite right. Such criticism or ridicule of their instructors by pupils, even though without malice, is certain to impair discipline and lead to harm.

There is a reason for the inability of British pugilists to make even a respectable showing against American fighters in these days. Possibly it is because the British fighter is still of the old dull, brute type, while the American is of higher nervous organization and makes some use of his brains, as well as his fists.

THE PARTING OF THE WAYS.

A writer signing the name of M. D. Hopkins, in a letter to the Evening News, accuses The Times of inconsistency in its attitude on the San Francisco situation, and says:

"It seems to me The Times has changed its policy purely on account of its indorsement of Calhoun and the corporation interests generally. Admitting the vandalism of labor unions and their general moral depravity, we cannot believe that all the wrong conditions are chargeable to them and them alone. Whom the shoe fits, let him wear it—and let us have consistency in the editorials of the journals whose dictum our people must follow."

It is obvious that this critic, like many others, has not carefully read The Times. This journal does not expect everybody to approve of its views or utterances; it freely criticises and expects criticism. It gives blows and takes them. But it insists that its policy shall be correctly stated by those who call it in question.

The Times has followed very closely the course of Messrs. Spreckels and Heney in San Francisco and has commented on it candidly. They started bravely and fairly, and The Times applauded. When they flagrantly violated their pledges by retaining in office the yellow-dog Supervisors, self-confessed criminals, permitting them to keep on drawing their salaries and exercising the functions of government—then The Times took vigorous exceptions. When Messrs. Heney and Spreckels broke faith with the people of San Francisco and threw the whole weight of their power, prestige and moral influence on the side of the law-breaking strike promoters and labor-union hoodlums, and against the sacred cause of industrial freedom and equal rights—then The Times earnestly protested. The betrayal of the public interest has been so forcefully and lucidly summarized by the San Francisco Argonaut, one of the ablest and most highly respected journals on the Coast, that we quote:

"Let us look at the details: First, the Board of Supervisors, who are absolutely under Mr. Spreckels's control, undertook to pass a resolution forfeiting Mr. Calhoun's franchises on the ground that he was not performing the service required. It was just a cheap bluff and came to nothing. But Mr. Spreckels should never have allowed his 'good dogs' to attempt a piece of shabby business simply for the embarrassment of Mr. Calhoun. Second, Mr. Spreckels's 'good dogs,' by the threat of a confiscatory resolution, attempted to weaken Mr. Calhoun's hand in the street car strike by forcing the Geary Street Company (which had been working under a lapsed franchise and was therefore amenable to pressure) to accept the demands of the strikers; and when this device failed, the road was practically confiscated by resolution of the 'good dogs,' acting, of course, with the consent of their masters, the prosecution.

"Third, Mr. Spreckels, at a time when riotous and murderous assaults were being made by strikers and their sympathizers, announced over his own name that 'I think the union men of this city are earnestly endeavoring to preserve the peace,' etc. . . . 'I believe the citizens should take steps to prevent Patrick Calhoun from issuing inflammatory statements . . . which tend only to stir up the resentment of the carmen and their sympathizers. . . . If he did not incite union men by his statements there would be less cause for acts of violence on the part of the sympathizers of the carmen,' etc.

"There is no possible misinterpretation of this utterance. It was a word of approval and friendship, designed to please the mob, to support its fight against Calhoun, and to attach it to the Spreckels cause. Fourth, Mr. Spreckels permitted himself to be quoted widely to the effect that the strike was a device invented and prompted by Mr. Calhoun to win sympathy and so shield himself against the penalty of his alleged crimes. Fifth, Mr. Spreckels permitted his 'good dogs,' after having practically confiscated the Geary-street road, to vote the great sum of $720,000 out of our impoverished treasury to make a municipal car line through Geary street. The hand of Esau is plain enough here. It strikes a blow at Mr. Calhoun by threatening municipal ownership of street cars; it strikes another blow at Calhoun by giving encouragement with a promise of material support to the forces of unionism and socialism. Furthermore, it tends to make a direct alliance between the forces of the prosecution and the forces of labor-unionism in connection with the coming municipal election."

The Times has seen the good in what Spreckels and Heney have done and has commended it. The Times, although it had criticised Heney's methods, took pains to heartily compliment his coup in the wind-up of the Schmitz trial. This journal would have preferred to go on with Spreckels and Heney, step by step, to the end; but we came to the parting of the ways when Heney and Spreckels went down a road whereon The Times could not follow.

The Times believed that the first and most important thing to be achieved in San Francisco was to re-establish peace and order and industrial freedom and to deliver the city from the curse of labor-union control—the curse that had brought the graft and corruption with it, as well as violence and murder. Right here, Heney and Spreckels parted from The Times. They made a hard-and-fast alliance with the labor-union politicians and are still perpetuating labor-union domination. The Times said: "Make San Francisco a free city." Spreckels and Heney said: "No." That made the breach impassable.

The attitude of The Times toward Mr. Calhoun has never changed a hair's breadth. As a valiant fighter for industrial freedom The Times has in so far supported him—always saying "if Mr. Calhoun has violated any law, let the law take its course." If Mr. Calhoun be guilty of the crime of bribery, he must be punished. But he did not attempt to evade prosecution; he did not run away. If he had not been trigged and thwarted by Spreckels and Heney (for political reasons and out of petty spite) he would have won his battle against organized disorder, intimidation and lawlessness ere this, and San Francisco would not today be facing a general labor war.

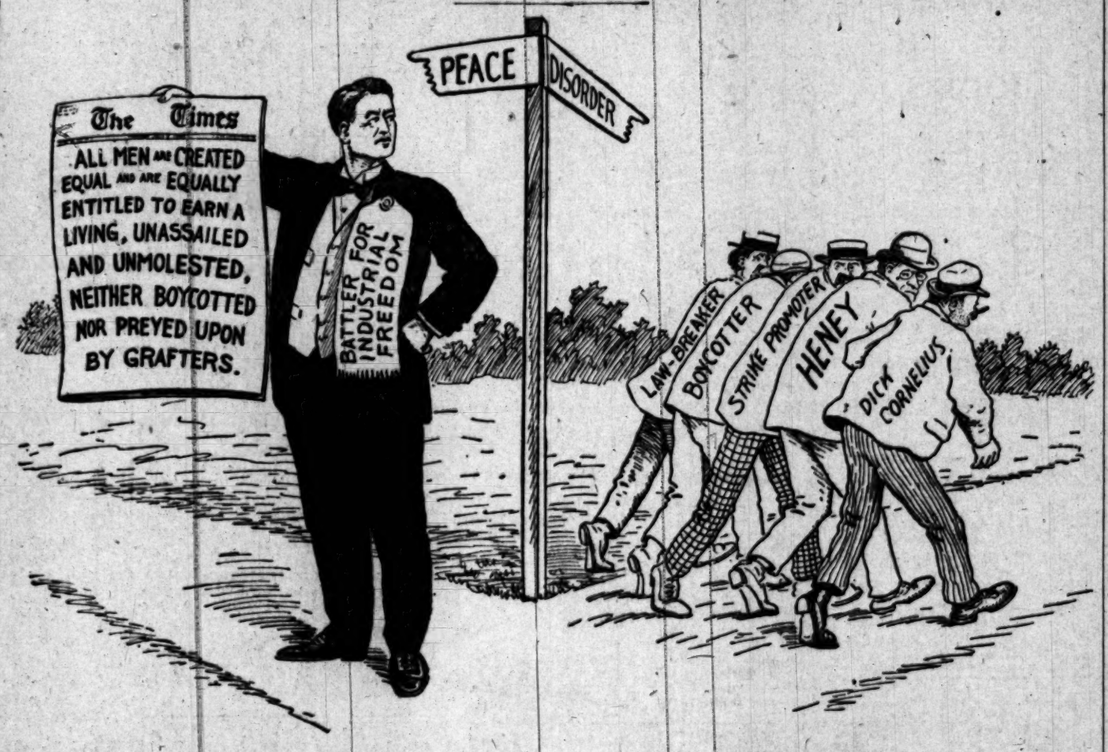
Calhoun should have been aided, not hindered, in his struggle for industrial peace. This is the greatest issue before the country today—whether every citizen is to pursue, undisturbed and unhampered, any lawful occupation of his choice in a lawful way, and is to be protected in that right by the whole power of the State and of the nation if need be.

Calhoun was on the right side of this overshadowing struggle. Spreckels and Heney deliberately chose the wrong side and did incalculable injury to a righteous cause. On this issue, and on this issue alone, The Times sided with Calhoun—not, as the News correspondent recklessly asserts, because of its sympathy with corporation interests, but because it is fighting today, as it has been fighting for seventeen years, for the independent working men, for nine-tenths of all the country's workers—and against the intolerance, proscription, tyranny and crimes of the labor-union agitators and criminals—a small minority with whom Spreckels and Heney joined hands.

Heney whines that The Times turned its fire against the graft prosecution when Calhoun was threatened. The guns of The Times always have been and always will be directed against the enemies of social and industrial order, and Heney and Spreckels have seen fit to get into the line of fire. Had they kept on the right side, they would not have been hit. If Calhoun is proven guilty he will get hit, too.

Without vindictiveness toward Rockefeller as an individual, it can be said truly that his incarceration in a penitentiary would do more than anything else possibly could to strengthen confidence in and admiration of the American form of government by the people. If wealth gives immunity from the restraints of law, our government is not yet a suc—

THE PARTING OF THE WAYS.



AN IMBECILE NOTION.

The feeble-minded Express thinks The Times is chief of sinners and ete eternally damned because it employs an able opponent of wholesale public ownership to write articles in support of the contention of The Times that wholesale public ownership is a danger and a delusion. Editor Earl, with his remarkable journalistic perspicacity, deems it strange that The Times does not secure a zealous advocate of general and promiscuous public trading to present its arguments against this folly.

Strange, indeed, and sad, eh? It is as strange and as sad to contemplate as this—that when a business man, who is fighting bloody-minded boycotters, strike-promoters and labor-union agitators, desires to instil right principles in a community and to circulate a newspaper preaching the gospel of law and order and industrial freedom, he should buy a large number of copies of The Times. So strange and so extraordinary, forsooth, that he should select The Times to present this gospel, instead of the Express or some other yellow-dog newspaper!

And more sadness! The Times regrets to say that it never sold to any one subscriber $15,000 worth of papers. The largest amount The Times ever received from any one subscriber is but a small fraction of this sum—the unveracious Mr. Heney to the contrary notwithstanding. But The Times needs not to make apology for this legitimate transaction, whether the amount involved were the larger amount or the smaller amount in question.

GAMBLERS' LOSSES.

Gentle reader, how much of that $2,000,000,000 slump in stocks did you lose? What a slashing into millionaire wealth has taken place in six months! The "big financiers" are $1,971,496,550 poorer than they were last New Year's Day. Poor fellows! Wonder how they are paying their regular bills and buying their big, black cigars. They may be compelled to forego a visit to Atlantic City or Newport this summer. They may have to discharge the cook and the chauffeur, and let their wives do the housework while they lie on their backs and see what has gone wrong under the big buzz wagons.

About one-third of all this loss of wealth is in industrial stocks and two-thirds in railroad shares. What has happened to the mills and roads? Are the factories closed down, and has the Interstate Commerce Commission forbidden the roads to run, or compelled them to carry freight and passengers free? Oh, no; that is not the difficulty. The mills are all working overtime and have orders on their books for a year to come. The railroads have more hauling than they can do, and more passengers than they can kill, and rates are fairly satisfactory. The factories are all sending out big checks to pay dividends these early July days, and the railroad reports show bigger figures than ever before in the "gross" and "net" columns. They will all "cut melons" as big as hogsheads and as juicy as a California peach. There has not a loose brick fallen off the factory walls nor has a shingle blown off their roofs. The railroads are longer than ever before, in better condition, and have more rolling stock and motive power.

Do you not understand? It is not about factories or railroads that the "bulls and bears" gore each other and trample on each other. The gentlemen who exercise their lungs so lustily in the "pit" know nothing about industries. They are more nearly akin to "Poker" Davis and three-card monte men. They simply get together twice a day, guess on what all the others will do tomorrow or next day, and then "back their opinions" with a good, big bet. That is all. If on the given day when the "put" becomes putable, or the "call" becomes callable, there are more "bulls" than "bears" in the "pit," stocks go up, but if the "bears" are more in number than the "bulls," stocks "take a tumble." When the "bulls" toss the stocks to the skies, the value of the stocks figure up large, and when the "bears" trample the securities into the mire, then the values go down, down.

Recently the "bears" have been an army, and the poor "bulls" have all gone to batten on alfalfa pastures, to forswear porterhouse steaks, "hot birds" and "cold bots."

The discomfiture of the "bulls" who "have another guess coming" and the triumph of the "bears" is measured by $2,000,000,000—all on paper, not in the banks.

COMPASSION FOR AFFLICTION.

Judging from all accounts the State of Texas has a difficult task to protect healthy inhabitants from contracting consumption from the great number of persons afflicted with this terrible disease who go there to seek climatic relief. Texas probably gets a much larger influx of consumptives from the North than California. The Lone Star State is nearer and the cost of traveling to that point is much less than that of crossing the continent to the Pacific Coast.

Now conceding the gravity of the situation, recognising the right of the healthful to be protected as far as possible from the danger of infection, there is still something further to consider. The State of Texas has taken very drastic measures to safeguard the well people of the State against this disease. The process is summary. In the case of persons of means, there is relief. They can return to their former homes. They can probably go into isolated districts in Texas or west of that State and remain unmolested. But in the case of the destitute, the refusal of the State of Texas to tolerate their presence, under any possible circumstances, often works great hardship.

After all, there is more in life than in living. Wolves turn upon the wounded of their own kind and destroy them. Animals wild and domesticated leave the afflicted to die, as a general rule. Barbarism pursues the same course with the sick, wounded, and aged, but civilization is supposed to have raised the plane of the brute creation above the status of barbarism. No human being ever gave his attention, his means or his care to a less fortunate fellow-being in vain. The faithful nurse, the giver of alms, the bestower of sympathy, in every instance where these things are rightly bestowed, gains a great deal more than he gives. A life well spent with a character well developed, if the end comes at two score years, is in every way superior to one that may stretch to twice that span and spend all its cares and energies upon itself. The development of human affections and of human sympathies is vastly more valuable to the individual and to the race than mere length of years.

The well, the able, the prosperous can all afford to deal graciously with the incapable, the sick, the afflicted and unprosperous of every type and kind. The struggle for life, for mastery, for supremacy, is in any case an exceedingly strenuous one, calling for tireless energy and ceaseless effort. Supposing the whole mass of human kind composed of persons in good health, all in the full vigor of life, all possessed of mental ability as well as physical strength, how much sharper would be the competition, how much harder mastery and supremacy would come to any one of us!

The well people in any community can protect themselves from infection and contagion by means less drastic than those taken by the State of Texas. Undoubtedly every safeguard should be thrown around the well to preserve them from the danger of contracting consumption. In the case of public institutions, it is wise and proper to isolate persons afflicted with this and kindred diseases. Texas is a great commonwealth. It is a prosperous and rich community. The tax to take care of consumptives and other afflicted and destitute persons would not be very great.

There are two sides to even the Schenck case.

PEOPLE OF THE COAST.

Mrs. Frances Hughes of West Berkeley recently found in George Asbury of San Rafael a brother whom she had not seen since childhood. For twenty years Asbury had searched for his sister in vain. She is now 73 years old while he is 58.

Mrs. Anhie Brakeman of San Diego has received information of a $10,000 legacy from an uncle, Angus MacKensie of Scotland, who recently died. Mrs. Brakeman had never seen her great uncle although always having understood that she was to be named in his will.

Three State University men, Andrew Fairchild Sherman, a graduate of the mining college, Henry V. S. Hubbard of the college of mechanics, and C. B. Crossfield, recently shipped as members of the crew of the transport Thomas for a trip to Manila and a several months' tour in the Orient.

J. R. Glascock, former Mayor of Oakland, has made the first ascent of the season of the Matterhorn. The reports from Switzerland say there was a friendly race between Glascock and a Swiss named Nudin for the honor of being the first to reach the top. Glascock beat his rival by five minutes.

Sam E. Evans, editor of the Fresno Tribune, has announced his engagement to Miss Margaret Babcock of Fresno, whom he met after the San Francisco disaster. A biscuit she sent to the relief camp with her name on it fell into the journalist's hands, and their acquaintance resulted. Evans wrote to the pretty cook and an answer was jokingly returned.

After a strange lapse of memory covering a period of four years, during which he lived and acted as another man with no recollections of his past, W. W. Tingle has ended an involuntary Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde existence in Portland, Or., by writing to his wife and children at Woodburn, Or., from Modesto, Cal., that he is coming home as fast as trains can bring him. Recollection suddenly leaped upon him and he remembered he had been working on a ranch near Modesto.

STORIES OF CHILDREN.

What Causes the Dew.

A government inspector had been visiting a large grammar school in the north of France. He asked, among other things, what was the cause of the dew. Nobody could give an answer. At last one of the pupils got up and said:

"The earth turns round its axis once in twenty-four hours, with such rapidity that it perspires, and thus the dew is formed."—[Exchange.

Chance to Keep Her Word.

"Mamma, what would you do if that big vase in the parlor should get broken?" said Tommy.

"I should thrash whoever did it," said Mrs. Banks, gazing seriously at her little son.

"Well, then, you'd better begin to get up your muscle," said Tommy, gleefully, "'cos father's broken it."—[Tit-Bits.

His Own Spelling.

In these days of individualism in thought and action the balance of decision tips more and more toward the personal. Even in the matter of spelling the ego asserts itself in the face of tradition and history. "Bobby," in Tit-Bits, is not the only person who constitutes himself the final court of appeal in the realm of orthography.

"So you go to school, do you, Bobby?" asked the minister.

"Yes, sir," answered Bobby.

"Let me hear how you spell 'bread.'"

"The dictionary spells it with an 'a,' Bobby."

"Yes, sir; but you didn't ask me how the dictionary spells it; you asked me how I spell it."

The Difference.

"Tommy, when I tell you something is wrong you do not do it?"

"No, sir."

"But when your conscience tells you a thing is wrong you keep right on and do it?"

"Yes, sir."

"But doesn't your conscience hurt you when you do something wrong?"

"Yes, sir; but not in the same place you do."—[Houston Post.

Changed His Spot.

Teacher: Can the leopard change his spots? Now, Tommy, answer me.

Tommy: Yes, sir; he can.

Teacher: Nonsense. How can he?

Tommy: Well, sir, when he's tired of sitting in one spot he can change to another, can't he, sir?—[Winnipeg Telegram.

MEN AND THINGS OVER THE SEAS.

Fire Worshipers in London.

A mysterious sect of fire or sun worshippers is reported in London. At Balham, a suburb of South London, they have a place of worship and are known as the Faithist Community. When engaged in their ceremonies all the light of day is shut out, and they bow low before a little oil lamp as representative of the sun. Their ordinary days of worship are Sundays and Mondays. Their rites are said to follow closely the lines of worship of the Parsees, a race which some sixteen or seventeen hundred years ago was driven from Persia to seek a home on the western shores of India. They worship fire and light and are directing their praise naturally to the sun as the greatest emblem of fire and light. Their shrine is the little oil lamp referred to, which is carefully watched and never allowed to go out. The members of the community are not foreigners but are well-educated apparently intelligent people.

London Is Overbuilt.

Real estate owners in London are suffering because of the poor demand for houses. Building operations are practically at a standstill because of the overbuilding that has been going on for a number of years. There are districts in south, southwest and southeast London where there are whole streets of empty houses. In the west end also, millions of dollars are standing idle in the form of untenanted houses. Under the circumstances there is much suffering among the building laborers for whom there is practically no work.

Justice Is a Man, Says the Kaiser.

In the designing of four statues to stand at the door of the Hohensollern chapel of the new Berlin Cathedral the Kaiser decided against the representation of Justice as a blindfold woman, saying that "Justice is feminine, not a masculine quality." The four statues will represent Courage, Wisdom, Justice and Moderation.

Opposes Lifting of Hats.

The funniest crusade apparently is that inaugurated by Count Johann von Harrach, one of the leaders of Austrian high society, and the husband of Princess Maria Theresa of Thurn and Taxis, against the modern method of salutation by taking off the hat. "It is a practice," he says, "which is unhygienic and very bad for hats, while the number of colds and cases of influenza due to this pernicious habit are legion." The Count takes a dig at America, where, he says, the hat saultation has grown to be a fetish. It always makes him laugh to see how an American uncovers in the presence of a lady utterly oblivious to draughts, and the next day's bad cold.

HOROSCOPE FOR THIS DAY,

Friday, July 5, 1907.

BY COLETTE.

"When the sun passes noon, push thy affairs; A happy augury each planet bears."

This is the 186th day of the year, moon's age 25 days, Mars morning star. The earth is in aphelion today.

A good day in every way, especially in the afternoon. Push all your most important business as soon as the sun has passed the meridian, but do not hesitate to push it in the morning if opportunity serves. All hours are almost equally favorable. An excellent day for buying; a promising day for speculation.

At nine o'clock this morning gather herbs; moonwort, saxifrage, arrowhead and wintergreen; and at 15 minutes after midnight tonight aloes, capers, coriander, horseradish, mustard and wormwood will be at their best. Those whose birth date this is must be careful of their health this year. They must avoid quarrels and lawsuits. They will meet with exceptional success in business and their money will increase correspondingly. Those in employment will be promoted.

The child born today will have an extraordinarily high spirit and be very difficult to control. It will be wonderfully successful either in business for itself or in employment. If a girl, she will marry an exceptionally affably-minded man.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

Interest in Maude Adams's approach to Los Angeles heightens a credible report as to her plans next season.

Miss Adams has not given the news to the public, but it is said that she will assume another boy's part. She will begin her season in October at the Empire Theater as Prince Charming in Zamacois's poetic drama, "Les Buffons." The piece has been recently played at the Theater Bernhardt, in Paris, with Mme. Sarah in the title role.

All the theaters of Los Angeles suffered from the intense heat yesterday. Each gave two performances, but at most of the houses the attendance was light.

The British Admiralty has removed the ban from the Mikado music, and the naval bands have been notified that they may play it again.

Lord Althorpe, the present Lord Chamberlain, receives $10,000 a year, and his dramatic censor, or examiner of plays, George A. Redford, about $4000. The present censor held the post for several years with the Earl of Clarendon, when that peer was Lord Chamberlain.

The institution has been fiercely attacked ever since it was established, according to a writer in Harper's Weekly. The late examiner of plays, E. F. Smyth Pigott, was contemptuously referred to by playwrights and critics as a "walking compendium of insular prejudice."

"I have studied all Ibsen's plays pretty carefully," this censor used to say, "and all his characters appear to me morally deranged. All the heroines are dissatisfied spinsters who look upon marriage as a monopoly; and as for the men, they are all rascals or imbeciles." Moreover, this remarkable critic declared he had licensed Ibsen's dramas simply because he thought them too absurd to do any harm.

For many years the British dramatic censor has been far from a brilliant personality. One critic described him as "a well-connected personality turned into the czar of the theater, and able to do things which no Prime Minister dare do." According to the official estimate of the Lord Chamberlain's office, in ninety-eight out of every hundred plays submitted, no question of morals is raised at all.

TRAVEL RECORD IS FRACTURED.

ELECTRIC LINES SWAMPED BY BREEZE SEEKERS.

Estimates Are That One-third of City's Population Go to Outside Points—Beaches Get Bulk of Traffic—Steam Roads Wake Up and Help—Crowds Well Handled.

Estimates would indicate that all of one-third of the population of Los Angeles went out of town yesterday. They traveled for the most part in electric cars, but the steam roads also were patronized extensively.

Accounts from various sources show that about 80,000 people spent Fourth of July at the beaches or at the mountains. Of this number about 70,000 traveled over the various electric lines and all records for one day's traffic were broken.

The scenes at the Pacific Electric building, at the Fourth-street station of the Los Angeles-Pacific, and at the Redondo station on West Second street, are not to be forgotten. Everybody seemed intent upon getting out of the city before the heat of the day and all started early.

So great were the crowds, thousands of individuals carrying lunch baskets, that the streets in the vicinity of the various stations were practically blocked to street traffic for hours. To meet this expected rush the railway companies had made every preparation and in spite of the strain the crowds were handled in masterful style.

From the Pacific Electric building cars were run every minute and the gates were opened only long enough to fill a car and then closed until the next car was ready. In this way the frightful crush experienced at Fourth street and on Second was avoided. By 10:30 o'clock in the morning the worst of the rush was over and the railway men had a chance to breathe.

It is the estimate that about 30,000 people rode to the various beach points over the Pacific Electric, the majority going to Long Beach. Over the Los Angeles Pacific lines about 15,000 went to the beaches. These cars were run upon a headway of two minutes, and every car was crowded. On the Redondo line cars were run every four minutes, and so great was the crowd that a number of the yellow Los Angeles Railway cars were impressed into service. About 5000 people went out over this line.

On the other hand, the mountains also called to an immense multitude, and the cars to foothill points were filled almost all day long. Over the Pacific Electric and Interurban lines at least 20,000 people paid their fare, with destination points from Covina on one side to Casa Verdugo on the other.

But it was not alone the beach and mountain lines which had a monopoly of the travel. Thousands went to the foothill and suburban districts for a day in the country or with friends by way of the Garvanza and Eagle Rock lines, the University and Monterey avenue lines, while the lines leading to the principal cemeteries were also crowded.

The steam roads, too, became energetic for a slice of the local traffic, and the Southern Pacific, Santa Fé and Salt Lake all ran extra trains to the beaches and wayside points, as well as to the hill towns, and it is estimated that these three lines carried about 10,000 passengers.

But while the carrying away of this army of people in the way it was come had little to criticise about it, the return of these people proved a harder nut to crack, and until after midnight tonight extra cars had to be run to accommodate those who could not get back earlier.

Well-Known School Teacher and Religious Worker Succumbs After Brief Illness.

Mrs. R. L. Louthian, one of the best-known teachers in the public schools of the city died yesterday morning just after midnight. She had been ill only since June 23, when she was taken with sudden seizure in Sunday school, where she worked with the same zest she displayed in the endeavor of public education.

She was the daughter of B. F. Conway, of No. 1031 Everett street, and in addition to her school work here, was widely known in San Bernardino county, where she taught for two years—which time is also the length of her

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

Interest in Maude Adams's approach to Los Angeles heightens a credible report as to her plans next season.

Miss Adams has not given the news to the public, but it is said that she will assume another boy's part. She will begin her season in October at the Empire Theater as Prince Charming in Zamacais's poetic drama, "Les Jeunes." The piece has been recently played at the Theater Bernhardt, in Paris, with Mme. Sarah in the title role.

All the theaters of Los Angeles suffered from the intense heat yesterday. Each gave two performances, but at most of the houses the attendance was light.

The British Admiralty has removed the ban from the Mikado music, and the naval bands have been notified that they may play it again.

Lord Althorpe, the present Lord Chamberlain, receives $10,000 a year, and his dramatic censor, or examiner of plays, George A. Redford, about $5000. The present censor held the post for several years with the Earl of Clarendon, when that peer was Lord Chamberlain.

The institution has been fiercely attacked ever since it was established, according to a writer in Harper's Weekly. The late examiner of plays, E. F. Smyth Pigott, was contemptuously referred to by playwrights and critics as a "walking compendium of popular prejudice."

"I have studied all Ibsen's plays pretty carefully," this censor used to say, "and all his characters appear to me morally deranged. All the heroines are dissatisfied spinsters who look upon marriage as a monopoly; and as for the men, they are all rascals or imbeciles." Moreover, this remarkable critic declared he had licensed Ibsen's dramas simply because he thought them too absurd to do any harm.

For many years the British dramatic censor has been far from a brilliant personality. One critic described him as "a well-connected personality turned into the czar of the theater, and able to do things which no Prime Minister can do." According to the official estimate of the Lord Chamberlain's office, in ninety-eight out of every hundred plays submitted, no question of morals is raised at all.

TRAVEL RECORD IS FRACTURED.

ELECTRIC LINES SWAMPED BY BREEZE SEEKERS.

Estimates Are That One-third of City's Population Go to Outside Points—Beaches Get Bulk of Traffic—Steam Roads Wake Up and Help—Crowds Well Handled.

Estimates would indicate that all of one-third of the population of Los Angeles went out of town yesterday. They traveled for the most part in electric cars, but the steam roads also was patronized extensively.

Counts from various sources show that about 80,000 people spent Fourth of July at the beaches or at the mountains. Of this number about 70,000 passed over the various electric lines and all records for one day's traffic were broken.

The scenes at the Pacific Electric building, at the Fourth-street station of the Los Angeles-Pacific, and at the Redondo station on West Second street, are not to be forgotten. Everybody seemed intent upon getting out of the city before the heat of the day and all started early.

So great were the crowds, thousands of individuals carrying lunch baskets, filled the streets in the vicinity of the various stations were practically locked to street traffic for hours. To meet this expected rush the railway companies had made every preparation and in spite of the strain the crowds were handled in masterful style.

From the Pacific Electric building cars were run every minute and the gates were opened only long enough to fill a car and then closed until the next car was ready. In this way the dreadful crush experienced at Fourth street and on Second was avoided. By 9:30 o'clock in the morning the worst of the rush was over and the railway men had a chance to breathe.

It is the estimate that about 30,000 people rode to the various beach points over the Pacific Electric, the majority going to Long Beach. Over the Los Angeles-Pacific lines about 15,000 went to the beaches. These cars were run upon a headway of two minutes, and every car was crowded. On the Redondo line cars were run every four minutes, and so great was the crowd that a number of the yellow cars of the Los Angeles Railway cars were impressed into service. About 5000 people went out over this line.

On the other hand, the mountains were called to an immense multitude, and the cars to foothill points were filled almost all day long. Over the Pacific Electric and Interurban lines at least 20,000 people paid their fare, with destination points from Covina on one side to Casa Verdugo on the other.

But it was not alone the beach and mountain lines which had a monopoly of the travel. Thousands went to the foothill and suburban districts for a day in the country or with friends by way of the Garvanza and Eagle Rock lines, the University and Monrovia avenue lines, while the lines leading to the principal cemeteries were also crowded.

The steam roads, too, became energized for a slice of the local traffic. The Southern Pacific, Santa Fé and Salt Lake all ran extra trains to the beaches and wayside points, as well as to the hill towns, and it is estimated that these three lines carried about 10,000 passengers.

And while the carrying away of this army of people in the way it was done had little to criticise about it, the return of these people proved a harder nut to crack, and until after midnight tonight extra cars had to be run to accommodate those who could not get back earlier.

MRS. LOUTHIAN PASSES.

Well-Known School Teacher and Religious Worker Succumbs After Brief Illness.

Mrs. R. L. Louthian, one of the best-known teachers in the public schools of the city died yesterday morning not after midnight. She had been ill ever since June 23, when she was taken with a sudden seizure in Sunday school, where she worked with the same zest she displayed in the endeavor of public station.

She was the daughter of B. F. Conway, of No. 1031 Everett street, and in addition to her school work here, was well known in San Bernardino county, where she taught for two years—which time is also the length of her local school work. She was a graduate of the State Normal School.

The funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon in Berean Hall, Auditorium Building, by Dr. Robert J. Burdette, pastor of the church in which she labored so faithfully.

The interment will be at Pasadena.

About Blankets

A woolen blanket is not necessarily all wool. Again, a blanket may be all wool, but not the kind of all-wool that sensitive people care to have. There are lots of "tricks in the trade" in the blanket business.

Now we want to say to you just as emphatically and unconditionally as possible that blankets sold by us and called all wool, are all wool, and that wool is thoroughly pure, honest, first-hand wool. We also sell to people who do not want a strictly all wool blanket some goods that have a cotton warp. These blankets have many good features to recommend them.

Of course, these good grades cost more than the poor grades, and we have to charge more for good blankets than other people charge for poor ones; but they are better worth our prices than the cheaper kinds are the lower prices.

And people who study the blanket question a little, invariably come to the conclusion that it is more economical to buy good blankets than the "brass jewelry" kind that cost half as much and wear only a quarter as long, and afford only a quarter of the warmth and style.

Now, during this sale we have simply cut profits on these first-class blankets; we haven't secured any second grades or job lots to sell to the unwary; we make no mental reservations whatever; we simply honestly advise you to secure liberal supplies now, before prices again go to normal.

Hardly necessary to add that it is one of our invariable rules that bedding taken out of the house over night positively will not be exchanged.

We've Los Angeles' agency for the best mattress made, the Ostermoor, sold here at factory prices.

NIGHT OF HELL IN HOT JAIL.

PRISONERS PACKED CLOSE IN STIFLING TANKS.

Conditions Worse Last Night Than They Had Ever Been Before in the City Bastole—Panting Like Dogs Inmates Piteously Beg for Water. Stench of Place Indescribable.

All calls in the history of Central Station were broken last night for holiday arrests, within eight hours.

Up to last night the record for wagon calls on a single shift of eight hours has been thirty-two calls. Last night John Mart, driver, received and answered thirty-eight calls within the time from 4 o'clock p.m. until midnight.

In the night the two gray horses used for heavy work gave out. The horses, Prince and Dick, have been long promised more easy work. It was necessary to change this team before the night was well begun and substitute a light team, calling Desk Sergeant Sam McKenzie, working on the same shift, booked sixty-two prisoners.

On July Fourth from midnight to midnight there were one hundred and two arrests.

Very few cases were sent to the Receiving Hospital but the entire staff was overtaxed and hampered by the inadequate quarters.

Patients in the Receiving Hospital were forced to sleep upon temporary cots erected by the side of beds of other patients. Odors from the stable beneath the hospital, which is annexed to the jail at Central Station, and stench from the overcrowded tanks in the jail stifled the patients in the hospital.

In the tanks of the jail the conditions were worse last night than they ever have been before, according to police officials. Accompanied by a newspaper reporter, the officer led the way through the tanks. Panting like dogs and with bulging eyes the prisoners clung to the bars of the tanks begging for water. Trusties were kept busy all night furnishing these men with water to cool themselves and quench their thirst. The stench was indescribable despite the effort made to keep the jail clean.

FIREWORKS MAKE TROUBLE.

Among those arrested at Central Station for discharging fireworks in the downtown district was Ah Sing, an Americanized Chinaman. This Celestial walked along Broadway discharging firecrackers. An officer warned the Chinaman, but the latter claims he did not understand, and was sent to the Police Station. N. Cervera and G. M. Phillips were also taken into custody charged with discharging fireworks in the retail district. Both were shooting off fireworks on Main street. About midnight M. Wheeler, Frank Parker and W. C. Littler were arrested on the same charge.

ARRESTED AT PARK.

A discussion over the rental of boats in Eastlake Park last night caused the arrest of H. Richlin, A. Morris and A. Abrahamson on the charge of disturbing the peace. According to the police these men became involved in trouble over the boats while still upon the lake and refused to obey the order of a park officer. Later, when they arrived at the landing, they became demonstrative about the boats again and were arrested. The trio were accompanied by women who remained with them until they put up bail.

BEER BOTTLE SUBDUES.

George Mitchel attempted to force his way into a house at No. 601 South San Pedro street last night and, after several unsuccessful efforts to walk in peaceably, used force. He was rendered unconscious by being struck by a beer bottle. Mitchel, according to Newton Edwards, caused the occupants of the house considerable unrest during the evening. Mitchel was arrested on a charge of drunkenness.

SIX DEAD; 441 INJURED.

Fatalities and Accidents in Philadelphia Greater Than Last Year. Little Girls Victims of Rowdies.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The number of deaths and accidents resulting from Philadelphia's celebration of the Fourth of July is larger than last year. Throughout the city the number of deaths were six and the number of injured reported by the various hospitals aggregated 441, with twelve additional cases in the Camden hospitals.

Most of the accidents were due to fire crackers, and many of them were peculiar. With her dress aflame, 13-year-old Marie Hart ran down the street screaming last night. Policeman Andrew Schwart pursued her, caught her and stripped the burning dress from her body. She died at the hospital.

Laura Kapp, aged twelve years, set her dress afire while setting off firecrackers; she, too, was in the street when a piece of smouldering paper lodged in her dress. In an instant the garment blazed and the child ran up the street screaming, but by the time she was caught the flames had already done its work. She died in great agony.

Another little girl, aged ten years, named Anna Walsh lost her life by flames of a cracker thrown against her clothing by a passing young man. She ran into the house and when the child's mother discovered her she was a mass of flames. The dying girl was taken to the Polyclinic hospital, but the doctors could do nothing for her. She died shortly after her admission to the institution.

The most singular case is that of Anna Boyce. She picked up a cartridge which she thought was a piece of candy. She bit on it and the explosive went off, almost blowing the top of her head to pieces.

The tabulation of today's accidents is as follows:

Fireworks, 219; cannon, 32; firearms, 67; gunpowder, 153; toy pistols, 30.

FROM RIVER TO ALTAR.

Girl Aeronaut Narrowly Escapes Drowning After Ascension Just Before Wedding.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MIDDLETOWN (N. Y.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dropping thousands of feet from a balloon into the Wallkill River, from which she was soon rescued, Miss Maggie Daily, a female aeronaut, was united in marriage a few minutes later to C. Arthur Brockett, this afternoon, in the presence of more than 7000 persons.

The immense crowd had been attracted by the announcement that Miss Daily was to wed immediately after the ascension, and the day would mark her retirement from aeronautics. The ascension was one of the most successful ever witnessed in the State, and, when the young woman cut loose from the balloon, the spectators thought she would land near the starting point, but she swerved in her downward course, and landed in the river, enveloped by her parachute.

John McF. Anderson, aged 20, died at his home early this morning. He was suffering from nervousness and complained of noise. In his effort to get sleep he took an overdose of morphine.

Martin Byers, aged 20, was shot in back by an unidentified man.

Mildren Clifton, a one-year-old baby, of Alegheny, was struck by a skyrocket stick and her skull crushed.

CUBA SHOWS FRIENDSHIP.

FOURTH GENERALLY OBSERVED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HAVANA, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Havana's aspect today was like that of an American city. With fireworks and music, bands paraded through the streets, Cubans, Spaniards and Americans commemorating alike the Fourth of July.

The newspapers of all political colors are publishing articles full of sympathy for Americans. La Discusion says that the Americans set an example that Cubans should follow to learn self-government. Diario de la Marina declares that the United States is the only nation in history that has conquered without fire or sword.

PICNICKERS BADLY BURNED.

FIREWORKS EXPLODE ON CAR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHELSEA (Mass.) July 4.—Riding in a carriage to the river, a party of a dozen picnickers were suddenly lifted into the air by the explosion of a quantity of fireworks under the seat. A careless youth had dropped a lighted cigarette into the fireworks.

The seat was torn loose, and several of the party literally were lifted into the air. Harry McKenna, Guy A. Lee and Ruth Boyer are so severely burned that their condition is critical. Of the others, Cecil Boyer, Clyde Bozly, Daisy Kenny, Laura Hall and Tenny Squires all suffered severely.

KILLED TESTING A CANNON.

IOWA MAN'S THIGH SHATTERED.

DES MOINES (Iowa) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In order to test a cannon which he had constructed out of gas pipe, Earl Davis, a prominent young business man, scraped dynamite from caps this morning and tried to ram the explosive into the cannon. The pipe exploded, completely shattering the man's right thigh, resulting in death shortly after removal to the hospital.

Seattle Japs Celebrate.

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Aside from small events in two suburbs, the only Fourth of July celebration held in Seattle today was that of the Japanese association and the officers of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha. They gave an elaborate day and night fireworks display from Queen Anne Hill, the most exclusive residence district in Seattle. R. A. Ballinger, Commissioner of the General Land Office, who is here on a vacation, was the principal American speaker.

Mayor's Brother-in-Law Burned.

CINCINNATI (O.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James O'Leary, a brother-in-law of Mayor Dempsey, was bending over a giant firecracker which had been lighted, trying to find out just why it had not exploded. He was badly burned about the head and face and his eyesight may be seriously injured.

OIL KING OFF, OBEYING COURT.

ROCKEFELLER STARTS FOR CHICAGO TO TESTIFY.

Service of Summons on Head of Standard Was Not Work of Clever Country Marshal, but Resulted from Advice Given Billionaire by His Attorneys.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSFIELD (Mass.) [Exclusive Dispatch.] John D. Rockefeller left Pittsfield tonight for Chicago where on Saturday he will be interrogated in the Federal Court regarding the affairs of the Standard Oil Company.

Preparations have been made to receive Mr. Rockefeller at the home of Harold F. McCormick in Lake Forest, where, it is expected, the oil king will be entertained while awaiting the pleasure of Judge Landis.

He will be protected from cranks by his bodyguard, city detectives and deputy marshals. No one will be admitted to the courtroom except those who can show good cause for their presence there.

Service of the Chicago summons on Mr. Rockefeller, at the home of his son-in-law, E. Parmalee Prentice, yesterday, proves to have been not the result of United States Marshal Frink's cleverness but rather the result of an arrangement made by Mr. Rockefeller himself.

After the morning call of Marshals Ruhl and Frink, when Mr. Prentice successfully bluffed the officers, there was a consultation at the Prentice home. As a result, long distance telephone conferences were held with the Standard Oil attorneys in New York.

They strongly advised Mr. Rockefeller to accept service and pointed out that the hiding game was simply aggravating matters and must be defeated in the end.

Frink, who had returned to his home in North Adams, was then telephoned and the Prentice carriage was sent to the station to meet him. The vehicle missed him and Frink hired a buggy at a livery, drove to Taconic Farm, and found Mr. Rockefeller awaiting him.

It appears that Mr. Rockefeller wired yesterday to the court that he would appear without the service of a subpoena, but as the judge had left Chicago for the Fourth, the message was delayed in reaching him and not receiving a reply Mr. Rockefeller telephoned for Frink.

HOD CARRIER MURDERED.

San Francisco Police Puzzled Over Death of Man With Skull Crushed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—The police are puzzled over the death of James Flaherty, a hod carrier, who was found this morning badly beaten with his skull crushed and clothing torn. He died two hours later at the City and County Hospital.

The man was identified by a union card in one of his pockets. There was also a poll tax receipt from Los Angeles bearing the name T. Riley. As there was $4.20 in his pockets, the robbery theory is not seriously considered.

ALIENIST'S MIND UNBALANCED.

CINCINNATI (O.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. H. A. Tobey, one of the country's greatest alienists, who is an expert on mental diseases and insanity and for many years head of the State asylum at Toledo, will be brought to Longview Hospital here for treatment. Arrangements are now being made for his transfer from Toledo, advices from which point state that Dr. Tobey was admitted to the hospital in that city last week and that the affidavit of his unbalanced mental condition was declared entirely valid by Probate Judge Merrill. Dr. Tobey originated the cottage plan for insane hospitals. Since the death of his wife, four years ago, his mind has been weakening.

BAN PUT ON CHEWING GUM.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Ocean Grove, N. J., now prohibits the sale of chewing gum within the city limits. The ban on chewing gum has just come to light through the action of Dr. A. R. Ballard, head of the Camp Meeting Association, in restraining its sale at the news-stand just opened in the old Well Hotel. There has been a ban on tobacco at Ocean Grove, but chewing gum has always been sold there until now.

"ADAM AND EVE POSTALS.

Wife of La Porte City, Ia., Pastor Brings Defamation Suit Against Woman of Town.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WATERLOO (Iowa) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The ordinarily peaceful little community of La Porte City is in the throes of a burning sensation over a slander suit in which Mrs. J. W. Hamilton, wife of the pastor of the Evangelical Church, brings suit for damage for defamation of character against Mrs. Nellie Frank, whom she charges with flooding of the mails with postal cards, of the picture variety, in which plaintiff's name is written under a woman in scanty attire plucking apples from a tree and giving them to a man, the same being intended as a representation of the story of Adam and Eve in the garden of Eden, and the fall of man through the eating of forbidden fruit.

While her husband preaches, Mrs. Hamilton operates a dressmaking parlor and on Sundays superintends the Sunday-school in her husband's church. In her petition, Mrs. Hamilton alleges that these postal card representations have injured her business and caused an investigation on the part of the church authorities.

The defendant denies having circulated the picture postal cards and challenges the plaintiff to have the Federal authorities make an investigation. The Hamiltons are very popular and are at the head of an influential church. The petition was filed in the District Court here yesterday evening.

COMES OUT FOR PROHIBITION.

Texas Local Option Association Changes Its Attitude on Entire Subject of Liquor Traffic.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DALLAS (Tex.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Texas Local Option Association held its annual meeting in Dallas today. There was a large attendance of members. The association has for years vigorously fought for county local option on the liquor traffice and has as vigorously opposed State prohibition.

The meeting today, however was productive of sentiments to the reverse, and the association practically about faced on the liquor issue. A resolution was adopted, in substance, that the liquor men fight all laws to regulate the traffic and violate local option where adopted, and that it now has become necessary for the opponents of the liquor traffic to organize so as to early drive the sale of liquor absolutely from the State.

This resolution is interpreted to mean that the recent rumors of a campaign next year for prohibition amendments to the State Constitution is about to assume the form of reality.

Mark Twain Says Report of His Engagement to Wed His Stenographer Is Without Foundation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When the report that Mark Twain was engaged to marry his secretary, Miss Ivilon, was mentioned by your correspondent to Mr. Clemens, upon his return to his hotel tonight, he was speechless. Then he went to his desk, and, after a moment's thought, wrote out the following:

"I have not known and shall never know any one who could fill the place of the wife I have lost. I shall not marry again. S. L. Clemens."

LOSES IN RACE WITH CUPID.

Suitor Who Staked His Hops of Winning Girl on Horse Finds Animal's Slowness Costs Him Bride.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BELLEVILLE (Ill.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Cupid Stakes were run at Priester's Park this afternoon and the race, which was to decide whether Frank Grimes of St. Louis was to win Miss Mabel Burs for a bride, was lost by Grimes.

His horse, Bobby G, driven by his father, R. G. Grimes, in the free-for-all pace or trot did not even win one heat.

Miss Burs, who made an agreement to wed Grimes in front of the Priester's Park grand stand if her friend won, did not attend the races.

Two months ago Miss Burs and Grimes entered into an agreement by which she bound herself to marry Grimes if his horse was the winner on July 4. If Grimes's horse was not the victor he was to forego his claim to the heart and hand of Miss Burs.

Gov. Stokes Sends Envoy to Europe to Investigate Effect of Abolition of Capital Punishment.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TRENTON (N. J.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] State Senator Ernest D. Ackerman, who will go to Europe in a few weeks, has been given a commission by Gov. Stokes to investigate the effect on the continent of capital punishment as a deterrent of crime.

The New Jersey executive is greatly interested in the abolition of the death penalty. He says he would favor capital punishment being done away with if he could satisfy himself that such a course would not provoke crime.

The State Department at Washington has supplied Mr. Ackerman with letters to facilitate his getting information from the different governments. He will make an exhaustive study of the subject and report to Gov. Stokes.

As the Senator is one of the most thorough and painstaking members of the Senate it is anticipated that his report will throw much light on the question of the abolition of capital punishment.

HAZEL DOLLAR WRECKED.

VICTORIA (B. C.) July 4.—The steamer reported disabled off the Vancouver Island coast is believed to be the steamer Hazel Dollar.

She was ten miles distant from Carmanah Point at 2:30 o'clock p.m. The lighthouse keeper there reported at that time that she has a letter "S" on the funnel.

The Hazel Dollar is due from San Francisco with eight tons of sulphur shipped at Hakodate for this port. She has the "S" sign on her smokestack.

The letter carriers of the Rocky Mountain region held their annual convention in Colorado Springs yesterday. Delegates from Wyoming, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona are present.

NOW LOOKS LIKE MURDER.

Wounds on Body of Mrs. Annie S. Studley Cause Officials to Abandon Suicide Theory.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALEM DEPOT (N. H.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the discovery of new evidence, the officials are confident that Mrs. Annie S. Studley, daughter of a wealthy Boston fireworks manufacturer, whose body was found floating in Canobie Lake last Tuesday, did not commit suicide, but was murdered. The woman's face was cut and her forehead bore a wound which the autopsy revealed caused death before she was thrown into the water. It was also determined that she was not drowned, because her lungs did not contain water.

High Sheriff Marcus M. Collins, who until today believed that Mrs. Studley committed suicide, has already found evidence which makes him very anxious to find a man who was with her Monday night when she left the Rockingham Hotel at Salem for South Windham. A hostler has been found who says he heard a woman scream last Monday near where the body was found, and he says he saw a man run from the scene and disappear in the woods.

Driven Desperate by Lack of Money Respected Sunday-school Worker Robs Man.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TRENTIN (N. J.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mis sMay Prior, a young woman prominent in Sunday-school circles, has been taken on requisition served by Pennsylvania authorities to the Doylestown, Pa., County Jail to awkait trial on a charge of having robbed George Van Nellis of this city. Clifford Watson, who, it is charged, assisted Miss Prior in the robbery, was also extradited to Doylestown.

Miss Prior has confessed to planning the robbery of Van Nellis. The latter went from this city at night across the Delaware River to Morrisville, Pa., and there while he was walking along a lonely road, Watson knocked him down with a club and the Prior girl rifled his pockets of $50 in money and other valuables. Van Nellis recovered consciousness within a few minutes and followed the couple to this city, where he caused their arrest.

Miss Prior, in her confession, said she was solely to blame. She declared she was about to be put out of her boarding house for non-payment of board, an dshe was reduced to desperate circumstances. She is of a highly respected family, but has not been living at home. For some years she has been an enthusiastic Sunday-school worker.

SOUTHWEST'S PROSPERITY.

Epes Randolph Finds Great Activity Afield.

Rail Traffic Unprecedented, Mineral Progress.

Says San Francisco "Bird" Scares Bankers.

Col. Epes Randolph's home address is Tucson, but he really hails from every part of the Great Southwest, where things are being done, and he actually resides in a Pullman car that may be anywhere between the Pacific Ocean and the Rio Grande. For a few days Col. Randolph has been in Los Angeles, conferring with men associated with him in various enterprises of improvement in California, Arizona and Mexico, especially with the engineers of the California Development Company, concerning the work in Imperial Valley that is to follow the successful effort to control the Colorado River.

Col. Randolph is satisfied that the protective works at the Lower Heading and the levee down the Paredones, having stood the test of a great June rise, are entirely secure and justify the confidence felt by the Imperial settlers in the safety of their irrigation system.

"We are building a large flume across the gorge cut by the runaway river," said Col. Randolph yesterday, "and will be able soon to deliver water to that part of the valley which was cut off from the canals. Engineers Cory and Herrman are making careful surveys for a complete and substantial system of irrigation works for the valley, and I hear reports of activity and improved business conditions throughout the Imperial country.

"In fact, there is activity everywhere in the Southwest. The railroads are doing 25 per cent. more business than ever before, and they are going ahead with extensions and improvements. Down in Sonora we have extended the railway 140 miles out from Guaymas through the Yaqui Valley, and are pushing southward toward the Rio Maya to open up a stretch of 500 miles of splendid agricultural and mineral territory.

"Northern Mexico is humming with enterprise and prosperity, and the mountains are full of American prospectors, who will open up the best mineral region in the world. Arizona is busy as a beehive, and her mines will produce 40 per cent. more metal this year than ever before. I have heard from Thomas F. Cole that the Cananea Central Copper Company is preparing to double the capacity of its plant, and new smelters are being built at many points in Arizona to handle the tremendous increase in product of the mines."

The mention of the Cole properties recalled the fact that there is a suit pending between Col. Randolph and his former partner, Lindsay, over stock of the Cananea Central, and in reply to questions on that subject, Col. Randolph explained that the issue is strictly between Lindsay and himself, and does not involve Mr. Cole or the Cananea Central Company. The Cole interests are only technically a party to the litigation as holders of the stock, which will be delivered in accordance with judgment of court.

"In view of the unabated activity and prosperity evident everywhere," continued Col. Randolph, "it is rather strange to hear talk in Los Angeles of tight money and a falling off of business. I don't hear that talk in Arizona or Mexico, and I see no reason for timidity here. I am inclined to think there is too much of that sort of talk. There is no occasion for pessimism about the business outlook, and there is no lack of money in the country. The miners, farmers and railroads are all busy and prosperous, and this country is adding $200,000,000 in gold to the money in circulation every year from its mines.

"Down South the old darkies think they will die if they hear the 'devil bird,' which is the screech owl, and when the owl screeches they get scared to death. I think the Los Angeles bankers have heard the devil bird' up in San Francisco, and are scared needlessly. The only tightness in money is what they make."

MURPHY MEMORIAL.

Announcement of Public Movement to Be Made at Auditorium Service Sunday Afternoon.

Several persons proposed a public memorial to Francis Murphy, before his body had been laid in the tomb, and already two ideas have been expressed as to what form it should take. One is that it should be a statue of himself, Bible in hand, standing by his grave in the cemetery, where it would prove a talisman to many a poor wayfarer, who would go there and on bended knee sign the pledge of total abstinence. Another is that it should be in the form of a fountain at some central point in Los Angeles.

Arthur Letts, president of the Y.M.C.A., will preside at the memorial service in Temple Auditorium, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and will make some announcement on the subject and probably call a meeting of citizens to take concerted action. Other plans suggested will await the result of Sunday's memorial service, as that is the appropriate place to launch the movement, which must start firmly in public confidence. Even with the universal popularity of the great departed leader, the movement cannot otherwise adequately succeed.

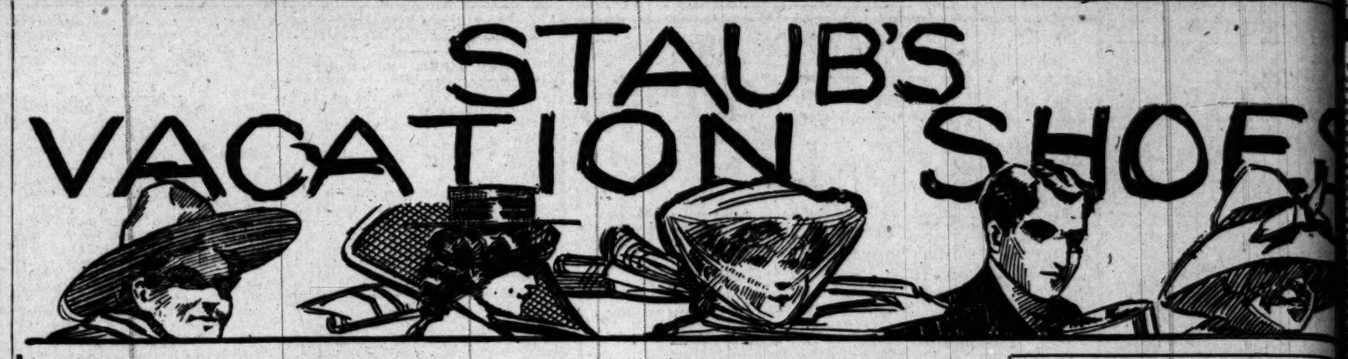
STAUB'S VACATION SHOES



OFF FOR AN ENJOYABLE VACATION IN THE MOUNTAINS—at the beach—or in the country—plans all laid—but what about your vacation footwear? If you are going to climb mountains you will surely need a pair of high-top tramping boots to protect you against cruel shrubbery and perhaps reptiles. If you are going horseback riding, riding-boots or puttee leggings will be a necessity. For wear at the beach and in the mountains you'll want a pair of cool, comfortable buckskin shoes, soft and light on the feet, and for wading you will want sandals for yourself and the children.

Then there will be the dances and social events to attend, and pumps and oxfords will be right in order, or for the promenade you will perhaps need a pair of white shoes or oxfords to go with your outing suit, or a pair of tans, or, if you prefer, black.

Then there is tennis, golf and fishing, and a host of other pastimes to consider, each of which will demand some special footwear. Doesn't matter what you want—if its vacation footwear for man, woman or child you can get it at Staub's and get it RIGHT.

When you are down town take a glance at our vacation shoe window.

BROWN MEN CELEBRATE.

Japanese Christian Alliance Holds Picnic at Mineral Park With Speeches and Sports.

In a shady nook in Mineral Park, decked with the Stars and Stripes, the flag of the rising sun and red lantern, the Japanese Christian Alliance held its annual picnic yesterday afternoon in commemoration of the Fourth of July. Patriotic songs, "The Star Spangled Banner" and "My Country 'Tis of Thee," were sung in English, and the celebration lacked Americanism in the absence of fireworks and enthusiasm. Three hundred Japanese were present. Following an address by Rev. T. Inazawa of the Presbyterian church, which was the feature of the program, there were athletic sports, and refreshments were served during the celebration.

The Japanese, who celebrated are members of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregationalist missions. Rev. T. Inazawa spoke on the "Value of Christian Unity." He declared that Japan is becoming a Christian nation. Christianity has taught the world the common fatherhood of God and the common brotherhood of man. Japan has awakened from heathenism and exchanged her half-civilized gown for a newly-cut garment. Japan is being closely associated with the United States and other countries. I am happy to see the beautiful emblem, the Stars and Stripes and our rising sun, crossed this day in commemoration of the birthday of the great American republic. We should on this occasion express great appreciation for the liberty we Japanese people enjoy. Our isolation for so long has been detrimental to our country. Isolation means blind hospitality. It is the civilizing forces that will put the monster of isolation and the Christian sympathy and warm hearted spirit of good-fellowship."

Komura of the Methodist church took up Inazawa's point and carried it on further. S. Takemura read from the Scriptures in Japanese. The reading was followed by prayer offered in English by T. Haski.

HEROES SHINE IN FIRE RUN.

BRAVE ACTS OF LADDIES ON PASADENA CALL.

Driver, Hurled Far from Seat, Retains Presence of Mind to Shout Precautions to Save Others from Injury—Millionaire in Peril by the Flames Sweeping Over Ranch.

Office of The Times, No. 26 South Raymond ave.

PASADENA, July 5.—Although it was only a tent fire, Edward C. Abbot nearly lost his life last night, answering an alarm at No. 387½ South Hudson street. The fire occurred in a thick settlement of cottages through a skyrocket piercing the tent of Miss Dillon. All the fire apparatus responded, and the truck turned from Colorado into Center at breakneck speed.

About one-half mile down Center street various tree lovers have cherished a live oak, and to preseve it have built a curbing around the tree. The horses were racing like mad, when the forward wheels of the truck struck the curbing just beyond the point stretching up street. Abbot was hurled from his seat like a tennis ball from a racquet. He fell to the side and the rear wheels, swung out by the veering of the forward part of the machine, passed across his body. He called to grab the horses, and his comrade, Speare, jumped to the seat, secured the lines and brought the team to a halt at the site of the fire.

Following the truck was the heavy steamer, and Abbot was lying directly in its path. George Thompson, riding a motorcycle, saw the fall of the driver and prevented further injury to the already wounded man. So strong was Abbot's sense of duty that he struggled to his feet and staggered after the racing truck, and to those who heard him, his only remark was "what will that team do when it hits the crowd?" That several persons were not killed by the runaway team is due to the promptitude of Speare, who reduced the frantic horses to management.

Abbot was taken to the emergency hospital, and treated by Dr. McCoy. The extent of his injuries are not yet known. The truck passed across the soft part of his body, and the only thing the doctor could say last night was that no bones were broken. Abbot is able to walk, but it is not yet known whether he will be placed on the hospital list or not. The run, the grit shown, and all the circumstances make the case one of record.

IN PERIL BY FLAMES.

C. S. Campbell-Johnston, millionaire rancher and owner of the Campbell-Johnston ranch, was scorched in a hand-to-hand struggle with a brush fire that threatened not only to wipe up hundreds of acres of vineyard but to destroy the Campbell-Johnston winery. The fire was started by parties whose identity is known and it is probable that action for damages will be commenced by Mr. Campbell-Johnston within the next few days.

The flames were first seen about 11 o'clock yesterday morning eating their way through the brush to the right of the toll bridge across the arroyo. Mr. Campbell-Johnston went to head them off. He had a couple of shovelers at work in a few minutes, endeavoring to turn the flames back at the arroyo edge separating them from the winery. Despite the efforts of the shovelers the flames gained such headway that Mr. Campbell-Johnston pitched in with his coat as a reinforcement. He struggled mightily with the blaze but without avail. The fire ran through the underbrush, gained the side of the arroyo on which the winery stood and cut Mr. Campbell-Johnston off from retreat. He dropped hat and coat and ran for it, escaping with a severe singeing.

A second fire starting this evening from a rocket lighting in a field below the Annandale Golf Clubhouse, brought out a bevy of millionaire firefighters from the club to extinguish it. The fire was seen by persons from the opposite side of the arroyo and a telephone message put the golfers on their guard.

LIQUORS CONFISCATED.

A supply of liquor and speak-easy paraphernalia was confiscated by the police, and the proprietor of the blind pig arrested on the charge of selling intoxicating liquors in the city limits, in a raid conducted against the joint run by James A. Kruger at No. 152 North Fair Oaks avenue yesterday morning.

The confiscated drinkables included twenty-six dozen quarts of beer, four gallons of wine and two gallons of whisky. Two tables and six chairs used in the beer room were also taken into custody.

Kruger was given a chance to plead guilty before Police Judge McDonald, and in default of $200 bail was held over for hearing in Saturday morning's session.

Chief of Police Favour had previously given warning to Kruger to cease the dispensing of liquors, but the warning passed unheeded. The raid was led by Chief Favour, assisted by Sergt. Pierce and Officers Stegeman, Reese, Peck and Hayes.

BEER ROW—SHOT.

A row in which thirty-two Mexicans participated at Titleyville, near Lamanda Park, yesterday, resulted in the serious wounding of Ben Malenado, a young Mexican employed by the Lake Vineyard Water Company.

Malenado carries two gaping wounds caused by revolver bullets fired from a 44-caliber bulldog revolver by another Mexican, Juan Hernandez. One bullet penetrated the young Mexican's back and was taken from the muscles of the abdomen by Dr. Malaby at the Pasadena hospital. A second tore its way through the muscles of the right arm. There were four shots fired by Hernandez. Of the other two one went wild and the fourth clipped a hole through the coat of Mike Leon, Constable Newell brought Hernandez in and took him to the County Jail. The row started over a keg of beer made in one of the Los Angeles East Side breweries.

COUNTRY CLUB OPENS.

Reception and Banquet at Glendale in Honor of New Fine Home There.

GLENDALE, July 4.—The new home of the Country Club was opened with a public reception this afternoon. In the evening there was a banquet for club members and friends. The latter function was one of the most pretentious ever seen in this part of the valley.

Ground was broken on the corner of Brand boulevard and Third street for the Country Club House on February 8, the club property then comprising three lots, making a frontage on either street of 160 feet. Today, the handsome, mission style building, a one-story structure of twelve rooms with massive pillars of concrete, tinted a mission buff like the rest of the building formed a picture beautifully complete. It is surrounded with velvety lawns and winding drives, sloping terraces and parkways filled with palms, geraniums and pansies; with the lovely outlines of the mountains for a background.

The interior is finished in Oregon pine, mission style, and the floors are polished. The arrangement of lights is effective and unique, each forming a mission bell.

The building is well-windowed and has spacious verandas and a fine patio. A massive open fire-place of art tile is prominent in the large clubroom. The billiard-room is perhaps the most artistically finished, with open oak panels and sage green walls. The banquet room is a close rival, with oak trimmings, mission lights, art windows, and mission tables. The bath-rooms, kitchen, servants quarters are entirely up-to-date.

There are check-rooms, toilet-rooms, store-room, screen porch and everything needed for such an establishment. From the airy and quaint reception hall opens the ladies' parlor, done in white and gold and furnished in willow and birdseye maple. Not the least popular is the handsome mahogany finished refreshment-room, with furnishings and stock answering every requirement.

The architect for the building is Charles Shattuck. E. P. Merritt and Ezra F. Parker were in charge of the work.

L. C. Brand was toastmaster at the banquet this evening.

RIVALS OLDER ONES.

Huntington Park's Celebration of the Fourth Is Full of Enthusiasm.

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 4.—This city, one of California's youngest, rivalled some of the older ones in the enthusiasm of its celebration. Commencing with cannon firing at dawn, a baseball match was the morning feature, in which a married men's team captained by Rev. J. J. Hill, went down to rude defeat at the hands of the single men, captained by Fred Burgeson. At noon a basket picnic in the delightful setting of a eucalyptus grove was largely attended. The afternoon program included a flag drill by young ladies, exercises by young girls, a harp solo by Hazel Scherzinger, selections by local orchestra, recitation by Oahle Hubbard, "America" led by Wm. Plummer, Los Angeles and saxaphone solo by Ida Weber.

Dr. Hubbard made an ideal chairman.

Assistant District Attorney, Frank W. Blair, of Los Angeles, delivered the oration. After reviewing the wars of the country in behalf of liberty, he said there are other things besides war to consider and settle. The chief of these is the trust question. After quoting figures showing the gigantic capitalization of the trusts and their stifling of healthy competition, he cited cases of States which have enacted anti-trust laws, and congratulated California on having recently come into line. He trusted the next President would be willing as President Roosevelt has been to use his influence against the mighty combine of aggregate corporate wealth. Athletic sports and fireworks on Pacific boulevard ended a strenuous day.

WELCOMES OFFICERS.

Doge of Venice Extends Good Cheer to Those in Command of Naval Militia.

VENICE, July 4.—Abbot Kinney gave a banquet on the Cabrillo last evening for the officers of the California Naval Militia. Covers were laid for forty. Joseph Foster of Los Angeles was toastmaster, and President John A Stanwood of the Venice Chamber of Commerce welcomed the visitors in a brief but entertaining address. The response was by Capt. George W. Bauer, commanding the Naval Militia of California. The welcome on behalf of Los Angeles was made by Rev. E. J. Harper, who represented his brother, the Mayor.

The greeting on the part of the National Guard of California was delivered by Gen. Robert Wankowski, commanding the First Brigade. George H. Stewart, vice-president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, spoke words of good cheer for that organization; Capt. A. A. Friese, U.S.A., spoke on "Naval Defense," and Lieut. J. A. McGee, N.M.C., on the "Naval Militia."

Among the guests present were: Joseph Scott, Lieut.-Com. G. E. Cammerer, Lieut. T. B. Leland, Lieut. T. S. Harlan, Lieut. William Specke, C. C. Desmond, Lieut D. M. Stewart, Lieut. A. A. Morey, F. A. Short, M. R. Hanna, Lieut. W. E. Conlin, Lieut. J. H. Wilbur, Ensigns George Link, J. H. Scheiblett, J. H. Davis, I. C. Allen, J. Jardine and J. P. Smith; Lieuts. L. B. Bacigalupi, A. J. Fritz, F. J. SAN PEDRO.

SAN PEDRO, July 4.—The report of the local custom house for the month of June shows a volume of business at this port. In the month there arrived 109 steamers, 4 barkentines, 3 barks, 22 schooners, 1 ship, 1 barge and 1 tug—a total of 141 vessels having a net tonnage of 65,872 tons and carrying in crews of 2501 sailors.

These vessels brought from northern ports 44,126,000 feet of lumber, 15,721,000 shingles, 186,000 shakes, 2,794,000 laths, 73,374 ties, 2792 piling, 84 poles, 980 posts, 1748 tons of grain, 179 tons of flour, 508 tons of paper, 232 tons of shooks, 2473 tons of merchandise, 23,767 barrels of oil, 809 sheep, 884 cattle and 83 passengers.

During the month 1915 tons of merchandise were exported and 9283 passengers departed.

Fire broke out early this morning in the rear of a lodging-house owned by Mrs. J. Jenkins. It was discovered by Ed. T. Schaller, who succeeded in extinguishing it before any great amount of damage had resulted.

HOLLYWOOD HOME BURNS.

Fine Residence in Eastern Part of the Foothill City Destroyed by Flames.

HOLLYWOOD, July 4.—A stray skyrocket caused the second disastrous fire to take place in this city within a week, tonight, when the neat seven-room story-and-a-half residence of Lolus Ferry, located at the corner of Prospect Boulevard and Serrano avenue, burned entailing a loss of about $4000.

Mr. Ferry and family had been away for the evening and returned about 9:30 o'clock, to find the rear part of their home in flames. An alarm was at once turned in, but the nearest fire plug is nearly a mile away, and the volunteer fire department could do no good. By strenuous work, neighbors managed to save a few of the household goods, and kept the flames from the barns, but the residence and large tank and tank house in the rear were consumed.

The Ferry residence was one of the oldest in Hollywood, being built about eight years ago. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Residents of the section of the city in which the fire occurred were quite bitter tonight in their denunciations of the City Trustees, claiming that they had expended all of the meager fire department allowance in protecting the western part of the city.

BOY LOSES THUMB.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA MONICA, July 4.—The only accident of the day in connection with noisy demonstration attending the anniversary of freedom's birth, came early this morning when Charles Hare, a 12-year-old lad, whose home is in the eastern part of the city, lost a thumb. He was handling a giant firecracker. The fuse was short and the thing exploded before the lad could throw the bomb away. The boy was taken to the hospital for medical treatment.

The warm day proved too much for at least one player in the Elk's baseball game at the Southern Pacific diamond this morning. Frank Richmond was overcome by the heat upon completion of a home run. It was some time before he regained consciousness, but no ill results followed his overexertion. The game was won by the business nine, who proved better ball tossers than the professional men.

The second baseball game of the day was played at the same grounds during the afternoon, being between the Santa Monicas and the Paramine nine of Los Angeles. The visitors lost the game.

LA HABRA GROWERS MEET.

EAST WHITTIER, July 4.—The close of a successful first year's work and the auspicious opening of the second year formed the substantial basis for rejoicing at the annual meeting of the East Whittier and La Habra Cabbage and Tomato Growers' Association this week. An average of $20 for each ton of the one hundred and ten carloads of cabbage shipped by the association this year is considered to be a very good record, but one which the growers hope to improve on next year, as the long rainy winter of this past year seriously interfered with getting a big output—causing the cabbage to go to seed rather than to form firm heads. A large acreage, it is said, will be put in this next season. The crop will be handled at a new packing-house to be put up at Evergreen station to replace the one burned some time ago. Messrs. Curtis and Crimb of the Vegetable Growers' Union were present at the growers' meeting and signed contracts for the coming season's cabbage and tomato crops. The officers of the association for this next year are Frank Milhouse, president, and Harley M. Jordan, secretary.

HOW BASEBALL SPREAD.

Was Carried About the Country by Soldiers of the Union Army.

One prominent baseball writer claims that he can prove that one of the founders of the old Knickerbocker club came on the field one day in the early forties with the original game of baseball worked out and described on a sheet of paper, and that this game was tried and liked so well that the game was adopted then and there, and the Knickerbocker club was organized to put it into effect.

Certain it is that, with the organization of the Knickerbockers, September 23, 1845, the first rules of baseball were published. Until 1857 this club prescribed the rules of the game, and then, at a convention of those interested in the sport held in New York, the National Association of Baseball Players was formed. It was an amateur association, comprising twenty-five clubs—all from New York City and the nearby country. Indeed, up to 1861 baseball was confined almost wholly to this section. How the sport came to spread throughout the country is peculiarly interesting.

The Civil War broke out, and New York sent her sons to the front. Among them were many who had acquired skill in and a fondness for baseball. Soon the game became a favorite pastime in camp. And it was not confined to the Union army; for the sport took root in the army of the Confederacy, and was played by the boys in gray. Thus it was, at the close of the war, that the game was carried to every section of the country—almost to every town—by the returning soldiers, and it was eagerly seized on by boys and men, North, South, East and West, as the ideal outdoor sport. Baseball, as a widely recognized pastime, dates from the Civil War—from the time when the country was reunited, and hence well deserves the story of being our national game.—[Success Magazine.

SCHAEFFER IN: COOL, HE SAYS.

Head of Educators Pleased With the Weather.

Not so Hot as He Found It at Other Places.

Fears no Fight on Adoption of New Charter.

Nathan G. Schaeffer, president of the National Educational Association, reached Los Angeles last evening and registered at the Alexandria. Mr. Schaeffer brought the cheering information that Los Angeles is not so hot, after all. He was in San Bernardino yesterday afternoon, when the thermometer registered 108 degrees in the shade. He came to Los Angeles to get cool. He stated last night that he is glad he came, although he regrets that the San Bernardino thermometer caused him to forego a visit to Riverside. However, he probably will get to Riverside later.

Mr. Schaeffer is a German, as his pronounced ascent indicates, although back in Pennsylvania, where he comes from, they might call it Pennsylvania Dutch, and he is a very delightful gentleman. This compliment is not inspired by the fact that he said it was comparatively cool in Los Angeles, although any true Angeleno would admit that his feeling in this regard would carry great weight in arriving at an estimate of his character.

As State Superintendent of Public Instruction in Pennsylvania, and as president for two years of the National Educational Association, Mr. Schaeffer is one of the prominent figures in the school life of the country. As such, his opinion on the weather should carry great weight, and it is set forth for what it is worth.

THE CHARTER PROBLEM.

"The most important matter to come before the association at this meeting," said Mr. Schaeffer last night, "probably is that of the adoption of the Congressional charter, through which the association will operate under the authority of Congress rather than through the authority of the District of Columbia, under which it now operates. It has been said that a fight will be made on the adoption of this national charter; for what reasons, I do not know, for there is but little change in the new charter, as compared with the old. However, this matter will be fought out on its merits, and, as presiding officer of the association, I do not care to say just where I shall stand.

"Another matter that is to come up for discussion, and one which is of interest to the teachers of the entire country, is that of salaries. I firmly believe that this is one of the greatest problems in the educational field. Better salaries must be paid or there will be a famine of teachers. This is no idle dream. It has been impressed on the education of the whole country for a long time past. Many State Legislatures already have taken up the question and there has been a material advance in salaries. In Pennsylvania a new law has been passed, under which the minimum salaries of teachers has been raised to $40 a month, whereas it formerly was $35. This may seem small in California, but it means much in our State. The same movement for higher salaries has taken place in many other Eastern States and it has borne fruit in many instances.

MAXWELL NOT COMING.

"One of the reasons why Superintendent Maxwell of the New York City schools will not attend this convention, as had been expected, is that he is held at home through the desire to see that the teachers there receive an increase in salaries—and they are the best paid in the United States. One whole evening during the coming convention is to be given to the salary question and it is probably that something will be accomplished in this regard.

"The small salaries paid to teachers in the various States no doubt is responsible for the rapid disappearance of men from the educational field. This is most unfortunate. There is a dash in the life of boys, especially, when they should be under the care of male instructors. This cannot be under present salary conditions.

"In this same connection, Superintendent Cooley of the Chicago city schools is to deliver an address entitled 'Shall Teachers be Paid on Merit or by the Clock?' This sums up the entire situation.

"Your own Bishop Conaty is to deliver an address entitled, 'The Personality of the Teacher.' This is another important factor, for, after all, the entire matter of education depends upon the personality of the teacher."

NOT A CANDIDATE.

Mr. Schaeffer denies emphatically that he is a candidate for reelection to the position of president of the association. He has held the position for two years, principally owing to the fact that there was no meeting of the association at San Francisco last year. He denies all knowledge of the foundation of the report that a big representation of Pennsylvania teachers will urge his reelection.

In the opinion of President Schaeffer, Pennsylvania will be represented at this convention by as large a number of teachers as attended the last convention of the association in Los Angeles, eight years ago. As to the attendance from other States, he has no definite knowledge, although he believes it will be large.

President Schaeffer brings the information that President Eliot of Harvard University will not attend the Los Angeles convention, on the plea that he is too old to make the journey.

With President Schaeffer eliminated as a candidate for reelection, it is said that the candidates will include Superintendent E. G. Cooley of the Chicago city schools, Superintendent Thompson of Ohio and some man from the South.

MUM AS TO MARGARET.

Mr. Schaeffer had nothing to say as to the prospective disturbance to be raised by Margaret Haley of the Chicago Teachers' Federation, a union labor organization that has threatened to fight vigorously the adoption by the association of the Congressional charter on the ground that it will place the school principals and superintendents in control of the association and delegates the teachers to the rear.

There was only a small arrival of teachers yesterday. Many of them are making stops at the Grand Cañon and other points of interest along the way. Some may not reach here until Wednesday of next week.

Prof. F. A. Warwick, superintendent of the city schools of Keokuk, Iowa, is at the head of a party of eight teachers who arrived yesterday from Quincy, Ill., and Keokuk.

P. C. Hayden, secretary of the Department of Musical Education, also of Keokuk, was another of yesterday's arrivals. At the meeting here eight years ago he was president of the same department and he has attended every meeting since that time. Mr. Hayden is editor of the School Music Monthly, a magazine devoted to the interests of school music. He is staying at No. 918 West Eighth street.

Mrs. Florence A. Warwick, general manager of the Constitution-Democrat, a Keokuk daily paper, also arrived with the educators from that city, accompanied by her son and daughter.

Very few arrivals were registered yesterday at National Educational Association headquarters in the basement of the Temple Auditorium. A big list is expected today and tomorrow.

A spirited fight is to be made by various cities for the next convention of the association. Cleveland, O., Denver and St. Paul are in the race. It is said that the race lies between Cleveland and St. Paul.

Ways of the Japanese.

The Japanese, says a writer in the June issue of System, have a well formed habit of signing orders for American merchandise simply to oblige the salesman, and that it is a common practice to refuse to accept the goods on delivery. No Jap will be so impolite as to say "No" to a stranger who enters his home. When a Jap smiles you may know that he is angry and that you had better leave him alone; but when he draws his breath with a hissing sound through his teeth you may feel sure you have convinced him. When American dollar watches first came into Japan and China a big demand was instantly created. The Japs took one of the watches to pieces, ran up a factory and cut the price in two. Moreover, they put the Chinese and Japanese figure on the face. American manufacturers did not want to bother to do this, but when the Jap did it they had to follow suit. Then the Japs embossed the Chinese and Japanese "Good Luck" signs on the backs of the watches, and that left them supreme in the field. The Japanese understand the knack of giving their customers what they want and there are shrewder in many ways than their Yankee competitors give them credit for being.

He Made Good.

Not long ago a city editor in Ottumwa, Iowa, was told over the telephone that a prominent citizen had just died suddenly. He called a reporter and told him to rush out and get the "story." Twenty minutes later the reporter returned, sat down at his desk, and began to rattle off copy on his typewriter.

"Well, what about it?" asked the city editor.

"Oh, nothing much," replied the reporter, without looking up. "He was walking along the street when he suddenly clasped his hands to his heart and said, 'I'm going to die!' Then he leaned up against a fence and made good." "The Chestnut Tree," in the June Everybody's.

Pabst perfected the 8-Day Malting Process which gives to Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer more nutriment, more muscle-building properties than could be obtained by any other process, and the Pabst Brewing Process transmits these food values to the beer in liquid form, making it what Dr. Liebig aptly calls "liquid bread."

FIRE SWEEPS ABOUT ELSINORE.

FIGHTS OF APIARISTS TO PROTECT SWARMS.

One Man Has Narrow Miss of Being Overtaken by the Flames—Many Square Miles Burned Over—Fighters, Wearied With Work, Do Not Celebrate.

[DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ELSINORE, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the town handsomely decked for the Fourth of July here, there were few who felt like celebrating with the horror of fire-fighting fresh in their minds, the people looked over a wide area burned over by the fires subdued at midnight, and many kept in holiday mood.

The devastated area lies north and east of town, and is eight or ten miles long and seven miles wide. Yesterday afternoon the flames swept up the canons and hills to the east of town, destroying miles and miles of brush and doing great damage to timber.

No damage was done to the 500 stands of Gus Ghering, a bee man, who worked night and day for days to save his property. Thirty acres of almost one hundred stands of bees, together with a lot of new hives and other material belonging to Edward Coy, were destroyed.

The apiary, located in a canon that runs across, surrounded by brushed hills, the flames broke in places at once over the hills. For a moment had leaped across. Coy considered himself lucky indeed, as but for a small stubble field, the fine outfit would have time to look back, but the boards of the barn burning, ignited his bee-house, supplies and were ashes before he reached the road. Returning later, he found the house (with the eucalyptus trees it burned) standing and forty stands of bees left, although badly melted down. F. J. Mosher, another apiarist, with about six hundred stands, has fought the fire for days, but with small loss.

The fire swept toward town, and over the crests just above the Chaffee, Willsey and Peck homes. Flames climbed these high hills and met the flames in the heat. The fire raged toward the Perris and Menifee country, and late last night men were still fighting. Yesterday at 4 o'clock the whole town was threatened. As the wind veered, many homes were saved. Bee men are the greatest sufferers.

With the warm weather the bees are beginning to pile in honey, and there is renewed hope of at least a half season's yield. Now the fire north of the lake are under control.

The valley has been darkened for days by a dense pall of smoke. Many wild things became tame; quail and even wildcats fraternized with the dejected apiarist who came to find the season ended for them. Some few, with their bees and honey in great pools on their backs. Considering the terrible loss, aside from bee-feed, was the fact that the apiaries generally escaping lights.

WIRE RUNS TO CRESTMORE

Line from Riverside to That Point Practically Finished—Wed on the Fourth.

RIVERSIDE, July 4.—The work of stringing the Riverside and Crestmore telephone line is practically finished, and within the first train was run from Riverside to the site of the new cement plant. The train carried five carloads of machinery for the plant. This machinery has been at Riverside for some time, awaiting the completion of the road. As it was too bulky and heavy to be hauled by wagon, the work on the cement plant has been checked until this machinery could be installed. The new railroad connects with the main line of the Southern Pacific at the point near Colton avenue and Agua Mansa, where the connection with the transcontinental railroads is made. The railroad is broad gauge and is substantially built. In its three and one-quarter miles there are three frame trestles and a number of viaducts which will be replaced with cement as the new plant is in operation.

WED ON FOURTH.

The snapping of firecrackers and the explosion of bombs for the wedding of W. James Black of Los Angeles and Miss Dora J. Arnspiger of San Bernardino were married in Riverside today. Groom is 40 years of age and the bride 20 years his junior. So well are they that they would have chosen no other day than the Fourth for their holiday. The bride was accompanied by her 10-year-old son, Van Dorn. Judge F. E. Densmore performed the ceremony.

POSTMASTER SUSPENDED.

Postal Clerk at Tia Juana Alleged to Have Overcharged the American Buyers.

[DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On the charge of selling postage stamps to Americans at double their real value in Mexican money [illegible] Pastor Ramos of Tia Juana has been suspended from office and will have to answer in the Federal court at Ensenada. It is alleged that Ramos has been for some time selling Mexican stamps on the basis of the Mexican money standard. In other words he has been selling 5-cent Mexican stamps for 5 cents in American money. Coronado Angulo, school teacher, has been placed temporarily in charge of the postoffice.

WORK ON COALING STATION.

The actual work of construction of the coaling station has been commenced by Butler & Pettigrew, who have the contract for the erection of the same. The commandant for the present available appropriation is $200,000, and it became available on the first of the month. For the construction of portions of the plant will be called for as soon as the plans and specifications are approved.

GUARDSMEN DEPART.

The Seventh Infantry, N.G.C., will tonight on the "owl" for Fort Scott, San Francisco, where they will be stationed for two weeks for their practice camp. First Lieut. Fay will be in command and Capt. Fletcher, whose resignation has been tendered some time, will not be able to accompany the boys.

SPOIL FOURTH FOR GIN MILLS.

SO INCONSIDERATE ARE OFFICERS IN NEWPORT RAID.

Large Quantity of Liquors, Which Apparently Was Procured for the Fourth of July Trade, Is Confiscated—City Attorney of Santa Ana Officiates at the Descent on the Wet Goods Places.

NEWPORT BEACH, July 4.—Eight barrels of beer from Owen J. Owens and five barrels of beer and four cases of whisky from C. S. Hemstreet, are but a part of the captures made last night at Newport Beach in a raid on the blind pigs of that place. Capt. W. Cox was up at midnight, and Owens and Hemstreet appeared before him, and each of the two men gave as bail the liquor found on his premises. Next Monday morning Owens and Hemstreet will appear to plead, and with the strong cases against them, it is understood that both will plead guilty, there being almost no hope to escape conviction.

For months Newport Beach has suffered much from the two blind pigs taken last night. Hemstreet, it is said, told his friends to send all thirsty to his place, and he sold without discrimination. Recently the City Trustees decided to "go after" the blind pigs. Hemstreet is said to have declared that he could "fix" City Attorney Clyde Bishop. How well he "fixed" him was shown last night. City Attorney Bishop went with the party that arrested Hemstreet.

Bishop went down to the beach town with Fred Hartsook of Los Angeles in an automobile. City Marshal M. H. Swain had two volunteer witnesses, A. E. Erwin and Jesse Ainsworth, both Orange boys. With the evidence before him, Bishop decided to raid and secure the "booze" as evidence. The papers were made out by him against Hemstreet and Owens. Deputy Sheriff George Peabody arrested Hemstreet and City Marshal Swain arrested Owens. City Trustee John King attended the raid on Owens.

Both these places had apparently stocked up for the Fourth of July trade, and the back rooms of both were well filled with liquor. It was hauled away and is being held both as evidence and as bail.

The night's work seems to have been thoroughly satisfactory to the Newport Beach authorities. A liquor license has been issued to F. A. Helm of Los Angeles, and that saloon will open for business Saturday.

SHOTS AT REDLANDS.

Celebration of the Fourth There Is Marked With a Active Enthusiasm.

REDLANDS, July 4.—A perfect day, an excellently arranged programme, together with enthusiasm and patriotism unlimited, made today's celebration of the Glorious Fourth one of the most successful and enjoyable events in the history of the city.

The sunrise gun and public salute was the signal for a fusillade of gunshots, firecrackers and other noise-makers. The parade, of which much was expected, exceeded even the most sanguine predictions in beauty and in size. The floats were beautifully decorated, and, as the line of procession passed through the streets, the crowds showed its appreciation by generous applause.

Only one mishap marred the feature of an otherwise perfect celebration. As the procession was turning on Olive street from Fourth a pair of horses attached to the big Goddess of Liberty float became frightened and broke loose. They dashed wildly through a crowd of women and children at the intersection of the streets, but fortunately no one was injured, and the parade continued without further untoward incident.

Grand Marshal H. P. D. Kingsbury and his mounted aides handled the long line without difficulty. The Y.M.C.A. Band from Los Angeles headed the procession, contributing in no small measure to the delight of the spectators. An important patriotic and decorative feature was the big float upon which Miss Frances Hamilton, as Goddess of Liberty, was surrounded by thirteen fair maidens, each representing one of the original thirteen States of the Union. Miss Hamilton made an attractive and striking goddess.

The young ladies on the float were Misses Hester Covington, Eunice Ferguson, Laura Carter, M. E. Shattuck, Lois Cheesman, Cecile Sherman, Zoe Musgrave, Edna Turbott, Lidia Swartz, Bonnie Milam, Cecil Harford, Clara Harford, Nina Veatch.

The Elks, in neat, cool uniforms of white, presented a fine appearance, as did the High School cadets and Co. G., N.G.C. Nearly two score beautifully decorated floats represented the leading business houses of the city, the procession ending with boys and girls on ponies and an elaborately decorated bicycle squad.

The prizes for the best decorated floats in the parade were awarded thus: Redlands fire department, first; Y.M.C.A., second; Edison Electric Company, third; High School cadets, fourth. The committee on awards was E. D. Reid, A. E. Springborg, Percy Dugan, C. H. Hersey and C. W. Merriman.

The public exercises were held at noon, immediately following the parade from the veranda of the Casa Loma Hotel. Mayor J. J. Suess introduced Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe as the orator of the day. Following his address, the exercises were closed by the singing of patriotic songs by the audience.

The military drill and sports, together with the baseball game, occupied all the afternoon. In the evening there was a display of fireworks.

BIG FEAST OF ELKDOM.

Three-Day Fiesta at Santa Barbara Wears Out the Throng With Round of Pleasures.

SANTA BARBARA, July 4.—Santa Barbara's big, three-day fiesta closed tonight. Natives and visitors alike were hugely pleased with themselves, the city and the attendant pleasures of the period. Thousands came here for enjoyment and found it on all sides. Every minute of each of the three days had its interesting diversion. Tonight, worn out by the ceaseless struggle to see it all, the people of the city and their guests got through and silence akin to desert solitude settled over the old town late at night.

The parade took place this morning. It started at State and Figueroa streets, extended to the Arlington Hotel; then, countermarching, it ended at the Plaza del Mar. The police led. Then there was Grand Marshal Bainbridge and his six aides, leading the colors. Bands from San Luis Obispo, Ventura, Santa Barbara, several from Los Angeles and other music were distributed through the procession. The Grand Army had the place of honor. There was a Goddess of Liberty float and the Elks representing about all of Southern California paraded proudly.

"Hello Bill!" was their watchword and it was heard everywhere. The Red Men, Native Sons, Native Daughters, Knights of Pythias, Woodmen of the World, Uniform Rank, K. O. T. M., Woman's Relief Corps, school drill corps, City officials in carriages, the fire department, Modern Woodmen of the World, a host of gaily decorated carriages and automobiles and a series of comical novelties—all had places in the big turnout.

When the parade was dismissed at the Plaza del Mar where a large assemblage greeted the finish, there were the patriotic exercises. Judge S. E. Crow presided. Hon. Robert M. Clark of Ventura was orator of the day. The Declaration of Independence was read by Hon. L. W. Roseberry. Then came a barbecue served to hundreds of hungry mortals—Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West from surrounding cities by the local parlor. A band concert by the combined bands was given at the Plaza at 1 o'clock and many basket parties were strewn along the beach. Yacht races were held off the pleasure wharf at 1:30 o'clock and a blue-rock shoot occupied the members of the Channel City Gun Club at their grounds on East Ortega street. At 2:30 o'clock the crowd sardined itself into the grand stand and bleachers to witness the final struggle between the Santa Barbara and San Diego Elks' teams for the Elks' baseball championship of Southern California.

An illumination of the water front and a fireworks display at 7:30 o'clock was followed by the second last performance of the Elks' Minstrels at the Potter Theater. After the show about everybody adjourned to the Elks' clubhouse, where the wives, daughters and sweethearts of the assembled herds were given a reception at 11 o'clock that ushered in the fifth of July.

SANTA BARBARA BRIEFS.

One of the proudest, as well as one of the very oldest citizens of this city was W. F. N. Goss today. He and Uncle Samuel celebrated their birthdays at the same time. He is eighty years old and mighty proud of it. He was born at Cape Cod in 1827 and shipped around the Horn for San Francisco in 1852. He came to Santa Barbara in 1867 and became one of its settlers among the whites. He also became a prominent merchant and then retired. Mr. Goss, despite his weight of years, looks good for another twenty.

James H. Bly, for the last seven years a resident of this city, died last evening after an illness of several weeks. He was a native of Minnesota, seventy-three years old. One daughter, Mrs. Claude Loveday, is left.

The annual election of the Chamber of Commerce directors will be held July 10. Fifteen will be chosen.

PATRIOTIC GERMANS.

The German Association of Los Angeles, a club composed of prominent professional and business men, held a banquet at Levy's last night. The table had been especially decorated with a profusion of flowers and the combined American and German colors. After a brief but hearty welcome had been extended by the chairman of the Association, Dr. Curt O. Dietsch, Rev. Mr. Reiser of Pasadena spoke, emphasizing the importance of the Fourth of July to America as well as to the world at large. Other speakers included Dr. F. W. Graeff and Congressman McLachlan. Members and invited guests present aside from those mentioned were Mrs. Curt O. Dietsch, A. W. Koebig and Mr. Koebig, Jr., A. C. Brandt, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Luckel, Thilo Becker, Hugh W. Adams, Miss Otie Chew, Miss L. M. Drain, C. H. Von Breton, Miss Dorothea Von Breton, Fritz Hildebrandt, Miss N. G. Birk, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Zoellner and Mr. and Mrs. Peter W. Ehlers.

WRONG "DOPE."

Patrick Quinn, street inspector, residing at No. 234 Meyers street, mistook a percussion cap for a pellet of medicine last night and swallowed it. He discovered his mistake soon after taking the sulphur compound, and became highly excited. He asked the Police Surgeons for aid, and they instructed him to take an emetic. He quickly recovered.

SAME OLD STORY.

J. W. Hughes, an employé of the Southern Pacific, was dun down by an automobile at Fourth street last night and slightly injured. He was removed to the Receiving Hospital, and then to his home on Boyd street, with lacerations about the face and bruises about the body.

PINK PILLS WILL CURE RHEUMATISM

Every Form of the Disease Yields to This Blood Building and Purifying Remedy. Even Obstinate Cases of Long Standing.

One result of the unusually trying weather of the past spring is the general prevalence of rheumatism throughout the country. While rheumatism is a disease of the blood, shown by its hereditary character, cold, dampness, and changes of weather are exciting causes. By arresting the usual secretions they cause the latent poison in the blood to develop and acute rheumatism is the result.

It generally commences with stiffness and lameness and sometimes with chills and fever. The pain in the joints becomes more severe and causes agony at every attempt to move. The disease is liable to shift from one portion of the body to another and sometimes involves the heart. While Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured some of the most obstinate cases of rheumatism, much pain may be saved by taking the remedy when the first symptoms appear.

Mr. F. A. McClure, a traveling salesman, living at No. 150 North Pearl street, Albany, N. Y., says: "I had muscular rheumatism for ten years, often so severely that I could not leave my bed. None of the several physicians who prescribed for me at various times was able to help me in the least. All this time the disease was becoming more chronic and my suffering was awful. Finally it became so bad that I had to go to bed and stay there as I could not move without terrible pain. My sickness now worried me greatly, for early the following month I had to start out on the road, and there I was, almost helpless, in bed and all run down in health and strength.

"My wife said she had heard that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were good for rheumatism, and it was upon her advice that I tried them. After taking them for three or four days the pain began to leave me and in a short time I was on my feet again, feeling as well and strong as ever. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me, and I am willing to have this statement published."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have also cured such blood diseases as anaemia, debility, scrofulous conditions, after-effects of the grip and fevers. Owing to the intimate relation between the blood and nerves, the pills have been found invaluable in such nervous diseases as dizziness, nervous debility, neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Baldwin Refrigerators for Government Hospitals
...Twenty-Second Year...

The Baldwin Refrigerator Company has been notified that its proposal to furnish the U. S. public health and marine hospital service with refrigerators for the current fiscal year has been accepted, making the twenty-second consecutive year that this important branch of the government service has adopted the Baldwin dry air refrigerator for use in all its hospitals and quarantine stations. So highly were these refrigerators regarded by the surgeons and stewards as far back as 1884-1885, that one of them was included in the government exhibit at world's exposition, New Orleans, marked "Standard refrigerator for hospital use."—Burlington Free Press, August 18, 1906.

The Man With Disease

DR. TAYLOR, The Leading Specialist

Should learn—and the sooner the better—that what may seem a trivial disease very often has most serious and far-reaching effects. The man who tries to be his own doctor is always the patient that later comes to the specialist with the chronic, stubborn, deep-seated case, which is the hardest kind to cure. I cannot hope that all men will accept my statement that the quickest, the safest and cheapest cure is had by consulting an expert specialist in Men's Diseases at once, but the intelligent man will readily be convinced of the value of this advice upon investigation.

I Cure Disease

Especially CONTRACTED DISORDERS, CHRONIC DISCHARGES, CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON, PAINFUL SWELLINGS and affections of the BLADDER and PROSTATE. I have my office fitted with all the necessary equipment and appliances of the most modern design. Acute cases cured in a few days. I recognize all complications immediately, and my patients are cured absolutely and to stay cured.

I ALSO CURE VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, WEAKNESS, STRICTURE and REFLEX DISORDERS. To prove my confidence in my ability I made this fair proposition:

Pay When You Are Cured

CONSULTATION FREE—MY HONEST AND CANDID ADVICE COSTS YOU NOTHING. I cheerfully give you the very best opinion, guided by years of successful practice. Men out of town, in trouble, write if you cannot call, as many cases yield readily to proper home treatment and cure.

My offices are open all day from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. and Sundays from 10 to 1.

Men Cured
By Practical, Rational and Thoroughly Scientific Methods

We will tell you exactly what is your trouble—its cause, method of treatment, the time it will take to cure you. In fact, you will learn just what you wish to know.

Do not hesitate to call. Consultation is always free. A word of advice may mean very much to you and will cost you nothing.

Contracted Ailments

Peculiar to man, whether new, acute or neglected, cured by methods which speedily check inflammation and clear the system of poison. DON'T NEGLECT THE FIRST SYMPTOMS—Itching, burning, frequency of urinating, pain, inflammation, discharges. The sooner we begin to treat you the quicker we can effect a cure. Don't expect the troubles to wear away. THE INFECTION WILL NOT CURE ITSELF. It is a specific poison which must be neutralized, and it is a serious matter—serious enough to call for the advice of a specialist. Do not take any formula or injection which may be recommended to you. Drastic medicines are often worse than the disease.

Be careful that this trouble does not get fixed on you, but if you have tried other doctors who have not cured you, come to us. OUR METHODS AVAIL WHERE OTHERS FAIL. If you are so situated that you cannot call, write, describing your case fully.

Spasms
St. Vitus' Dance

Many persons who suffered untold agonies from epilepsy, fits, spasms, and St. Vitus' Dance are today well. The strengthening influence of Dr. Miles' Nervine upon the shattered nerves having restored them to perfect health.

"I endured agony that words cannot express, from St. Vitus' dance which followed a very severe spell of rheumatism. I doctored with a physician; but the more I took of his medicine the worse I got. My mother's devotion saved me. After she had become almost heart-broken, as well as physically exhausted from constant care, by the advice of a neighbor she procured a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine. From the first dose to the last a continual change for the better was noticable and when I had taken eleven bottles I was well, and in robust health."
EDWARD D. REAM.
North Manchester, Indiana.

"Our little boy Harry had spasms for three years, and although we doctored with many physicians, he continued to grow worse until he had ten spasms in one week. About that time our attention was called to Dr. Miles' Nervine. We began giving it to him. His improvement seemed slow, but when he had finished the fourth bottle the spasms had disappeared, and have not been seen now for years. We shall always recommend Dr. Miles' Nervine."

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Through a Window.

Harry Sanders was arrested on suspicion last night by detectives because they believe him to be one of two fighters who was thrown through a window by the other at No. 308 East Third street.

Marauders Scared Off.

A. L. Julian and E. Wood reported yesterday morning to the police that their residence at No. 1300 South Figueroa street, was entered by burglars during the night. A back window was forced with a jimmy. The marauders were frightened away without booty.

Horses for New York.

Tom Clark, Supervisor of Ventura county, and the friend of all motorists because of his work in keeping the roads in his district in perfect repair, was a guest at the Nadeau yesterday. He is on his way east with a string of saddle horses for wealthy New Yorkers.

Stricken on Honeymoon.

As an unfortunate beginning to a honeymoon, Mrs. E. A. Poe, a bride, was taken to a hospital yesterday, suffering from some sudden malady. Mr. and Mrs. Poe arrived at the King Edward, Wednesday, on their wedding trip. Poe is a wealthy young sheep rancher in Calaveras county.

Hot Wave Brings Them.

As a result of the hot wave which has swept over the desert for the past four or five days, scores of persons from Southern Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico have arrived in the city. All the large downtown hotels have received an unusually large number of guests from the "hot places." To such Los Angeles seems cool in comparison with recorded temperatures of 110 and 115 deg. in the shade in some of the places east of this city.

Long Beach Chautauqua.

The Long Beach Chautauqua has put out the announcement for its annual gathering in the Auditorium on the pier, July 15 to 27. The management announces Rev. Frederick Bade, Ellen Beach Yaw, Prof. N. C. Schaeffer, Gov. Buchtel, Rev. David Beaton, Elmer J. Burkett, Prof. Stanley Krebs, Hector Aillot, Prof. Hoose, Waldo M. York, James Clement Ambrose and other persons, to take part during the two weeks.

His First Mass.

Rev. Francis Redman, O.F.M., who was raised to the priesthood at the old Santa Barbara Mission, last Sunday, by Bishop Conaty, and who is a Los Angeles young man, the son of Mrs. A. W. Redman of No. 1423 West Twenty-seventh street, will celebrate his first solemn mass next Sunday at St. Vibiana's Cathedral. He will be assigned to work in this diocese, probably in connection with St. Joseph's parish in this city.

Home from Hawaii.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Warren F. Day, who have spent a couple of months in Hawaii, will be tendered an informal reception in the parish house of the First Congregational Church, Wednesday evening next. On Sunday evening Dr. Day will makean informal address on his vacation experiences, and will discuss the Hawaiian educational problems, making his address of interest to educators, many of whom will be in the city at that time. In the morning in the same church, the pastor, Rev. William Horace Day, will speak on "The Pedagogy of Jesus."

Hit With a Wrench.

Angered at an epithet hurled at him by R. A. White, a driver for the Talley-Ho stables assaulted White with a wrench and inflicted an ugly wound above the left temple. White is a stable employé and resides at No. 819 South Main street. Witnesses say White cursed the driver, apparently without provocation. After the men had exchanged angry words White drew back his fist as though to strike, swung it with full force, but with only a glancing blow. Employés picked White up as he fell in from the door and carried him to the Receiving Hospital. He is held pending an investigation, but is not believed to be in danger. The driver's name is supposed to be Weldon.

"Comrade" Woodbey—His Gall.

"America, the country in which there is more prating about liberty, and in which there is less liberty enjoyed than in any country on earth," shrieked out "Comrade" Woodbey, a negro socialist, at a meeting of mal-contents last night at Fifth and Los Angeles streets. As an aftermath of the day's patriotic exercises, in which devotion to law and order and love of the flag and the principles for which it stands were the basis of many addresses, came the negro socialist with his preachment of discontent and anarchy. Woodbey claims there is no liberty in America; yet of the liberty of free speech he makes license, and his utterences are frequently rank anarchy. He is permitted by the police to rant.

We want to ram the truth home.

We want to make you realize once and for all time the fact that we have all our clothing made right here in Los Angeles right in our own tailoring establishment and right under our own eyes, which enables us to fit flawlessly a greater percentage of customers than the ordinary tailor working under the ordinary methods can hope to do.

It is an old truth that to have a thing well done you must do it yourself, and just as far as possible we—the two members of the firm of Brauer & Krohn—make your clothing personally—because every detail, from the selecting of the fabrics to the stitching of the most unimportant staying of that suit is superintended and carefully watched over by us. This is possible only when a tailor has all his clothes made right in his own establishment.

This is the reason for the irreproachable and unapproachable flawlessness of fit of the Brauer-Krohn garment.

TIMES TROPHY TO MISCHIEF.

Columbine Beaten by Folsom's Crack Sloop.

South Coast Yachts Do Good Work in Pretty Race.

Venus and Myth Show Their Classmates the Way.

BY M. C. LINGAN.

In a well sailed race, 17 knots to windward and return, the sloop Mischief II, Walter Folsom, owner and skipper, won the Times' Perpetual Challenge Cup, in the Independence Day Regatta of the South Coast Yacht Club, yesterday afternoon, and won it decisively and handily. It was a pretty race.

In the classes, "A" and "B", that were sailing for the Times' cup, it was necessary to run down to the end of the breakwater and return to the starting line for the finish. As a result of this arrangement, two of the boats, Monsoon Skiddoo, did not finish, although they sailed over most of the course, but an additional beat of a knot and a half after five o'clock, was not enticing, and rather than sail the losing end of a race, the two boats sailed to their anchorages without making the final turn.

Taken as a class, the small boats displayed exceptionally good work, and the crews exhibited a real yachtsmanlike spirit. The little Venus, N. Bradley owner and skipper, was, from start to finish, handled in a workmanlike manner that gained the praise of every one, both technical and amateur.

There was a great deal of interest centered in the Detroit, Byron Erkenbrecher's boat, that was sailed by H. A. Dodge, but she lately has been changed from centerboard to keel, and there must have been an error in the change, for she would not handle on the wind, and Skipper Dodge withdrew before the start. Her new sails fit all right, according to the skipper, but her keel needs carrying aft a bit. It seems that when on the wind, she carries so much weather helm, that practically she is dragging a big balance rudder at right angles to her course. As natural result she loses way, drags, and goes in irons.

The Yankee, sailed by Densham, had real hard luck, carrying away her bobstay before the preparatory gun was fired. There was nothing left for her to do but quit the race and she did so, although she sailed around under her mainsail, and waited for the finish of the race.

This left the Mischief II, Columbine, Skiddoo, and Monsoon, and between the first two boats there has long been a strong rivalry. The Skiddoo and Monsoon failed to get around to the starting line, until the first two had left and crossed the Point Firmin line last on the run home, but both declined to finish the race.

JOCKEY FOR POSITION.

When the preparatory gun was fired, Mischief II, and Columbine were jockeying for position, and as is generally the case when he starts, Folsom came down the wind-free and hauled around the buoy in pretty style, getting the start less than a minute after the gun. Columbine was coming up on the starboard tack and reaching hard for the mark, but Mitchell luffed her too much in his effort to hold her back and when the Mischief was across the line the Columbine was still in irons. She had lost practically all way, when one of her crew hauled her headsail to port, and she payed off, the two boats crossing the line on opposite tacks. But the Columbine was getting pretty close to the kelp off the point, and tacked shortly after and the real race for The Times cup was begun, with an added incentive in the shape of the rivalry between the two boats.

For awhile the boats worked on even tacks and the breeze was moderate and fairly steady. Gradually, the Mischief eat closer into the wind and forereached on her rival. Both boats were carrying considerable luffs, but the Columbine seemed badly handled. She split tacks and went four or five miles over toward Catalina Island, when there was not the least reason, that could be imagined by anybody on the judges' boat, for so doing. She carried a single reef throughout the race, and that was good seamanship, for it is pretty certain that she would have done less well with all her canvas. Mischief hung into the land, sometimes too closely as she was seen to break off once or twice, but the judgment was excellent, as she was getting a better breeze.

Up to Portuguese Bend the wind held moderate, and as Columbine was almost hull down to the South it could not be determined what she would do when she came back to the other boats. What resulted was, that the Mischief kept hold of the breeze along shore and worked to windward steadily. Then the breeze began to soften at times.

In a very light breeze Mischief made the first turn at 3:05:40 with the Columbine well in shore by this time, and also well astern, for she made her turn at 3:20:10, by which time the Mischief was racing for the end of the breakwater like a scared cat.

FOLSOM'S ONLY ERROR.

It was here that Folsom made the only error in handling his boat that could be detected from the judges' launch. When he rounded the Point Vicente buoy he set his spinnaker boom to starboard and was ready to set sail when he saw that it would not draw, and he ran down wind, about nine minutes with no light canvas.

Profiting by the error of the leader, the Columbine swung around the mark in excellent shape, setting her balloon jib with sheet to starboard. Still well behind the first mark came the Monsoon and Skiddoo, both of which had been blamably slow in getting to the starting line.

Monsoon did well on the run to windward but did not seem to have much hope for or interest in the race. Skiddoo fought along and worked hard but seemed outclassed. On the turn Monsoon made the same mistake that Michief started to make—she set her spinnaker to starboard and in the setting got her boom lift forward of the sail. Shortly afterward she took it in and shifted to port.

As the Skiddoo turned the first mark, she put on all her summer clothes and started after the others with spinnaker, balloon jib, jib and mainsail, but a lot of the canvas was loafing.

By this time Michief was out of sight of the Judges' boat, followed by Vnus, of a smaller class, Columbine, Monsoon and Skiddoo, in the order named.

Throughout the race there seemed to be more wind around Point Firmin than there was further up the coast, but it was at no time a drift.

There was no change in the positions of the big boats on the run down that could be noticed, except that the Monsoon got the fresher breeze as she neared Point Firmin and drew away from Skiddoo.

On this run, Columbine failed to score before the wind, as it was expected she would, while the Mischief sailed consistently and did better free, in comparison with Columbine, than had been prophesied.

ON RUN HOME.

The last turn was around a stake boat, anchored about two hundred yards off the end of the breakwater, and from there it was a beat to the finish, with a good breeze.

Mischief, of course, turned the stake boat first, and on what probably is her best point, came swarming back to the finish. She was standing off shore when she passed the Columbine, who was coming down to the stake boat, but it was plain that the former was getting back anything she might have lost on the run down—a minute or two.

As she was first to cross the start, so was the Mischief first to cross the finish, leading her rival by 12 minutes and 28 seconds of elapsed time, and 11 minutes and 19 seconds corrected time, thereby conclusively defeating the Columbine, boat for boat, in a well sailed, carefully judged race, and taking from the Detroit, the present holder, the Times Perpetual Challenge Cup, which Folsom won in 1895 with the Mischief I.

There was no less interest and a great deal more actual sailing done by the little fellows in the C and D classes than there was in the competition of the larger boats. Venus and Merlin entered in C class, and Myth and Portola in D class. All of these boats sailed the race, and sailed it well.

Venus made fine work of the whole matter. She is able and fast, and she had her own crew aboard, a fact that showed strongly in her handling.

These classes started at 12:45, fifteen minutes earlier than the big boats, but the Venus crossed second, between Firmin buoy and the light where her race ended. Merlin did well, and fought the matter out to a sportsman-like finish, and the Myth and Portola made no bones of heavy puffs, even though their lee deadlights were under water.

WOMAN SAILS BOAT.

Mrs. Mellen, the wife of Skipper Mellen of the Portola, sailed on her husband's boat throughout the race, and although it is certain that her fleet

FACE HIS CREDITORS TODAY, SAYS KITTS.

WILLIAM J. KITTS, whose creditors have been searching for him, was located last night at No. 155 East Forty-fifth street. He admitted that his financial affairs are tangled. He said it has been necessary to continually travel between Los Angeles and Long Beach, and for that reason those who sought him failed to find him.

"There was no hesitancy on the part of Kitts in admitting that he has made many business failures. He declared he will face his creditors today, and said he will take up the several summonses which have remained unserved for months. He stated that he will call in person on his creditors today and endeavor to effect a settlement. He asks that he be given a "reasonable" time to make the settlements. He says he plans to pay every cent he owes.

Mrs. Kitts was also at home last night. She declared she has unbounded faith in her husband. She says there has been no domestic infelicity.

Mrs. Kitts was formerly Miss Alice Bauer, eldest daughter of Millionaire Otmar Bauer of No. 2941 Vermont avenue. She was the heroine of an interesting romance. Despite the strenuous objections of her father, she was wooed by Kitts and the courtship ripened into a romantic marriage, in which Kitts played the part of Romeo to the millionaire's daughter for his beautiful Juliet.

At dead of night Miss Bauer escaped from the home where she had known every comfort, and where every advantage had been given her, to become the bride of the dashing young realty man. She says she has never regretted her choice.

That was six years ago. The young people hoped the irate parents would forgive. Instead Bauer disowned his daughter and has remained irreconcilable. He was bitter last night as he spoke of what he termed his daughter's rash act.

"That man (he meant Kitts) has never entered my door since he took my daughter away. That article in The Times this morning was correct. That fellow is not to be trusted."

Then, with a bitterness which showed itself in short, rasping sentences, he said:

"Kitts is not to be trusted. I never trusted him myself because I was convinced he would get the best of me. That's why I did not want him to marry my daughter. I believe he is preparing to go away now. I was told today that he was packing up preparatory to leaving. I don't keep posted on anything he does, however, as I shall never have anything more to do with either of them."

Kitts denied the statement that he is preparing to leave. He says he has lived at his present address for four months. He declared he has gone out of the building business because of the many failures he made. "I'm going to fight this thing out," he said. "I know my affairs are tangled and I don't care a cent about what has been said of my business mistakes because I guess its all true. I'm sorry about that personal matter. Miss Lane has lived at my home for some time, and if I had intended to run away with her I could have done it long ago. My wife and I are happy together.

"My father-in-law has no use for me. I know that. I guess I'm not the first fellow who has had trouble with his father-in-law. I don't care. I intend to straighten up the matter with my creditors today."

BARNEY OLDFIELD IS CHARGED WITH FAKE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

PORTLAND (Or.) July 4.—Barney Oldfield, the automobile racer, was placed under arrest, and a warrant has been issued for E. A. Moross, Oldfield's business manager, on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses. The warrants were issued at the instance of the Evening Telegram in what that paper believes is in the interest of clean sport, and are an outgrowth of yesterday's automobile contests in this city. Oldfield was released on $500 bail. Moross is on his way to Butte, Mont., and has not been arrested.

The race meet yesterday was a complete fizzle. There were few entries, and to make matters worse, a heavy shower in the middle of the meet left the track a sea of mud, and rendered any further racing impossible.

The information sled by the Telegram is general in its accusations, but in this afternoon's issue the paper prints charges that Oldfield and his manager used the name of a local automobile club for the purpose of gaining prestige; that this use was without the sanction of the club; that the promoters of the race meet offered a card of races, when they knew none of the entries listed intended to participate; that in general the meet was a fake, and that by this alleged sharp practice Oldfield and Moross obtained a large sum from admission fees.

According to the best information obtainable, the difficulty lies with the local automobile dealers, who, it is stated, were behind the meet. Since the first races, it is alleged, that intense rivalry, which all along has existed between agents of various makes of machines, has developed into bitter animosity, and the dealers who were ready at first to enetr their machines in the contest, at the last minute withdrew their entries.

Moross and Oldfield apparently made every effort to make yesterday's race meet a success, evidently under the belief that it was Oldfield's performances rather than the events carded between local contestants which the visitors at the race track came to see. It is stated by unbiased persons that Oldfield's own machine was in even better condition yesterday than it was on the days of the first meet when he broke several world's records, while Bruno Seibels's vehicle was in no worse condition.

BAY BOYS IN WINNING WAY.

San Diegan Beats Angelenos in Senior Singles.

Coronado Races Well Rowed in Fast Time.

Swimming Championship Is Won by Wilbur Kyle.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Los Angeles' representatives were defeated in the rowing races at Coronado Beach, San Diego Bay, this afternoon. The Los Angeles boys, members of the Rowing Club of Los Angeles Athletic Club, Harry Leland and G. W. Isaacs, entered the senior singles for the championship of Southern California, and were beaten by Harry Vaughn of the San Diego Rowing Club who covered the mile and a half in an easy manner, finishing strongly with plenty in reserve. Leland and Isaacs finished in a tie for second place. San Diego had another man entered, Harvey Slocum, but the latter withdrew.

The Fourth of July regatta at Coronado was one of the most successful and spectacular ever held on the bay. The performance of the San Diego Rowing Club oarsmen was extremely fine. Their treatment of the Los Angeles Athletic Club boys was above reproach. There was some talk in Los Angeles that representatives from that city would get the little end of the horn, but all visiting members from the City of the Angels are unanimous in agreeing that better treatment could not be received.

EVERY COURTESY.

In the choice of the boats, the Los Angeles men won the toss up, and had the pick of the best boats in the local clubhouse, and they were extended the free use of the latter's quarters.

Of the other events in the regatta, interest was centered in the junior four-oared race of a mile and a half. It was the most hotly-contested of all the races. The crew stroked by J. H. Slocum and coxswained by H. Bowles was the winner. The time for the course, three-quarters out and return to the starting place, was 9:17. W. Stork rowed No. 2, H. Mills pulled No. 2, and A. Atkins was in the bow. The defeated crew was stroked by A. Jessop, coxswained by A. Arnold; A. Pfeffern, D. Babcock and F. Snyder were in the other places in the order named.

A canoe race of three-quarters of a mile opened the day. The green boat, with Price and Hayes as crew, won in 6:34. Stahler and Slocum were in the red boat and finished working hard.

The junior singles, over the same course as the senior event, was won by Bethune in 9:31. Epstein was second with Charley Price a close third. Bethune is a former Argonaut of Ontario, Canada, and pulls a fine oar. He rounded the stake in fine style and gained four boat lengths on the others in making his turn.

The novice singles were captured by Herbert D. Bowles, over the same course, 1½ miles in the time of 10:13 1-5. Percy Copeland was second. Belden, an outsider, finished out of the running.

SENIOR FOURS FAST.

Another exciting event was the senior four-oared of a mile and a half. Harry Vaughn, who captured the senior single race, stroked the winning crew, which was coxswained by H. Bowles. The time was extremely fast for the heavy open rig, the course being covered in 8:23.

A novelty race between Harvey Slocum in an extremely light gig and a motor boat, was run over a quarter mile course, the oarsman beating the engine-driven craft by nearly 150 feet.

After the conclusion of the rowing races a series of swimming events were pulled off very successfully. The 440 yard State championship race was won by Wilbur Kyle, with Leech a close second.

Both were swimming against the tide and the time was slow. The 100-yard senior championship affair was also captured by W. Kyle, Harry Leech, second and D. Israel third. The time was 1:26. The fifty-yard State championship open race was won by Kyle again with H. K. Leech. Time was :39½.

A special race of fifty yards, in which considerable interest was centered, was pulled off between Rex Patton, "Doc" Johnson and Dan Lamar. The "doctor" was the winner, with Patton second and Lamar almost a tie with the last named. The time was :39½.

The junior 100-yard race was won in 31 seconds by Harry Shaw with Earl Kyle second. The time was occasioned by a fifty-yard run and a turn to the starting point.

Earl Kyle also won the fifty-yard junior race. The time was :37. Shaw went against him, and the race was an interesting one, as the age limit was sixteen years. Shaw is eighteen years old.

SCOTS WHA HAE WI' MUCKLE MUSCLE WON.

Gathering of the Clans for Annual Games of the Caledonian Club Proves Great Success—Greased Pig a Victim—Winners.

BEGINNING at 9 o'clock and lasting until dark, the programme of sports run off by the Caledonia Club at Schuetzen Park yesterday went through without a hitch. The performances on the track were not of a high class, owing to the poorly improvised straightaway, and no records were threatened in any of the events, for the great majority of the competitors went in with little or no training.

There were several college athletes in the meet, and one of them, Frank Abott, a former California track man, won five events, although his work was not up to the standard of college athletics. Comstock of U.S.C. got two second places, but was apparently out of form. R. W. Stine of Glendale High School took the 100-yard dash in 11 2-5 seconds, the slow time being caused by the slippery condition of the track, which was constructed of shavings thrown on the hard ground. Wilhout, a former St. Vincent's man, got second in the broad jump and third in the high.

The athletes of the Caledonia Club won the majority of the events, and beat out college men in several instances. In the contests for Caledonians only the local Scots were winners in every instance but one. H. Adams of Redlands got places in two events over performers from the local club.

Probably the most difficult and peculiar contest yesterday was "tossing the caber." There were ten entries in the event, and among them Scots who had learned to toss the heavy tree in the old country. Reid, the champion of the club, who won this unique contest last year by throwing the top of the twelve-foot "caber" over thirty-four feet, was not entered yesterday, and the first place went to R. Remle, with a throw of 33 feet 7 inches.

Sixty entered the chase of the greased pig, but H. Palmer was the successful man to run him down. He caught the porker in about sixty yards and turned him over with his feet in the air to show the crowd that he had him.

WOMEN COMPETE.

Next to this event, the women's races called out the greatest number of entries. Two heats were required to run off the twenty who entered the married women's race, which was won by Mrs. J. Boston. One woman fell on the treacherous shavings, but was not seriously hurt, and would have entered the consolation race had others been willing to run against her, so great was her determination to get a prize.

The three gold medals in the bagpipe competition went to Dan Finlayson, Gregor McDonald and Heclon Adams, respectively. There were seven entries—five of them in costume. The judges sat within a closed tent, and were unable to see the players. The decision for the best playing was made entirely from listening to the music.

In the competition for the best Highland costume, Norman McDonald took first place, with 65 points, D. Thompson was second with 62, and J. F. Talt made 60. There were fourteen entries.

Joseph and Mathew Meiklejohn took first and second places in two races and in the Highland Fling, winning the greatest number of prizes among the juveniles.

W. M. Black won the light stone putting competition, but was disqualified under the rule that requires members to have a membership of six months in the club before competing in the games. First place was given to J. D. Walker, with a put of twelve-pound weight 34 feet 1 inch.

In the tug-of-war the Caledonian team bested the "all-comers" team in two tries out of three. Teams were of eleven men each.

Eighteen prizes were given in both bowling and shooting for the highest scores made in five chances.

Almost three thousand people saw the games, and Caledonians came from Santa Barbara, San Diego, Redlands and other southern towns. Many of them wore the kilts, and Schuetzen Park presented a variety of plaid such as a gathering in the old country might show.

Mrs. J. Boston winning 50-yard married women's race at Caledonian games yesterday afternoon (a man was detailed to catch each as she crossed the line;) upper picture shows bagpipe contest in progress.

DEL MONTE HAS BIG AUTO MEET.

CLEAR SKY AND GOOD SPORT AT DAY'S RACING.

Max Rosenfeld Wins the Del Monte Cup With Peerless Car—Brilliant Assemblage Crowds Grandstand and Lines Track With Motor Cars and Splendid Horse Equipages.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DEL MONTE, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Automobile Club of California today held the most successful motor car race meet that has ever been conducted on the Del Monte course. The event was favored by unclouded good old summertime weather. A brilliant assemblage filled the grandstand, and the track was lined on either side of the judges' stand with automobiles and splendid horse equipages.

The first event was a speed-judging contest, the object being to cover a half mile at the rate of ten miles an hour. The contestants had their speedometers and clocks covered. Ely, driving a Peerless car, covered the distance in three minutes flat, judging the speed to an exact fraction of a second.

The second event was for runabouts rated as under twenty horse power. The event was won by Nicols, driving a Franklin four-cylinder runabout, who covered the two miles of the race in 3 minutes 14½ seconds.

C. H. Vandevoord won the fourth event, a race for touring cars rated at twenty horse power and under. The distance was three miles, and Vandevoord drove his Moline the distance in 4 minutes and 44 seconds.

The fifth event was another speed-judging contest, this time the cars going a mile at twenty miles an hour. Speed indicators and clocks were covered as before. Tom Hendry in a Moline covered the mile in three minutes flat, duplicating the feat of Ely in judging the pace absolutely right to a fraction of a second.

The free-for-all runabout class was won by Bert Dingley, who drove a Pope-Hartford. The distance was ten miles, and Dingley sent his car around the ten circuits of the track in twelve minutes and forty-two seconds.

The next event was a 100-yard dash for gas cars only. Jack Fleming, driving a Pierce-Arrow annexed this race in 11⅘ seconds.

The big event of the day was the struggle for the Del Monte Cup, so many contestants appeared for this event that it had to be run in heats. Max Rosenfeld was victorious, driving his Peerless car to the tape in 6 minutes and 16⅘ seconds. As a consolation event there followed a five-mile race for touring cars over twenty-four horse power, from which the winner of the Del Monte Cup was barred. This event was won by Warner in a Packard, who covered the course in 6 miutes and 13⅘ seconds.

The five-mile free-for-all was won by a Stevens-Duryea, six-cylinder car in 5 minutes and 44 seconds, the fastest time of the day.

Morris Wins Prize Bat for Half-Century Score.

Hunt and Higgins Get in Fine Work With the Ball.

Keen Fielding on Both Sides Meets With Applause.

BY MARSHAL D. TAYLOR.

The first of the test matches for the championship of Southern California was won yesterday by Los Angeles, with a score of 131 to Santa Monica's 76.

Dudley, the beach team's captain, won the toss from Higgins, and elected to bat first. Hunt, who last week made such a stand against Brown's eleven, went in first with Kelson, the former taking the first ball from Bhumgara, which he neatly cut to the boundary for 3. In driving the Parsee's fifth delivery, Kelson responded to the call from Hunt, but Mitchell fielded the ball so well and returned it so smartly to Somerville, that Kelson failed to regain his crease in time, and thus a valuable wicket was lost.

Simmonds, the next man in, remained only three overs, being neatly caught behind the wicket by the old Malvernian, Hunt and Preston now became partners. The former drove Tomkins's fourth delivery to long off for 4, and again to square leg for a 3. Bhumgara then sent down a maiden over, while Hunt places Tomkins neatly in the slips for a single. The bowling at this stage of the game was good, and the fielding up to first-class form, the men realizing that they were upon their mettle.

When Hunt had made 14, he skied a ball from Tomkins, which Friend failed to hold. This error was not due so much to the sun, but to the fact that the ball was spinning badly. This life might have proved a costly one, as Hunt is a particularly dangerous bat, but after adding 10 more runs to his score, he was beaten by a fast ground sneak from the East Indian, which bowled him. His 23 was compiled by hard driving and neat cutting.

PRETTY STROKES.

Although Preston made only 7 runs, he stayed for quite a number of overs and was applauded several times for his pretty forward strokes, which he executed in a finished style. With Justice as his partner, these two played careful cricket, and but for Higgins's superb fielding, would have added more for the fourth wicket. As it was, Justice got Tomkins nicely away to leg for 3, but on Barwell relieving the left-hander, the Zingari captain sent down a yorker which spread-eagled his wicket.

Sommerville was applauded for his splendid wicket keeping. Not only did he stand right up to the wicket, but let very few balls get past him, and backed up by the keen fielding of Mitchell and Higgins and the rest of the team, many a boundary hit was saved and converted into a single.

The telegraph board at the lunch hour showed 6 wickets down for 42 runs. On play being resumed, Dudley hit Barwell to leg for 3, playing well to forward strokes. At 50, Higgins relieves Bhumgara, when a different complexion was put upon the game. With the last ball of his first over, he clean bowled the Santa Monica captain. Cochrane very neatly placed Barwell to square leg for a 3, causing that bowler at 55 to give place to Nash. This change did not prove satisfactory, however, and with the score at 63, Mitchell relieves Nash, only to be hit to long on for 4 by Cochrane.

Higgins in his second over, sends down a wide, after which he bowls a full pitcher, which Mather fails to stop, and is dismissed after scoring 2. H. Evans, the next man in, is cleaned bowled first ball, also by the Wanderer captain. A chance then presented itself for Higgins to perform the "hat trick," but H. Y. Evans, the newcomer, instead of missing, hits the ball to leg, thus robbing that bowler of the coveted honor.

With the dismissal of Evans, the innings came to a close at 2:10 o'clock, Cochrane carrying out his bat for 18, the second highest score for his side, Higgins carried off the bowling honors, with an analysis of 5 wickets for only 8 runs, a highly creditable performance.

LOS ANGELES OPENS.

Los Angeles opened their innings at 2:25 o'clock, sending in Barwell and Sommerville, to face Hunt, who sent down a maiden. Quite a feature of the game was the interest the spectators took in it. A sweepstakes was started by many of them, the tickets being eagerly bought and sold on the chances of the star bats. Mather bowling from the opposite end, also sent down a maiden, both batsmen playing carefully. The third over also resulted in a maiden, but in Mather's second venture, Barwell had his balls removed by a rising ball, and was dismissed without scoring.

Nash now came in, but only to see Sommerville's off stump knocked clean out of the ground by Hunt, the ball coming back fast. The score sheet at this time showed 4 overs, no runs, 2 wickets, and 4 maidens. The rot was temporarily stopped by Nash and Morris, the former hitting Hunt to square leg for 3, and the latter sent Mather to long leg for 4. In the ninth over, Nash, in hitting out to a straight one from Hunt, misjudged the pace and was bowled.

Then came the greatest partnership Southern California has witnessed in first class cricket for many a long day, v.z., that between Morris and Mitchell. Both came in at a most critical period. Three good wickets were down for only 13 runs, with Hunt and Mather almost unplayable. The Lancashire man cut Mather nicely for 2, while Mitchell drove Hunt for 3 to the boundary, following this up in the same over, with a magnificent hit to long off for 4.

This hard hitting had the effect of thoroughly rousing the Los Angeles players, who were feeling none too well pleased with themselves, and helped somewhat to allay the fear of defeat. The 20 went up, then the 30, and by hard hitting, driving and pulling to leg, these two batsmen had the 50 up on the board in very short time, amidst much applause. At 52 Little relieved Hunt and very nearly got Morris run out, as that batsman hit him to square leg for a possible 2, but Sweet fielded the ball so smartly and returned it so quickly to Dudley, that Morris had barely time to regain his crease. Mitchell blocked several hard deliveries, and both he and Morris gave the beach fielders all the leather hunting they wanted.

At point, Justice distinguished himself while Preston at mid on, shared equally in the applause for close fielding.

At 60, Cochrane relieved Mather, but failed to effect a separation, and with Morris and Mitchell hitting boundary after boundary, the score was raised to within 6 of Santa Monica's total for the loss of only 3 wickets. The honor of making the winning hit, fell to Morris, who drove Cochrane to mid on for 3, amidst much enthusiasm.

After the interval for tea, Hunt again took the ball, and began so well, that he dismissed Mitchell, who failed to stop a fast one, while playing back to it. This partnership had lasted exactly fifty-five minutes, and in that time, the score was raised from 13 for 3 wickets, to 81 for 4, thus giving a substantial lead. The remainder of the batsmen gave little or no trouble, with the exception of Gadsdon and Montague, who each hit a 4, and Bhumgara, who got a 3 to long off, the whole side being out at 5:25 o'clock for 131.

The Los Angeles club expects to present Morris with a prize bat, in recognition of his magnificent innings of 50 runs, who, by sterling cricket saved the Angel City from meeting a possible defeat at a most critical state of the game. Mayor T. H. Dudley has presented a cup, which will be competed for by these two teams, in a series of five test matches, the first of which has fallen to Los Angeles.

AUSTRALIAN SC... NO MATCH FO...

Gives Pitiable Exhibiti... and Goes Down to L... Round—"Examiner's"... ing Reaps Own Rewar...

BY HARRY CARR.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A yell of laughter went up from the crowd at Colma, today, when Jim Jeffries counted out the Australian wonder at the end of about fifteen seconds of fighting.

The story is simple but sad. Mr. Burns walked into the middle of the ring and knocked Mr. Squires down three times as fast as he could get up. The third time Mr. Squires composed himself to rest and lay there while the referee counted ten and the sun sank on the islands of the South Seas.

It is the biggest joke that ever happened in the prize ring. Squires is the protege and proud discovery of W. W. Naughton, the well-known fight "expert" on the Hearst papers. In Squires, the expert's skilled eye discovered such fighting genius that the Australian made the long voyage to this country as a new star dawned.

Bill Squires certainly is a wonder. His head is almost perfectly square, his face looks like an ironing board. Through the middle of it down in the lower portion is a long, jagged slit into which he pokes his food. He has a fist like a sack of beans.

ROTTEN FAKE STORIES.

Misled by the Examiner's rotten fakes about Squires, thousands of dollars were lost on him. The fight took place in a brand new pavilion erected by Jimmy Coffroth at Colma—a little hamlet just over the border of San Mateo county. It is built in a natural amphitheater of the hills. Crowds of economical persons swarmed over these hills like browsing goats and looked down upon what must have appeared to be little bobbing white specks in the valley.

The fight was preceded by a vast hegira of sports. A crowd of 5000 or 6000 San Francisco sports is a sight to remember. There were coon sports with enormous gold watch chains and well-dressed men with diamond-studded watch chains dangling from the lapel into the coat pocket.

There was a newly-discovered brand of sport—the Goldfield-Tonopah variety. Just as the fight ended, one of these, a red-faced person in a sombrero with a terrible bullet scar in his chest, got up and yelled with a voice of triumph:

"Now Bill you can't say that you oughtn't to have took my advice."

CARS UNMOLESTED.

Although trouble was expected by the United Railroads Company, none occurred. Toughs along Mission street hollered out sociably to the cars as they went by returning from the fight, asking how it turned out.

The preliminary was fought by Frankie Edwards, a sorrowful looking, slender boy with chrysanthemum hair clustered down in the middle, who punched the face of Johnnie Murphy, a typical "South of Market street lad," with a mouth like an earthquake fissure.

Murphy really was licked half a dozen times but being Irish, couldn't see it that way. Round after round he tottered dizzily into his corner with his wan smile on his face. But toward the end he came back strong and vicious. He showed his teeth and snarled and snarled like a fighting bulldog. Edwards jabbed him in the face until his lips were spongy with blood and his face swollen and distorted. But the chrysanthemum lad lacked the knockout punch. He grew so tired he could hardly raise his fists.

Eddie Hanlon was the referee and was visibly uneasy as the gong rang for the end of the fight and both fighters put down their muffled fists and glared at him. Hanlon cast one funny scared look out at the crowd and threw up his hands to show it was a draw. As Edwards went back to his corner his left arm hung limp and it was seen that he had hurt himself badly.

CAST FOR BIG FIGHT.

After they cleared away this scrap the cast of characters for the big fight came crawling through the ring. First was Tim McGrath with a sort of nurse maid's cap bound around his curly locks. He was waving a little green flag. A great cheer greeted big Jeffries. Jeff had a lump on his jaw the size of a hat from the effect of a two-round draw with a dentist.

"You're catching lumpy jaw from your cows," some one sang out.

Battling Nelson and Jimmy were introduced.

Squires came into the ring before Burns.

"Oh, gee what a rube," was the cheering comment from the crowd as Squires stripped off his coat and showed his gaunt brown, rustic frame. Burns followed and both men were introduced.

Squires grinned in an embarrassed, nervous way. He seemed to be a little frightened.

Burns looked out at the cheering crowd with an air of cynical, half-veiled insolence. He nodded in a bored, indifferent way.

There was a great lot of posing. For the benefit of the unhappy moving picture that will never be used, now, they got the two fighters up opposite each other and had them glaring in battle pose. Every time they would get ready some newspaper photographer would get in the way and they would have to glare again.

The fighters were good natured and were laughing and talking with each other. They went to their corners. Squires sat down and his seconds began rubbing his legs and splashing him with advice and water. Burns sat alone to his corner and holding on to the ropes thoughtfully rubbed his feet into the rosin.

SQUIRES RUSHES.

As the going rang Squires burst across the ring at a run with his fists raised. They clinched without a word and fiddled rapidly around the ring. Just as they completed the circle, Burns swung like lightning with his right and Squires went heavily to the floor making a positive thump as he struck the mat.

Squires went back to Burns. He seemed a little dazed and had a big lump just in front of the left ear. Burns mixed it several times and clinched. Squires hit Burns hard in the face.

Suddenly Squires stumbled backward and went down with a big kerplunk into the middle of the ring. AUSTRALIAN SQUIRES NO MATCH FOR BURNS.

Gives Pitiable Exhibition of Boxing and Goes Down to Defeat in First Round—"Examiner's" Fake Boosting Reaps Own Reward.

Squires sprang quickly to his feet, and went back to Burns. He looked a little dazed and had a big bump in front of the left ear. He rubbed it several times and looked at Squires hit Burns hard in the jaw and he fell heavily like a steer struck between the eyes.

Some men when knocked out are very pitiful. They moan and try to rise with a face drawn and distorted with agony. Bill went peacefully to sleep. Once he opened his eyes and looked up reproachfully at Jeff counting him out. He turned half over, then rolled back and went to sleep again, like a man who has found that the alarm clock has gone off an hour early by mistake.

Jeff was very much agitated. He leaned over Bill's prostrate form and every time he counted made a tremendous right hook into the air, any one of which would have killed a steer.

"Bill watched from his glazed, half-closed eyes with alarm lest the hooks should get too near. As the crowd rushed out for the cars one man exclaimed mournfully: "And I came all the way from Goldfield for this."

"FALSE ALARM."

FIGHT FANS DISAPPOINTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—Bill Squires, the much heralded champion of Australia, succumbed to the blow of a Canadian fist at Colma today, after he had been in the ring two minutes and eight seconds with Tommy Burns. The men who witnessed the brief meeting between the two pugilists were charitable enough not to call him a "dub." They designated him a "false alarm" who should have been pitted against a fourth-rate fighter rather than any pugilist with the slightest possession of ring skill.

To say that the 9000 persons who journeyed out to Colma to witness the fight were disappointed, would be phrasing it too mildly. It was a hot day and the journey to Colma was a disagreeable one. Hundreds of persons came from other States to see the leading fighter of the Antipodes battle with the light heavyweight champion of the United States and anticipation was keyed up to the highest pitch.

From the standpoint of the average spectator the outcome would have been amusing if less effort had been required to reach the arena.

The fight was practically ended the moment the gong sounded for the men to advance to the center of the ring. That the defensive skill of the Australian was exceedingly poor was speedily attested, for in ten seconds he was prone upon the mat. A well directed right from Tommy Burns' fist struck him flush upon the jaw. It did not have force enough behind it to give Squires his quietus and after taking the count of four he arose in a wobbly fashion and rushed at Burns. The two came into a clinch immediately, but were quickly separated in the center of the ring by big Jim Jeffries, the referee.

FOLLOWING ADVANTAGE.

Burns lost no time in following up the advantage he had gained so early. Out shot the dangerous right again and a second time the champion of Australia was on the canvas with the undefeated champion of the world standing over him slowly calling off the seconds.

But the end was not yet. Squires evidently had some stayling powers in the face of the punishment administered to him, and he rose up weakly and slowly, while Jeffries held back Burns until his adversary was in position to defend himself.

It seemed almost a needless task for Jeffries to go through the formality of counting the man out. The fight lasted exactly two minutes and eight seconds.

When Squires was seen after the fight he said that he had been led to believe that Burns was not a "knocker out." He had been told that Burns did not possess the strength to put a man to sleep with a few blows and this belief had made him careless at the beginning of the contest which resulted in the early blow to the jaw which dazed him.

Burns said:

"I saw the moving pictures of Squires in training which were placed on exhibition. When I saw how he carried himself and how he acted, I went into the ring with the fullest confidence that I would be the winner."

MEN WEAR FLAGS.

The big show began at 2:05 o'clock when Squires, preceded by Tim McGrath, carrying a blue flag, entered the ring. He was greeted with cheers. Squires wore green trunks, a brown sweate and a campaign hat. He did not give the impression of being a big man, but he looked well-built and rugged. When he took his hat off his hair was seen to be close-cropped. He took a seat in the northwest corner of the ring and awaited the arrival of Burns.

A couple of minutes after Burns attired in a long bath robe, entered the ring, but neither man was greeted with much enthusiasm. Burns walked over and shook hands with Squires, and then sat down in the opposite corner from the Australian. Squires had his wrists and hands bound with tape.

Squires posed for his pictures while his manager stood behind him and waved the Australian flag. Billy Jordan introduced him as a "rough diamond" from Australia, "Bill" Squires.

Then Burns stepped up, with the American flag waving behind him. Jordan introduced him as "the heavyweight champion of America, Tommy Burns." Burns was clad in green and red tights with an American flag as a belt.

Burns won the toss and chose the northwest corner, with his back to the sun.

MAKE BIG MONEY.

The receipts were far beyond expectations. The inclosure was crowded, and it is estimated that the proceeds were between $26,000 and $27,000. Burns earns $18,000 by his victory, a $10,000 side bet and his $8000 guaranty. Squires takes 24 per cent. of the gross gate receipts.

The arena is located just outside the county line, and is in San Mateo county, where the regulations as to gambling are not so stringent as in San Francisco. For several blocks lining the road leading to the inclosure booths had been established where various games of chance were in full spring.

The pea and shell games, chuckaluck, Klondike, roulette and numerous other devices designed to separate the unwary from his money were in full operation. In the arena men carrying clinking handfuls of gold and rolls of greenbacks wandered through the crowd offering even money that Burns would not last ten rounds, and 10 to 9 that Squires could win.

The crowd evidently relished the freedom that has not been obtained recently in San Francisco.

TOMMY SULLIVAN DEFEATS ATTELL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan defeated Abe Attell in a catch-as-catch-can. In a wrestling match at League Park this evening. Abe won the first fall by a crotch hold after five minutes grappling.

The little Hebrew showed up much better in this bout than Sullivan, displaying more strength and exhibiting more knowledge of the wrestling game than his opponent, but the Missouri Athletic club boxing instructor came back strong in the second and flattened Abe's shoulders against the mat after the men had wrestled for six minutes and thirty seconds. Sullivan won this with a double Nelson hold.

Attell threw himself and lost the match to Sullivan after fifteen minutes of wrestling, the third time the pair grappled. He was attempting to bridge out of a bad hole when he rolled over and Sullivan promptly pinned his shoulders to the mat. The bout was refereed by Harry Sharpe. Sullivan protested against Sharpe's decision in the first bout, but Harry waved him aside and the incident ended then and there. Young Corbett saw the contest.

UNCLE RUSSEL SKIPS.

REFUSES TO BOX FOR HOUSE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VALLEJO, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Unk" Russell refused to enter the ring with George Herberts, this afternoon on grounds that there was not sufficient money. He had obtained $212 from Manager Grenan of the Palm Athletic Club for transportation from Philadelphia for himself and trainer, and signed articles to fight for fifty per cent. of the house receipts, division on a sixty and forty per cent. basis.

When the time to fight arrived, he refused to return forfeit money, made no preparations to fight and left the hall. Sports present were willing to make purse if he would go on but he didn't wait to hear the proposition.

In the preliminary, Kid Lafayette of Sacramento received the decision over Jack Shields, of Crockett, in 16 rounds.

Up to the sixth inning, with Glover in the box for Y.M.C.A., the score was 3 to 3, but when he strained his arm and had to retire High School had a walk-over. The batteries were Phelps and Gregg for Redlands High, and Glover, Best and Canterbury for Y.M.C.A.

Tourist Wins at Corona.

In connection with the Fourth of July celebration at Corona, there was held in the morning a hill climb for automobiles. The course was over a well-paved street ninety feet wide which runs a distance of three miles from the center of town to the foothills, having an average grade of 5 per cent. There were four starters. A two-cylinder Tourist, sent from the Los Angeles factory, won first place in 5:01. Another two-cylinder Tourist, driven by D. A. Dundas of Riverside, took second.

BEAVERS GET TWO GAMES.

Two Bush Pitchers Go Up Like Skyrockets.

Gamble and Traeger Prove to Be Only Sizzers.

Bad Celebration for Two Big Holiday Crowds.

Portland 8, Los Angeles 2. First game.

Portland 3, Los Angeles 2. Second game.

After long days of labor and nights devoid of ease, the Beavers celebrated the Fourth in a hilarious manner yesterday with a fizz and a bang, by taking both games of a double-header from the Looloos. They would probably have taken a few more, but there didn't happen to be any more played. Over 1000 fans saw the morning game and about 1500 were there in the afternoon, notwithstanding that weather was about the warmest of the season.

Hereafter, when Manager Berry of the Los Angeles team sees any one coming that looks like he might be a "favorite son" pitcher or who even makes a noise like one, some one will be shot down in "cold blood" or hot, either. It may be Berry or it may be the one that's making for him, but if Berry sees him first, something will drop. In every town there are large numbers of amateur pitchers who are possessed with the evil spirit of believing that if they only had a chance, they could make batters like Chase, Chance, Donlin, Seymour and a dozen other big leaguers look like Little Red Riding Hood trying to bluff the wolves into thinking she was too tough to eat.

Now for some days Manager Berry has been pestered by a lot of fellows who declared that a local busher named Gamble was a regular cannon cracker and Berry decided to see, so he let Gamble pitch in the morning game. He did well enough for four innings, until the Beavers found out that he was considered a cannon cracker, and they proceeded to touch him off. He sizzled in a dangerous manner in the fifth inning and then in the seventh, splattered and went off with a bang. The pieces were picked up and thrown on the bench and a new bomb was put in position. This proved to be one Bill Traeger, who is said to have once pitched at Pomona, or thereabouts. Bill was exploded in the first chance the Beavers had at him and between the explosions, the locals lost the game by a score of 8 to 2.

In this first game the grand stand was half filled with the friends of young Gamble and they cheered everything good that he did and when he went four innings without the Beavers getting a run, they yelled so loud that you would have thought he was the greatest pitcher since Rube Waddell dived off a church steeple into a well and came up with a frog in his mouth. After the fifth inning they backed up and when the seventh was over the silence was so painful that you could have heard a gum drop. You could have listened to the silence and actually heard yourself trying to hear something. It was so oppressive when Bill Traeger was being set on fire, for the bang of this second busher seemed like the echo from the first. Meanwhile, Califf was holding a punk under the noses of the Looloos and making them believe. They didn't hurt him enough to hurt him, and they were there because they were there.

The weather was hot enough to give Abe Ruef or John Rockefeller a hunch on the future life, but there was some very pretty ball just the same. Casey made a big pyrotechnic display at second with hits, runs, outs and assists and it would have been hard to beat the kind of playing he did. Mott and Schimpff also did great work and the winners certainly were entitled to a victory, on their fielding alone. Jud Smith was also very noticeable and covered himself with glory.

In the fifth for Portland Califf was passed and went to second on Bassey's sacrifice. Mott then drew a pass and both he and Califf advanced a base when Casey slammed one to left. McCredie followed with a safe swipe past short, scoring Califf and sending Casey to second. Casey stole third and scored on a wild pitch. In the seventh inning, Bassey walked and was sacrificed to second by Mott. Then Casey bunted in front of the plate and Bassey scored on Eager's juggle of the ball. McCredie was hit by pitcher, went to second on Atherton's drive to right; to third on the throw-in of the ball and scored on Delmas's wild fumble of Donahue's grounder.

Then Gamble was taken out and Traeger was given a chance in the eighth inning. The first thing he did was to pass Schimpff and then Califf hit him for a single to left. Bassey was then out, on being hit by a ball he batted himself. Mott was hit by pitcher and Casey poked a grounder at Smith, who forced Schimpff at the plate. McCredie followed with a triple over third base that scored Califf, Mott and Casey.

Los Angeles made its first run on Delmas's single to center, Donahue's juggle of it and a passed ball. The second came from Delmas's double to left, Hogan's single and Traeger's out at first.

AFTERNOON GAME.

The principal feature of the matinée was the way the Looloos tore at Groom in the effort to get back the game they had lost in the morning, but another equally good feature was the way in which Groom came back at them. He had Carnes in against him and they had a very warm pitcher's battle, which Groom won because he had the luck with him. Groom struck out seven men, Bernard set the crowd afire with a fine running catch in center and Donahue took a bad tumble in center field in trying to catch a fly ball. These were about the only features, but the fans were busy with the hot weather applause all the time, for the score was close and the struggle was not over until the last man was put out.

The history of the game is told by the third inning for Portland, for it was then that the three runs were made that won the game. Donahue opened the fourth by walking and went to second on a wild pitch. Moore then cracked a grounder to Brashear, who tried to catch Donahue at third, but failed. Schimpff hit to Brashear and he again tried to head off Donahue, but at the plate this time, and again failed. Groom fouled to Eager and Bassey forced Schimpff at second. Mott was walked and Moore scored when Jud Smith juggled Casey's grounder. McCredie scored the third run by sending in Bassey with an infield hit to Delmas.

The first run for the locals came from Delmas's single, Jud Smith's wild throw of the ball to first and left, stole second and scored when Donahue let the ball get past him when Moore threw to second to try and stop Dillon's steal. After this, Groom settled down and there was no more doing in the run line.

CERTIFICATE OF PLAY.

T. G. and T.'s Win Hard-Fought Game of Ten Innings—Playground Sports.

About six hundred people gathered on Playground No. 2, despite the hot weather yesterday afternoon and watched the Playground baseball team play the Title, Guarantee and Trust Company team. At the end of the ninth inning, the score stood 4 to 4. The tie was played off and turned out eventually 7 to 4 in favor of the T. G. and T.'s. It was a good game with the playground boys holding their own in great style. Edward Haight did the star playing of the game both in the pitcher's box and at the bat. In the third inning Playground made its four runs and until the eighth the score was 4 to 2 in their favor. The team is just beginning to get together and by the time they get their suits and a little more practice they expect to lay it all over any possible comers.

Besides the game, the gym clubs from both L. A. High and "Poly" under the direction of O. S. Lowsley gave a strenuous and much appreciated exhibition in tumbling from the buck and pyramid formation. A brass band was kept going from 3 to 5 and all the courts, croquet, tennis and basketball grounds were in continual use.

The line-up for the baseball game was:

T. G. & T.		Playground
Pence	catcher	Besson
Logan	first base	Bryam
Golt	second base	Bird
Ball	third base	Labivere
Robbins	short stop	McAleer

SANTA BARBARA BASEBALL TEAM BEATEN BY SAN DIEGO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] San Diego won the championship game in the four-cornered Elks baseball championship tournament here, this afternoon, by the score of 9 to 0.

The visitors proved that they were a well-organized bunch of players and with Carson in the box and Works behind the bat, they are up to minor league grade standing.

San Diego, on Tuesday defeated the Los Angeles Elks; score 5 to 4; yesterday the home team nearly shut out Pomona; today Santa Barbara only got another drubbing from the crack Southlanders. They couldn't hit Carson's puzzlers a little bit, while Crumrine deserted Santa Barbara's box in the fourth and Harris pitched with better results, but too late.

It would be a shame to tell the full story of the same. The visitors plugged Crumrine all over the field and scored at will. Wild pitches by Santa Barbara were numerous and while her batters fanned out in monotonous succession, San Diego kept the outfielders searching for the leather. Harris, who redeemed the home team, allowed no runs and few hits, but the mischief was done.

A record-breaking crowd witnessed Santa Barbara's chagrin. The utmost good feeling prevailed among players of all four teams.

STRUCK BY BATTED BALL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FORT WORTH (Tex.), July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After suffering three years from a cancer, as the result of being struck by a batted ball, in a game at Abilene, Robert F. Tackaberry of No. 405 Ryan street is dead.

Mr. Tackaberry was well known in sporting circles throughout the State, having for several seasons been a star player in the Lone Star League. He also managed independent teams in other States as well as Texas. Of late years he was a salesman for the Price Miller buggy firm and as one of his friends expressed it, "he knew not the meaning of an enemy." He was 32 years of age and unmarried.

BELL AND WAY WIN DOUBLES.

Racquet Experts Battle for Honors at Venice.

Noble and Bundy Win Out in the Singles.

Ladies' Finals Will Be the Order for Today.

The opening day of the Country Club tennis tournament at Venice yesterday was a success in all of its features. Before a far more crowded grand stand than attended any of the championship matches at the beach last year, some exceptionsily high-class tennis was presented by the leading experts of Southern California.

The weather at the beach was ideal for the players, and the excessive heat prevailing uptown was lacking. The tournament committee, headed by J. W. Lawrence of the Country Club, kept things moving all the time, and in spite of the record-breaking number of entries and events, there will be no difficulty in completing the tournament in the next two days, owing to the number of matches run off today.

The feature of the day's play was the doubles match between Bell and Way and Sinsabaugh and Nat Browne. The teams met in the lower half semi-finals of the doubles tournament. Sinsabaugh and Browne were the winners of last year's Fourth of July tournament at Venice and also won the Southern California doubles championship in August. Bell and Way retired out of the singles tournament and were therefore much fresher than their younger opponents, both of whom had been called upon to play three matches in singles. Bell played brilliantly, and the steady support of his partner enabled them to get out ahead at the end of two sets and fiercely fought sets that kept the crowd stand on edge from beginning to end.

The upper half of the doubles is divided in three teams, with the odds slightly in favor of Bundy and Overton.

FIERCE SINGLES.

The best matches in the men's singles were those between Bundy and Overton and Noble and Freeman. Noble took the easterners into camp after three hardly contested sets. Dawson, the junior player, made an exceptionally clever showing against Bundy, but was unable to annex a set. The singles are finished practically down to the semi-finals, with Bundy paired with Browne in the upper half, and Sinsabaugh facing Noble in the lower.

Only one or two matches were played in the ladies' events yesterday, and these will be given over by bringing them down to the finals and finishing the men's doubles to the final round. All of the drawings have been made except the ladies' doubles, which will be held in the morning.

MELVILLE LONG WINS.

STATE TENNIS CHAMPION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Melville Long, of the California Tennis Club, annexed another championship title on the courts in Golden Gate Park. In the challenge match for the State Championship he was opposed to his brother, Herbert, and won without the loss of a set.

Melville Long played the best tennis that has been seen on the local tennis courts in a number of years and he well earned the State championship title.

After the first set the outcome of the match was never in doubt. Melville went right into the lead in the second set and finally won by a score of 6 to 3. The champion assumed the lead in the set and soon had the score 5 to 1 in his favor. Just to keep peace in the family, at this stage he allowed his big brother to win the next two games. Then he settled down to business again and ran out the set.

The semi-final match was played in the morning and Melville Long showed the same good form that he did in the afternoon. He was opposed to ex-coast champion George Janes and the latter was outclassed from start to finish.

Miss Hotchkiss of Berkeley, successfully defended her title as Women's Champion of the State.

Miss Golda Myer of the Ladies Annex Tennis Club, winner of the tournament challenged her for the championship and the match proved the best of the day.

Miss Hotchkiss won the first set rather easily by score of 6 to 3, but the outcome of the second set was always in doubt until the last point had been won. In fact it looked at times as though Miss Myer could hardly lose. The games went to deuce and then Miss Myer went into the lead at 6 to 5. On the twelfth game she had the commanding lead of 30 to 0, but could not make the two points necessary to win the set.

Both contestants drove well throughout the match, but Miss Hotchkiss was the steadier, which won for her. The complete score was 6 to 3, 8 to 6.

LAUNCH RACES AND NOVELTIES IN SEA ATHLETICS.

Features of Day at Avalon Are Contests of Swift Power Boats—Tilting in Tournament of Skiffs Causes Merriment—Baseball in Water Now Style of Sport.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

AVALON, July 4.—Boat racing, swimming and novelty water games made up the day's sport for the Fourth.

At 10 o'clock this morning the programme began with the launch races over a three-mile course.

The first was for launches of five horse-power in which the entries were, the Katherine, F. Lloyd, skipper; Mabel, George Farnsworth; Adelaide, Sam Golding. They made a pretty race, holding so closely together that it was anybody's race to the finish, which resulted in the order named. Time, 16m. 2s. Prizes, $20, $10 and $5.

In the second race, for launches of three horse-power, the Nymph, Jack McKendrick, skipper; Wave Crest, Fred Belisle, and Nick, Harry Nichols, finished in the order named in 21:05. Prizes were $10 and $5.

The third was a special for boats of five horse-power. The finish was: Algeria, George Johnson, skipper, first; Maymo, McKay, second; Pirate, Enos Varilla, third; Ethel, Weston, fourth; Rival, Joe Croner, fifth. Time, 15:25. Prizes $20, $10 and $5.

The most interesting of the races were those of the eight horse-power launches. There were four entries, as follows: Irene, Charley Staples; Matillija, Freu Walton; Tio Juan, Chris Ringsin; Zeus, Tony the Greek. The latter had some difficulty with his engine, which prevented his getting away with the others, and he was practically out of the race from the beginning. The bthers, almost from the start, won neck and neck. The Matillija had the advantage at the first stake boat and rounded first, keeping a slight lead until the second stake was passed, when the Irene stole up on her and after closely contesting the last mile, passed the line a foot or more in the lead, the Tio Juan bein- only a few feet behind the second boat. Prizes $20, $10 and $5.

At 1:30 o'clock the amusements began with a fencing bout on the water, in which the contestants stood on planks extending over the stern of skiffs, and punched their antagonists with long poles, the ends of which were well padded with sacking. It created a vast deal of merriment, as one or the other or both of the gladiators lost his balance and went headlong into the water. Harry Allen worsted five competitors, and won first money, $20. Fred Belisle got the second prize of $10.

The skiff race was between George Farnsworth, Burt Allen and "Mexican Joe." They finished in the order named.

The baseball match was contested by players perched on bits of boards which would barely hold them up. Misadventures and mix-ups were numerous and served to greatly amuse the audience. Jim Gardner umpired.

The winnig team was composed of Harry Allen, Rolla and Ed Robe, Clarence Brody, Guy and Jack Travilla, and Frank Whitley. They received $70, or $10 to each of the winners, and $5 to each loser.

The five entries in the ladies' swimming race finished with Bela Stevenson first, Emma Earhart second, Elsie Travilla third, Clara Stevenson and Mrs. Fratus.

Ezique Adargo won the girls' swimming race, with Eleanor Curtis second.

In the boy's swimming race, Jack Aravilla was first and Ford Travilla second.

MAY SUTTON IN WINNING FORM.

HAS LITTLE TROUBLE GETTING INTO THE FINALS.

Contest With Miss Wilson Proves to Be an Exciting One—Championship Match Is Set for Today—Experts Inclined to Favor the Chances of the Pasadena Girl.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss May Sutton, at Wimbledon today, successfully stormed the last trench which separated her from the citadel she expects to capture tomorrow—the ladies' lawn tennis championship. Her opponent in the final today, Miss C. M. Wilson, gave her many anxious moments in the first set, after the Californian had obtained a commanding lead of 5-2, but the American came through the ordeal with flying colors.

She began in her usual confident and aggressive style, mixing her game more than usual, but basing her attack chiefly on her cross-drives, which were beautifully pitched. At 5-3, Miss Sutton had a momentary lapse, and lost the game that might have proved crucial, but she soon placed the set to her credit at 6-4. Thus fortified, the former champion gave a brilliant exhibition, her back-hand work being astonishingly sound and effective. Leading by 5-1, Miss Sutton reached 40-love, and the match seemed over, but Miss Wilson exhibited rare pluck and won six aces in succession and the game. Miss Sutton then took the eighth game and the match at 6-4, 6-2.

The challenge round, in which Mrs. Chambers defends her title, takes place tomorrow. Miss Sutton having agreed to forego the usual day's rest. Appearances point to a close match and a fine struggle, but the experts' opinion is inclined to favor the American invader, whose confidence is supreme and who expects to win. Late tonight Mrs. Chambers broke her favorite racquet, and will play tomorrow with an entirely new one.

WINS TIMES TROPHY.

must have been wet, for the little sloop was taking everything that came, with all her canvas aloft, Mrs. Mellen was always to windward with the crew when it was a case of "tack ship," and won many cheers for her dainty seamanship.

Neither Hilda nor Irma entered, nor did Valkyrie or Muriel, the reason generally given being that all the available sailormen of the club were busy on other boats. But all of them were out to see the start, manned by scratch cruising crews. At Point Firmin there was a crowd of yachting enthusiasts, who strained their eyes through marine glasses in an endeavor to keep track of the racers.

As a result of the Independence Day regatta, Mischief II wins the Times challenge cup and the first prize offered for her class, a cup, given by the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce; the second prize, merchandise, by same donors, going to Columbine. Venus wins first prize in her class, C, and Merlin second prize in same class, while Myth gets first in class D, and Portola gets second in same class.

The chief fight was between Mischief and Columbine, and the talk around the clubhouse after the race was that in any kind of a breeze, and an outside course reasonably free from fluky puffs, the Mischief II is the better boat, although it is conceded that, given a very light, free wind, the Columbine might walk away from the Folsom boat.

Junior Outsails Opponents in Twenty-Footer Class — Coronado Yacht Races Over Triangular Course Prove Good Sport—Skipjacks Sail in Good Time and Close Finish.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The winners in this afternoon's yacht regatta at Coronado were the Meteor, in the swallow class; Junior, in the twenty-footers; Seville, in the yawls, and Clair in the skipjacks. The races were sailed in a fairly-good breeze from the south, the course being twice around a triangle, one mile to each leg. The swallows were given a flying start at 2 o'clock. The finish was: Meteor, 2:59:03; Satanic, 3:01:07; Phantom, 3:01:59.

The finish of the twenty-footers, which started at 2:05, was: Lehnan, scratch, 3:10:23; Junior, handicap 2 min. 43 sec., 3:06:30; Grampus, 3 min. 35 sec., 3:11:52; Syiph, 3 min. 35 sec., 3:10:09.

The yawls started at 2:10. The finish: Jerry, handicap, 30 sec., 3:16:06; Ironda, scratch, 3:18:39; Seville, 9 min., 3:24:02; Iolo, 5 min., 3:33:05.

Skip-jacks, starting at 2:15. The finish: Tarpon, scratch, 3:20:54; Ripple, handicap, 1 min., 3:25; Unome, —, 3:27:03; Blaire, 2 min., 3:21:50; Kid, 3 min., 3:23:20; Lark, 4 min., 3:25:35; Tomboy, 7 min., 3:28:47; Flirt, —, 3:24:07.

In the swallow class the Meteor made the six miles in 59 min. 2 sec., the Satanic in 2 minutes longer, the Phantom being 52 sec. astern of the Satanic. The Satanic lost the lead on the second leg, the Meteor keeping it the balance of the race.

With the twenty-footers the Junior took and held the lead throughout the race. With the yawls Jerry was made to take second place by the Ironda, holding it until the second time around. Jerry then hoisted a spinnaker, gaining 1 min. ½ sec. on the Ironda. In the third leg of the first time around the Seville broke her rudder. She was steered with an oar the balance of the time, with the time allowance winning the race.

In the skip-jacks the Claire and Tarpon made a pretty finish, crossing the line within one-half minute of each other, and being within speaking distance all the time. The races were for handsome prizes offered by the management of Coronado Tent City.

Puff of Wind at End of Race Pushes New Champion Over Line Half a Length in Lead—Peggy's Laurels Now Crown Rival's Gaff—Antares Bad Third.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a tight, three-cornered race over a six-mile triangular course in the channel, in a light west breeze, this afternoon, Coert Voorhees's catboat, Peggy, surrendered her laurels to her new rival, Volga, owned by John Edwards and sailed by Don Leach. Evenly matched, it was a battle of seamanship, and the race was in doubt to the last half minute. The third cat rig, Guido Corsini's Antares also ran.

Volga got away first, with Peggy close astern, and Antares tagging along half a minute later. It was a free run to the first mark, half a mile, and in the jockeying for windward position, Coert Voorhees outgeneraled his rival, but in doffing his spinnaker the halyards jammed and the sail formed a windpocket that sent her to leeward, losing her gain.

The hustle for the whistling buoy was made in one reach, with the contestants widely separated, Volga leading, Peggy second, and Antares a bad third. The reach to the third mark gave Peggy an advantage, and she rapidly overhauled the leader, turning into the home run one minute after the Volga. The latter was tardy in breaking out her spinnaker, while Peggy's dropped instantly. Antares did not use a spinnaker. Peggy lapped and passed Volga half a mile from last turn, but Volga, skillfully retaining windward berth, repeatedly blanketed her speedy antagonist.

The whole free run to the finish was a series of blanketing matches. Running neck and neck, both leaders were within 100 yards of the line, when Don Leach, sailing the Volga, caught a strong puff, and the crossed the finish line half a boat's length ahead of Peggy.

	Times start—	Times of finish.
Volga,	2:30:00	3:33:00
Peggy,	2:33:10	3:33:02

Winner's elapsed time—1h. 2m.

Preceding the race of Class A was a contest of smaller craft, comprising Dr. Spencer's cat-rig, Amigo Mio, finishing first; "Bobby" Doulton's sloop Avidere, second; Fred Low's Chiquita, third; time, over three short legs, 4 miles, 48 minutes.

Judges, Pr B. Yates and S. V. MacGillivray; timers, G. E. Voorhees and Harry Doulton; starter, Capt. George Gourley.

WOULD PROMOTE OCEAN CONTESTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Something new in ocean swimming will be tried this season at Brighton Beach, where two immense floats are being placed about 400 feet out from the big bathing establishment. The floats are exactly 100 yards apart and between them the races will be held. The best long and short distance swimmers in the country being brought here for contests by the offer of cash and other prizes.

The popularity of this sport which was attested by the 180,000 bathers at Brighton last season, has also led Manager T. J. Cox to erect a big grand stand on the beach and to project a big aquatic carnival for July and August for which amateur and professional swimmers will enter.

FAINTS AS HE NEARS FINISH.

SWIMMER SINKS AT RACE END, BUT IS SAVED.

Waller Fought for Victory Until Strength Gave Out—Los Angeles Man Wins Gold Medal—Motor Boat Contests Called Off—Boy's Swimming Race Won by Gilmore.

While the racing-launches rolled sulkily on the choppy waves of windwhipped Alamitos Bay yesterday afternoon, and their owners agreed to disagree and call off the promised race, three hardy young swimmers prepared for a contest in which only the power of human muscles was to figure and the strength of the human will.

That will played a part in the 150-yard swimming race, after physical strength had begun to fail under the strain, was shown by the fainting of one of the contestants while in full stroke and nearing the finish. The launch Napoli was near the place where the swimmer, George Waller of Naples, failed, and was instantly turned to where he had disappeared.

As the limp body came to the surface it was caught and lifted into the launch. Within half an hour thereafter, Waller, still slightly pale and uncertain on his feet, was insisting that he was well enough to take out a launch with some party of visitors to Naples.

Ernest S. Somerville of Los Angeles, a member of the Naples Rowing Club, was the winner of the race and the gold medal offered by the club. Roy L. Hasdell, a member of the Y.M.C.A., in Long Beach, was second. Waller, because his nerves and straining tendons refused to obey his determined will, did not finish.

The second race, between three boys under 16 years of age, over the same course, was won by C. Gilmore; "Bob" Parsons was second, and Edward Beale third.

The team races between the Y.M.C.A.'s of Long Beach and Pasadena have been deferred to a later date.

The motor-boat race, which has been looked forward to with eager interest for many weeks, as originally planned, was to have been a struggle between the unnamed racer owned by J. M. Becker and A. C. Parson's new boat, Daisy. The Daisy was not completed in time to try her engines thoroughly before subjecting them to the strain of a race, having been launched only last Wednesday, and her name was withdrawn.

Robert Marsh then offered to race his Peerless against the Becker racer, and his offer was accepted. The Peerless is an open boat, little resembling the torpedo-like Daisy, but has made a very good showing in trial spins. Mr. Becker, it is stated, did not relish the idea of a close contest, with no other participants, between his racer and the speedy pleasure launch.

A question of time allowance had arisen earlier in the negotiations, but after the encouraging trials of the Peerless the backers of the open boat declared themselves willing to try her against the racer without allowance.

Another fast boat, at least in purpose and appearance, which never has had an opportunity to show her pace, is the black and gold Corsair, built for the Whiting family. She lies at moorings now, not far from the much larger Daisy, fittingly white.

There will be thrilling races later between motor-boats, it is said, on Alamitos Bay.

Thomas Gets Hard Nut.

MARYSVILLE (Cal.) July 4.—The twenty-round fight between Joe Thomas, the welterweight champion, and George Ketchel was fought to a draw. Referee Eddie Smith said it was one of the best contests he has ever witnessed. In the eleventh round it looked as though Thomas would lose his title, when Ketchel floored him twice. The fight was at times very fierce.

EVENTS FOR THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. Walter Spalding, a member of the American Committee of the Olympic Games of 1908, has just returned from London. Mr. Spalding says the preliminary programme of the track and field events practically has been decided upon. The events are as follows:

The 100 meters run, 200 meters run, 400 meters run, 800 meters run, 1500 meters run, 110 meters hurdle, hurdles 3 feet 6 inches in height; 400-meters hurdle, hurdles 2 feet 6 inches in height; three-meter steeplechase, four-mile run, ten-mile walk, 3500-meter walk; hop, step and jump; pole vault, running broad jump, running high jump, throwing the sixteen-pound hammer, putting the sixteen-pound shot, tug of war, three-mile team race (five men to run, three to count;) throwing the discus, free style; throwing the javelin, free style, and a Maraton race of twenty-five miles.

Mr. Spalding points out that the foregoing events include all of the amateur athletic union track and field championships events, with the exception of throwing the fifty-six-pound weight, an event very seldom practiced abroad, and, if anything, the events favor Americans. And in place of the 220-yard low hurdle, a 440-yard low hurdle is substituted.

BALLOON GOES WELL.

New Ship Given Test Flight but Is Brought Down Because the Conditions Are Not Good.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. LOUIS, July 4.—The balloon St. Louis, recently purchased by Russell E. Gardner, for entry in the Aero Club balloon tournament in October, was used in a test trip this morning by H. E. Honeywell, secretary, to Mr. Gardner. Mr. Gardner has not yet attempted a balloon ascension. The balloon was inflated at 10 o'clock, and shot straight up and drifted slowly east. It was the intention to reach an altitude of 10,000 feet, and remain up all day.

The balloon passed through a cloud shortly after noon, causing the gas-bag to shrink, and the balloonists descended near Lebanon, Ill., a few miles from St. Louis.

MELLODY WINS.

KNOCKS OUT DONOVAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROCKAWAY BEACH (N. Y.) July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Honey Mellody of Boston, the claimant of the welterweight title, defeated Jim Donovan, the English welterweight champion, tonight, in the seventh round at Brown's gymnasium here. In that round Honey landed a hard swing on the foreigner's jaw and Donovan fell to the floor. He was not knocked out but the referee stopped the bout.

The American had the better of the bout throughout, but Donovan was a worthy opponent and displayed great cleverness and stamnia. The fight was the fastest between welterweights held in this State in years. Several times during the encounter every one was on his feet yelling. Mellody was the favorite.

SKIN BLOTCHES

Indicate skin sickness. Sometimes it's a little colony of germs that are feasting on your skin. Sometimes it is the symptom or forerunner of a much more serious skin trouble to come. In any event, if you value your looks, comfort or future health, you should get rid of the trouble at once, no matter how slight it may seem. Don't risk Eczema, Erysipelas, Ringworm and other serious skin diseases by letting any indication of skin sickness run on untreated, when Littell's Liquid Sulphur stops itching instantly and permanently relieves any and all forms of skin diseases, no matter what it may be.

Gentlemen: November, 1902, I contracted facial erysipelas and my physician prescribed ichthyol ointment and retirement from business. After one day's use of the ointment I concluded the erysipelas was preferrable, on account of the villainous odor and color of the ointment. Having by me a bottle of Littell's Liquid Sulphur, with which I had cured, with one application, an aggravated case of prickly heat the previous summer, I abandoned all other remedies and applied that with most satisfactory results, as the disease was confined to its original limits and in due time disappeared. Respectfully, S. G. WARNER.

He is dangerous because he may be followed in his fallacies by reason of his persistence, and perhaps the happening of some disastrous political event which will carry the people off their balance for a time. Him we have always with us. He is a product of our form of government.

"Inside we have to deal with the railroad corporation, trust, demagogue, monopoly and corrupt ring control of politics, and we have the sameold spirit with which to fight them. All we have to know is, who, what and where they are, and we will strike.

"A short time ago we were threatened with the spectacle of government ownership by the railroads.

"The enemy was defined and the American people did not forget the spirit of freedom, and a man, Theodore Roosevelt, came forward and said, 'We must regulate the railroads by law,' and it is being done.

"The railroad is necessary to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. It is our life blood, and we propose to control it.

"There is a greater danger right now in the wild-eyed demagogue who is against every corporation because it is big, and whose blatant voice may be heard on every street corner, denouncing, denouncing and denouncing. He is a menace to the spirit of American liberty and must be controlled."

Capt. Fredericks gave a brief description of the way in which New York State has handled the situation by means of the public utilities law, speaking in the highest terms of Gov. Hughes and pointing to him as one of America's greatest men of the day.

He cited the danger that may arise from the selection of the Public Utilities Commission, adding, however, that when the issues are squarely drawn the people will win every time.

"We don't want to antagonize such men as Mr. Huntington, but we will place him in such a position that his road will be out of politics, because there is nothing to gain in politics."

Capt. Fredericks concluded with a history of the growth of the trusts and their control by means of legislation.

TOO HOT TO RUN.

The afternoon was free except for sports on the beach and the horse races, both of which on account of the intense heat were postponed until 4:30 o'clock.

Only two races filled. In the 2:20 class half-mile, Herdman's Lady Bug won; McFadyn's California, second; Max and Emadre drawn after the first heat. Time 1:19, 1:28, 1:21.

In the 2:40 class, Russell's Shaffer won; W. E. Gillon's Jack, second, and Anson's Steve, third. Time 1:30½, 1:36½, 1:31.

The foot races on the beach proved a fizzle, entries declining to run because of the heat and after three postponements were declared off.

At 4 o'clock a competitive drill was given on Pacific avenue between the two drill teams of Golden State Camp, M.W.A. of Los Angeles, both under command of Capt. C. E. Shrover. The first team took the first prize and its companion the second.

As evening came on visitors began going home, but there were thousands left in the gathering dusk, when the many lights along the beach flashed out in brilliancy, making the strand look like fairyland. The day's events closed with a display of fireworks.

The street car service was handled in excellent style and the crowds were taken care of with less delay then ever before here on the Fourth.

City Marshal Young was very "crooel" today to the thousands of thirsty ones who like something stronger than aqua pura, and before noon raided seven places where he suspected liquor was sold. George Crocker and Barney Lustig of the Pacific Pharmacy and Dr. W. H. Pittle were arrested on warrants, while raids were made on the cigar stores of Hennessy and Lucas and Ector Leverman and Marino's restaurant in the Fisher Annex on the pier. Nothing was found in the cigar stores, but at Marengo's a case of wine and a bottle of whisky were confiscated, despite Marengo's wail that the wine was for his own use, because he was unable to drink water. The arrested men were all released on bond, but the raids had the effect of shutting the lid down tight and even personal friends were given the glassy eye. Up to dark but one arrest had been made.

AFFECTED BY EXPLOSIONS.

Woman, Driven Temporarily Insane by Noise, Locks Herself in House. Taken to Hospital.

Driven temporarily insane by the continuous explosion of fireworks and crackers, Mrs. M. E. Rice of No. 938 East Thirty-second street locked herself in a closet about 5 o'clock last night, and not until the police surgeons went to the house and forced the door, could the woman be given medical attention.

At the Receiving Hospital Mrs. Rice became more quiet. She imagines that the world is coming to an end, and that explosions of all sorts are continually taking place. The hospital was so crowded that it was necessary for the surgeons to place a cot in the hallway for Mrs. Rice.

Dr. Quint stated that Mrs. Rice will undoubtedly recover in a short time from her hallucination. It is believed that ill health is partly responsible for her condition.

Santa Monica Boy Suffers Loss of Thumb.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENICE, July 4.—The call of the surf was harkened to today by many thousand of the residents of Los Angeles and near-by towns. The warm weather of the past few days had seemingly been a reminder of the surcease from high temperatures, and all beach-bound cars over the electric line were loaded to the hand-guard rails.

The people were in happy mood and all were anxious to breathe the rejuvenating ozone and be fanned by the breezes blowing from off the sea. The Los Angeles-Pacific diverted every possible wheel to the beach route, and, as the result of this effort, there was an uninterrupted service from the city of one car per minute.

This was by way of Palms and the short line; but there were frequent through cars via the Hollywood, Beverly, Colegrove and Brentwood divisions, and the service between the beach and Sawtelle and Santa Monica and Playa del Rey was more than doubled. The electric road's officials have not completed their estimates as to the size of the crowd, but they believe all previous records have been surpassed.

While Venice was the only point along the strand at which a celebration was attempted, still there were numerous private picnic parties in the cañon. At Santa Monica there were morning and afternoon baseball games and the customary attractions at the beach. At the new Bristol pier there were attractive band concerts of patriotic selections and a brilliant display of fireworks. This attractive place entertained a great crowd throughout the day and evening.

In the vicinity of Pier avenue the new dance hall was the object of greatest interest, while the regular band rendered unusually attractive programmes. The dance hall had been formally opened the evening before, and the interest shown on that occasion was carried throughout the day and far into the night. The bathing establishments, roller coaster and all other amusement attractions were generously patronized, the crowd on the piers and along the shore reaching far into the thousands.

At Venice the dancing pavilion, the roller skating rink and the Amusement Park were all crowded by throngs of pleasure-seekers. The attractions were strong, while on the Midway the Mexican Band rendered programmes that were without flaw. Bathing was enjoyed to the utmost, while boating on the canals was one of the engaging pastimes.

MANY VISIT ALERT.

The government boat Alert, anchored off shore as escort to the encampment of the California Naval Militia, was open to inspection during the afternoon. The crowd that wished to visit the ship kept a small fleet of launches in motion during the afternoon, and even after dark the little excursion boats were seen to be plowing the waters, as the rays of the ship's searchlight were shot across the sea.

On the courts of the Country Club the annual tournament attracted a large number of players, while the balconies were filled with the onlooking votaries of that popular game.

The cricket ground was the drawing card for those who feel an interest in the soldier boys, for it was here that the eight divisions of the California Naval Militia are encamped for two weeks. The dress parade is a feature of the afternoon of each day, and the drill today was witnessed by admirers to the number of several thousand. The neat camps were inspected with curiosity and admiration, and the little city of tents appealed to the admirer of soldiers and soldiery. At sunrise there was a salute by the Naval Militia, with guard mount at 8 o'clock and dress parade at 4 o'clock.

Along the pier the day marked the opening of the new bowling alley, which occupies the entire pavilion building, formerly accommodating the European exposition.

At all of the pleasure piers there were small armies of rest-seekers, who left the noisy celebration of the day to Young America and observed the day by angling for the beauties of the deep.

The Playa del Rey beach was the rendezvous for numerous picnickers. The sandy shores were alive with them, and in the pavilion there was dancing to the music of a woman's orchestra, and on the lagoon the pleasure boats were not idle.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAMME.

The literary and musical features of the celebration consisted of a varied programme rendered in the Auditorium, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning. This was participated in by the naval militia's eight divisions, whose members made the march from the camp grounds along Windward avenue and the pier.

Heading them was the Venice band. The exercises opened with the rendition of "America" on the pipe organ. This was followed by the Orpheus quartette, which sang "The Good Old U.S.A." The oration of the day was delivered by Bishop Thomas J. Conaty of the diocese of Los Angeles and Monterey, who spoke on "American Ideals." Every seat in the great building was occupied, and there was not even standing room. The speaker was given respectful and earnest hearing. Mrs. Robert Wankowski followed in a vocal rendition of "Old Glory," assisted in the chorus by the Orpheus quartette. The address of the day was delivered by Charles J. Noyes, whose appeal to the patriotism of the people met with a welcome reception, as indicated by the frequency with which he was interrupted by applause. This day was the twentieth anniversary of a memorable celebration held in Boston, on which occasion it had been the pleasure of the speaker to introduce Bishop Conaty, who was the orator of the day then as now. Two selections, "Where Are the Boys of the Old Brigade?" and "The Star Spangled Banner," by the Orpheus quartette, concluded the morning's exercises, which were followed by a series of basket picnics that extended almost without interruption along the ocean front from Playa del Rey to Santa Monica Cañon.

HEAVENS ILLUMINATED.

But perhaps it was in the evening that Venice and the entire crescent shore line of the bay was at its best. Thousands of electric bulbs at North Beach, the Bristol Pier avenue and Venice blazed a penetrating glare into the dark corners of the heavens. The whole landscape was ablaze, with the curvature of the shore clearly outlined in streams and stringers of light. From a half dozen points varied programmes of pyrotechnics were fired. The central point of attraction for this part of the celebration was the lake. At the amphitheater and massed about the plunge bath-house and canals and the Midway Plaisance were many thousand visitors who obtained a good view of the spectacular performance. At Hollister avenue there was just such another assembly of thousands to witness the demonstration that had been arranged for that resort.

FOR THE GOULD LINE?

Purchase of Horses and Mules Believed to Be for Use in Construction of the Western Pacific.

The prolonged visit in this city of Maj. E. C. Durfee of Santa Barbara is believed to have connection with a reported order for hundreds of draught horses and mules to be used in grading work on the line of the Western Pacific—the Gould railroad.

Durfee is a well-known horseman and has been an extensive buyer of stock for many years. He has supplied some of the largest railroad contractors in the country. When asked yesterday what his activity in the horse market meant, the shrewd trader said:

"There is no secret about my being in the market for horses. I am representing a contractor who says he wants the animals shipped to Nevada. I cannot say to what purposes they will be put. I am buying and selling stock all the time on commission."

It is believed that Maj. Durfee has secret instructions to purchase high-grade draught horses and mules for the Western Pacific road. That some of the animals will be used on the railroad construction work along the Coast through the Malibu ranch is believed to be a fact. The mysterious railroad crowding down to Port Los Angeles has aroused many inquiries. It is believed to be part of the prospective right of way into Los Angeles of the Western Pacific. If purchases known to be made for the Gould line were utilized on the construction work on the Malibu line, it would furnish another argument tending to show the plans of the railroad magnates behind the Western Pacific. It is believed by railroad men that the old right of way from Santa Monica to Inglewood is to be one line over which Gould will find entrance into this city.

SAVES LIFE BY ROLLING.

Paul G. Helmer, a guest at the King Edward Hotel, narrowly escaped serious accident yesterday, while boarding a Long Beach car on Main street. His foot slipped and he fell beneath the wheels. Helmer managed to roll away as the car passed over him. His right foot was severely bruised and lacerated, and he was generally shaken up. Rolling saved his life.

LAUNDRY DRIVERS' OUTING.

The Independent Laundry drivers had an outing yesterday at Carter's Camp, Sierra Madre. The party, numbering about eighty, left the laundry at 9:30 a.m. in twenty touring cars decked with banners and bunting. The main streets were paraded and then a dash was made for the rendezvous, via Garvanza and Pasadena. The party returned by special Pacific Electric car.

The assembly at Capetown yesterday, rejected a revolution in favor of woman suffrage by a vote of 66 to 24.

Feed Baby's Furnace
"The infant, like all small animals, has a large extent of surface in proportion to it's bulk; thus it tends to lose heat rapidly and requires an abundant supply of the chief body fuel—fat. If the different (food) ingredients be not supplied in due proportion, disorder of health inevitably follows."
So says Dr. Hutchinson of the London Hospital—a world-wide authority.
He shows, in his book about infant foods, that most of them contain too little fat—which should serve as fuel for protection against catarrh of lungs and bowels, keeping baby cozy and rosy.
There must not be too much fat, or diarrhœa will result.
Mother's milk is the perfectly balanced baby food.
Next best—nearest like mother's—is Sanipure Milk. The formula is on every can. Our valuable booklet, "Baby's First Days" tells all about it.

MANY HOMES THREATENED.

Joyous Cracker Keeps Fire Department Busy.

Damages Aggregate Thousands of Dollars.

Unusual Crop of Accidents, but no Deaths.

It was a corkscrew skyrocket which was responsible for the first threatening fire to be credited to the celebration of Independence Day.

On the spur of the San Rafael Hills, which run down to Dayton avenue at Avenue 33, and just above the fine new home of "Jim" Jeffries, are a number of handsome bungalows and two-story homes. From one of these about 9 o'clock Wednesday evening was sent up a messenger of flame telling of the coming of July 4.

But the skyrocket wriggled and struck in a ten-acre field above Jeffries avenue before the last spark had died. The dry grass and brush quickly caught fire and in a few minutes had spread in all directions until the little hill looked more like a blazing volcano than the site of high-priced town lots.

Before the trade wind which blows always down the San Fernando Valley, the flames raced toward the buildings on Isabel avenue, threatening them with destruction. An alarm was sent out and under the leadership of the Jeffries boys a force of men rushed to fight the flames.

It was hot work and for a time it seemed as though it would be impossible to save the nearest buildings. But soon a number of garden hose were joined together and with the help of half a hundred men and boys armed with wet gunny sacks the fire was beaten out just in time to save the outbuildings and fences of the nearby houses.

VALUABLE HORSE BURNED.

A handsome horse, valued at $1000, and said to be a descendant of the famous Maud S., was burned to death in a fire at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon that destroyed a small barn at the rear of the residence of A. A. Sturges, No. 713 South Chicago street. The residence of Mr. Sturges, close by, was badly scorched on one side, and a brisk breeze from the southwest threatened for a time to spread the blaze through the neighborhood.

Boys shooting fireworks in a vacant lot near the barn are supposed to have started a grass fire that spread to the stable. An old man, tottering with years, realized the danger from the grass fire and attempted to warn occupants of the Sturges home. He was unable to get any response to his summons, however, and within a few seconds the stable was ablaze.

M. J. Spencer and his family, who live next door to the Sturges home, discovered the fire and telephoned the alarm, then Spencer dashed over to the stable to save the mare. It was tied in its stall with what Spencer termed a "granny" knot that could not be loosened. At this time the animal was terror-stricken and was kicking and snorting with fear. The blaze already was so close that the horse's coat was singed, while several holes were burned in Spencer's shirt. With no knife with which to cut the halter, and in great peril himself, the rescuer was forced to leave the animal to its fate.

In addition to the loss of the horse, the damage to the stable, its contents and the residence is estimated a $1000.

Because two alarms were sent in for this fire from different boxes close to the big Catholic Orphan Asylum at Seventh street and Boyle avenue, the report was spread downtown that the asylum was ablaze. The burned barn was more than a block from the orphans' home.

MANY SMALL FIRES.

At 1:33 o'clock yesterday morning the fire department was turned out to combat a blaze at No. 237 South Hill street. The building, a three-story brick, was damaged to the extent of $200. The origin of the fire is not known, though it is supposed that smouldering firecrackers were at the bottom of it.

A grass fire at Eliza street and Sunset boulevard broke out at 2:29 o'clock. Fireworks exploding in the dry underbrush was the cause of the conflagration. The fire burned fiercely for a time, but was extinguished before any damage was done.

A one-story frame cottage at No. 1221 New Hampshire street belonging to J. N. Covar was almost entirely destroyed by a fire which broke out at 3:15 o'clock. The family was asleep at the time the fire was discovered, and but little furniture was saved. The total loss is estimated at $750. The origin of the blaze is unknown.

A faulty flue caused a little blaze in a brick block at Seventh and Mesquite streets at 5:40 o'clock a.m. The damage done was trifling, the blaze being extinguished without difficulty.

At 8:15 o'clock the department was called out to combat a blaze at No. 802 Bueta Vista street. The fire was in a two-story brick building owned by C. M. Charlbota and had gained considerable headway before the alarm was turned in. When the first engine company arrived upon the scene the interior of the building was a seething furnace. The lower floor was burned out and the fire penetrated to the second story. Firecrackers caused the conflagration. The estimated damages are $1450.

A small frame cottage adjoining the Charlbota block became ignited during the fire and was damaged about the roof. Fifty dollars will cover the entire loss.

A grass fire at Grand avenue and Pico caused considerable trouble at 10:30 a.m. It was finally extinguished before it had done any serious harm, however.

Firecrackers caused a serious grass fire in Echo Park at 11:03 o'clock. The blaze was extinguished after burning over considerable territory and destroying several yards of picket fence.

A firecracker thrown over the fence at Fiesta Park caused some excitement at 1:40 o'clock in the afternoon. The exploding cracker set fire to the grass and the blaze was not discovered until the fence began to burn. Two alarms were sent in simultaneously from nearby boxes and the fire was hastily extinguished. Only nominal loss.

A one-story frame cottage at Twelfth street and Grand avenue was ignited by firecrackers at 1:55 p.m. One hundred dollars will cover the damages.

UNUSUAL ACCIDENTS.

As the result of two accidents at Sixteenth and San Pedro streets yesterday May Brooner of No. 552 East Sixteenth street is confined to her home with a badly lacerated face and arms and Eugene Cline of No. 715 East Fourteenth street, is suffering from burns which will confine him to his bed for several weeks, even though he suffer no permanent injuries.

Miss Brooner was crossing the street when she was run into by Ernest Koch who was riding a motorcycle at a rapid pace. She was thrown heavily to the ground and so seriously injured that the patrol wagon was summoned to carry her to the Receiving Hospital. A crowd immediately gathered and Cline, who was anxious to see all that was going on, pushed himself into the thick of it. He had his pockets filled with an explosive known as "carnation sulphur" with which he had been celebrating the Fourth.

In his excitement Koch stuffed a lighted punk into his pocket and in an instant the excitement was trebled. There was a sudden puff and the lad fell to the ground writhing in his agony. With a shout the crowd fell back and the horses of the patrol wagon began rearing up and tugging at the reins. Suddenly the boy's clothing burst into flames and the bystanders realized that immediate action was necessary if his life was to be saved. The flames were hastily extinguished and the boy was placed in the patrol wagon and rushed to the Receiving Hospital.

At the hospital it was found that Cline's body and lower limbs were horribly burned, the flesh literally cooked in places. Soothing lotions were applied and as soon as he had recovered somewhat he was sent to his home with instructions that he remain in bed until his injuries had started to heal.

Cline is the sole support of a widowed mother and his mishap is a cruel blow. However, the physicians have every hope that, unless blood poisoning sets in, they will be able to pull him through successfully and that he will not be crippled.

"Carnation sulphur" is a preparation which has been much in favor with older boys this year owing to its peculiar action when exploded. It clings tenaciously to any substance ignited and sends a three-foot flame shooting out. Where it came in contact with Cline's flesh it seared like a branding iron and great holes were burned in the lad's body.

Bystanders, who saw the first accident, testified that Koch was riding at a rate of speed not less than twenty-five miles an hour when he ran into Miss Brooner. He was promptly placed under arrest and taken to the Police Station, where a charge of fast riding was placed opposite his name. Miss Brooner is not seriously injured, though it will be some time before the lacerations upon her face and arms have healed sufficiently to allow her to venture out of her home.

POWDER AND CRACKERS.

Kenneth Marshall, a 15-year old boy living at No. 6415 Pollard street, called at the Receiving Hospital yesterday afternoon to have a bad burn on his left hand dressed. The lad was shooting off giant cannon crackers when one of them exploded in his hand, lacerating the flesh and burning the member badly. His injuries were dressed, after which he was advised to postpone the rest of his celebrating until another year.

Edward Brewster of South Grand avenue bent over a giant firecracker yesterday afternoon to see why it did not explode and promptly received the full charge in his face. His eyelashes and eyebrows were burned off and the skin badly scorched but after being treated at the Pacific Hospital he was able to go to his home.

Loose gunpodwer in the hands of a nine-year-old boy caused a serious accident yesterday afternoon. The victim was Samuel Guiders, a little lad residing at No. 442 South Avenue 20. In some manner he secured possession of a quantity of powder and started out to have a fine time. He poured out a pile on the sidewalk and started to light it with a match. He had some difficulty in igniting it and, in his excitement, he bent his little head over the deadly mass. With a blinding flash the combustible sprang alight and the youth was thrown over backward by the shock. He was severely burned, but the physicians have hopes of saving his eyesight.

A firecracker caused a blaze at the home of A. A. Stengle, No. 713 Chicago street, about 2:10 p.m. It is estimated the damage is $1500 to the house. Sparks from it set fire to the barn and destroyed it. The loss was about $500. The property was owned by N. Forrest.

The Stengle house the home of M. J. Kincade, Nos. 646 and 648 South Chicago street, caught fire from the sparks of the other blaze. The owner put it out with only $25 loss.

An oil slump hole at Sixth street and Union avenue caught fire last night from pyrotechnics and for a time it threatened several houses in the neighborhood. The department extinguished the blaze.

A skyrocket fell upon a flat owned by Mrs. J. Belk, No. 305 South Figueroa street at 9:36 p.m. and set fire to the roof. It was extinguished with but little loss.

Unmindful of the warning of occupants of houses children continued to direct skyrockets at the roof along Grand avenue last night until the home of Mrs. J. M. Miller was set on fire and the roof slightly damaged.

Fireworks ignited oil recently laid in the vicinity of Edgeware road and Illinois street last night. The department battled with this fire half an hour.

A fire at the residence of R. C. Carter, No. 939 Denver avenue, was caused by a skyrocket. The loss was nominal.

Great Reclamation Work by the Government Means Thousands of Acres of New Farms.

Louis C. Hill, general superintendent and supervisor of government reclamation work in Arizona, New Mexico and Southern California, arrived in the city yesterday, for a few days' recreation. He is a guest at the Lankershim.

"Few people realize what the government dams will mean for certain portions of the arid West," he said. "The Roosevelt dam under course of construction eighty miles above Phoenix will furnish water with which to irrigate 250,000 acres of land. Easterners are pouring into the country and making purchases of tracts at present destitute of water. The dam when completed in three years from now will contain about 425,000,000,000 gallons of water. Lower down there will be a diversion dam which will take the waters from the Verde River. The big storage dam will supply water when the flow below falls off."

Hill says the government will ultimately undertake great projects on the Colorado River in addition to those already begun at Yuma. As the money pours in from purchasers of tracts under reclamation, the funds will be turned over into new projects for transforming the desert into fertile fields.

"It is no dream to say that in a few years hence, the desert will present the most luxuriant vegetation and grow both staple products and tropical fruits," said the government engineer. "The government is doing what no private enterprise could afford to do—expend millions of dollars and wait ten years for repayment from the farmers. Soon there will be no real desert, except in patches. We have proved the land to be wonderfully fertile when the magic touch of water is applied."

HAS TO "COUGH UP."

Victim of Highwaymen Hides Money in His Mouth but Chokes on Bill and Loses.

When J. Lazelli, a laborer residing at No. 2134 Santa Fé avenue, attempted to foil two youthful highwaymen by hiding his money in his mouth, last night, he choked on a $5 bill, and was forced to give up his money. After following Lazelli nearly two hours, the robbers held him up at Ninth street and Santa Fé avenue. They used no force or violence.

An officer met Lazelli early in the evening, and sent him home. Lazelli left the resort where the policeman came in contact with him and began to prowl about the vicinity. Occasionally he stopped and talked to men he met. Soon he became aware that he was followed.

Believing that officers in plain clothes were trailing him, Lazelli started to run. As he was passing along Santa Fé avenue one of the young men called out to him. The corner was deserted, but Lazelli, feeling a bit suspicious, placed a $5 bill and a $20 gold piece in his mouth.

One of the robbers went through Lazelli's pockets and secured small change. Then they searched his coat for a watch. At this juncture Lazelli began to cough. They asked him what was the matter with him, and he could not reply. And they got the money out of his mouth.

After warning Lazelli not to tell the police the highwaymen disappeared.

SHOOT INTO TROUBLE.

Ordinance Violators With Firearms Gathered in Last Night in the Downtown District.

More than a dozen arrests were made within an hour last night of persons violating the ordinance prohibiting the discharging of fireworks within the down-town district. These arrests probably prevented careless men and reckless boys from seriously injuring pedestrians on the streets.

With remarkable daring, Morris Goldberg, No. 1304½ Rose street; Matthew Raynes, No. 201 East First street and Matthew Berner, No. 1512 West First street, lads about 15 years old, paraded the sidewalks of the retail district firing toy pistols at pedestrians. The cartridges used by the boys were of a dangerous sort. The lads were disarmed at Central Station, but were told to appear in police court today.

Elmer Newberg, a boot black, was arrested for discharging firearms within the limits. According to the officer he was pointing the pistol at women and children in a defying mien.

A. W. Schroder of No. 412 South Main street; G. Carrs of No. 311 Vignes street; Rolla Wilson of No. 1930 Temple street and George Templen of No. 307 South Spring street were taken in for frightening pedestrians with dynamite canes. The patrolmen were ordered to stop all use of these canes.

JUDGE WILL NOT SEE DANCE.

Coney Island Artist Offers to Prove Her Stunt Is Not Improper, but Court Objects.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, July 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Only the scruples of Magistrate Voorhies prevented the Coney Island Police Court from being converted today into the "Temple of Herod," when Corita, star dancer in one of the Dreamland shows, was arraigned on the charge of endangering the morals of children.

Corita, whose real name is Cora Graham, was arrested by two policemen who told Magistrate Voorhies that they had been shocked by her "Dance of the Seven Veils."

To prove that there was nothing improper in her dance, Corita asked for permission to give her dance in court. Magistrate Voorhies refused her permission, whereupon Corita wept and declared her arrest to be an outrage.
